

Colorado Farm Fresh

Now featuring agritourism activities!

Your guide to Colorado farmers' markets,
roadside stands, u-picks and agritourism activities.

Welcome!

The Colorado Department of Agriculture is pleased to present the 24th edition of the Colorado Farm Fresh Directory, your complete guide to farmers' markets and roadside stands in the state. It is our pleasure to help you locate fresh, locally-grown fruits and vegetables, along with other farm products.

This year's Farm Fresh Directory lists more than 100 farms and features 82 farmers' markets across Colorado. These farms and farmers' markets feature the highest-quality, Colorado-grown produce. Inside you will also find information about county fairs, agricultural festivals, extension offices as well as a crop calendar.

The directory also features agritourism information such as corn mazes, wineries, and farm/ranch vacations. Our goal is to encourage residents and visitors to experience Colorado agriculture. We hope you find this directory helpful and use it throughout the year.

In addition to the numerous farms and farmers' markets listed in this directory, the Colorado Department of Agriculture would like to acknowledge the following organizations for their generous support of Farm Fresh:

The Alliance Marketing Group, Colorado Apple Administrative Committee, Colorado Farmers' Market Association, Colorado Fresh Markets, Colorado Milk Marketing Board, Colorado Wine Industry Development Board, Delta County Tourism, Metro Denver Farmers' Market, Miller Farms, Rock Creek Farm and Royal Crest Dairy.

Colorado State University Extension for contribution of information and assistance in publicizing and distributing this directory.

Colorado's many libraries, welcome centers, chambers of commerce and private businesses who helped get this directory into your hands.

Using This Directory

Farm Fresh listings are organized by five major regions of the state: Denver Metro Area, Northeast, Southeast, Southwest and Northwest. Within each region, markets are listed alphabetically by county.

Farmers' markets are identified with a special icon , and there is also a separate listing of farmers' markets at the center of the book (40-41). Farms that are currently certified as organic are marked with this icon . Wineries and tasting rooms are marked with  icon, and farms and ranches with a  icon offer agricultural tours. Suppliers of two highly-requested seasonal items, pumpkins  and Christmas trees , are marked with special icons.

Every effort has been made to locate farms and farmers' markets that sell direct to the public. If you know of an outlet that we have missed, please contact:

Tips for Picking Colorado Produce

Know what to look for when selecting fresh Colorado produce!

- Apples: Choose apples that are firm to the touch, without bruises, with good color and a pleasant smell. Avoid fruit with bruises or broken skin. Apples are sodium free, fat free and a good source of fiber.
- Cantaloupe: Ripe cantaloupe will have a distinctive aroma and the blossom end should yield to gentle pressure. Cantaloupes that were kept on the vine until fully ripe will have a clean depression where the stem was attached. Avoid cantaloupes that are shriveled, bruised or that have punctured or cracked rinds. Cantaloupe are very low in sodium, fat free and are high in Vitamins A and C.
- Carrots: Carrots should be vibrant orange and well shaped with firm, smooth exteriors. Avoid soft or wilted carrots or those with growth cracks or splits. Carrots are low in sodium, fat free, high in the antioxidant Vitamin A and a good source of the antioxidant Vitamin C.
- Cherries: Look for cherries that are plump with firm, smooth and brightly colored skins. Good quality cherries should have green stems attached. Avoid cherries with blemishes, rotted or mushy skins, or those that are shriveled and dull. Cherries are low in fat, sodium free, a good source of fiber and a good source of the antioxidant Vitamin C.
- Leaf Lettuce: Leaf lettuce should be crisp and well colored. Avoid leaf lettuce with yellow leaves or with leaves showing cracked ribs. Lettuce is fat free, very low in sodium and high in the antioxidant Vitamin A.
- Onions: Good quality dry onions should be firm and

- hard with short, tight necks and dry papery skins. Slightly loose outer skin is common and should not affect quality. Avoid onions that show mold, decay, or blemishes. Onions are fat free, very low in sodium, a good source of fiber and high in the antioxidant Vitamin C.
- Potatoes: All potato varieties should be uniformly sized, fairly clean, firm and smooth. Avoid potatoes with wrinkled skins, soft dark spots, cut surfaces or green appearance. Potatoes are fat free, sodium free, a good source of fiber, high in potassium and high in the antioxidant Vitamin C. Look for a variety of Colorado potatoes including Yukon Gold, Russet, Fingerling and Purple.
- Sweet Corn: Sweet corn should have fresh green husks with silk ends that are free of decay or worms. Ears should be evenly covered with plump, consistently sized kernels. Avoid corn with discolored or dry-looking husks, stem ends, or kernels. Sweet corn is sodium free, low fat, a good source of fiber and a good source of the antioxidant Vitamin C.
- Tomatoes: Tomatoes should have bright, shiny skins and firm flesh. Avoid tomatoes that are soft or mushy, lacking in color, or have blemishes or growth cracks. Tomatoes are low fat, very low in sodium, a good source of potassium and high in antioxidants Vitamins A and C.
- Watermelon: Choose a symmetrical watermelon that is heavy for its size. Watermelons are fat free, very low in sodium and high in the antioxidants Vitamins A and C.

8 Great Reasons to Buy Local!

1. Enjoy Seasonal Diversity. Experience seasonal and regional favorites such as Palisade Peaches, Rocky Ford Melons and Olathe Sweet Corn!
2. From the Field to Your Fridge. Instead of traveling an average of 1500 miles from the farm to your plate, local produce is harvested and delivered immediately. Spending less time in transport means fresh products that retain more of their nutritional value.
3. Savor the Flavor. Since local products don't need to travel far, produce is allowed to ripen on the trees and in the fields ensuring the best flavor.
4. Support the Local Economy. Buying local maintains jobs, sustains family farms and ranches, and contributes nearly $16 billion to the state economy annually.
5. Learn About Your Food. Local farmers and ranchers are right here in your backyard! They are readily available to answer questions about their fresh products.
6. Preserve Our Heritage. The beauty of farms and ranches enriches the Colorado landscape and supports the state's western heritage.
7. Invest in the Future. Buying local preserves the strength and character of communities for generations to come.
8. Preserve Open Space and Wildlife Habitat. Buying local is better for the environment because it helps keep farms and ranches profitable, thereby maintaining open space and wildlife habitat.

www.coloradoagritourism.com

What is agritourism? Experiencing country life!

Agritourism activities include on-farm/ranch, food-based and heritage activities. You may want to visit a pumpkin patch or corn maze in the fall or sample a robust wine at a Colorado vineyard during harvest. Your kids may want to take a farm tour or learn how to ride a horse.

Whether you visit a farm, shop at a farmers' market or tour a winery, you are helping to support Colorado's agriculture industry. In 2006 more than 13 million visitors experienced agritourism in Colorado and the economic impact was $2.2 billion.

Hearty Vegetable and Cabbage Stew

Chef Jason K. Morse, C.E.C., Valley Country Club

Serves 12

2 fl. oz.	Olive oil	3	Bay leaves, broken in half
6 ribs	Celery with leaves, medium diced	1 tsp.	Chervil, dried
2 medium	Carrots, medium diced	1 tsp.	Celery seed
1	small Red onion, medium diced	1-1/2 tsp.	Caraway seed
2 medium	Green zucchini, medium diced	4 cups	Cabbage, shredded
2 medium	Yellow squash, medium diced	24 oz.	Tomato, puree or ground
1	Red Bell Pepper, medium diced	96 fl. oz.	Water, room temperature
1	Green Bell Pepper, medium diced	8 oz.	Chicken base
3 medium	Yukon Gold Potatoes, medium diced		Kosher or sea salt to taste
2 Tbsp.	Garlic, chopped		White pepper to taste

Heat a sauté pan and add the olive oil. Bring the olive oil up to temperature. Sauté the carrots, celery, onion and peppers until lightly browned. Add the zucchini, squash, garlic and potatoes and sauté for about 5 minutes. Add the herbs, seasonings and cabbage then add the water, tomato and chicken base. Bring to a boil and reduce to a simmer. Simmer for about 30 minutes or until potatoes are fork tender.

The overall flavor should be balanced very well, be careful not to over season. Garnish with julienned cabbage and Pecorino Romano Cheese. Great served with bread or in a bread bowl.

Enjoy with a Colorado wine, such as a glass of Lemberger from Trail Ridge Winery, located in Loveland, Colorado.

Year-round
Daily, 9 a.m. - 6 p.m.

GrassRoots Meats is located in southwestern Colorado, at the base of Wolf Creek Pass in Pagosa Springs. It is owned by Allan and Lois Higgins, residents of the area since 1976. GrassRoots Meats produces all natural, grass-finished beef and lamb raised without added hormones or antibiotics. We are deeply committed to providing the finest quality meat at prices that any family can afford. We work hard to produce the highest quality product - one that we are proud of, and we get a great deal of satisfaction from knowing that our animals are living their lives on lush grasses, moving freely and soaking up the sunshine. These animals are processed by a local packer and are marketed directly to area stores, restaurants and families, as well as shipped and delivered throughout the country. We like to think of the folks who enjoy our meat not as "customers" but as family, friends and neighbors. We hope that once you try our meat you will be glad you got back to your "GrassRoots."

With over 100 years of Colorado fruit growing experience, our fourth generation family farm offers certified organic fruits and fruit products at farmers' markets, at our farm, direct to buyer groups, as fruit shares to other CSA farms and at select retail stores, coops and restaurants. We grow mouth watering organic peaches, pears, apples, cherries, plums, berries and heirloom tomatoes. We make our own fruit into enticing jams, fruit butters, apple sauces, dried fruit and fruit leathers, and cider. Look for us on Saturdays at the Boulder Farmers' Market, Old Town Fort Collins Farmers' Market, and Golden Farmers' Market. On Sundays find us in Denver at the Old South Pearl St. Farmers' Market, City Park Esplanade (East High School) Farm Market, and Stapleton Farm Market. We sell wholesale to farm stands, stores and restaurants in the Denver/Boulder to Fort Collins area and the I-70 corridor west to Grand Junction. Visit our web site for more information or to order gift packs of any our our products online.

What is COLORADO PROUD?

According to a survey, nearly 92% of Coloradans would buy more Colorado grown and produced products if they were available and identified as being from Colorado.

The Colorado Department of Agriculture developed COLORADO PROUD in 1999. It is a FREE marketing program designed to help consumers, restaurants and retailers identify and purchase Colorado food and agricultural products.

The bright distinctive COLORADO PROUD logo series helps residents of our state, other states and other countries easily identify high quality Colorado food and agricultural products.

Safe Food Facts for Farmers' Markets

by Colorado State University Extension

Farmers' Market vendors take pride in the quality of the foods they offer. To enjoy safe and delicious products, here are a few practical tips.

At The Market

- Purchase from vendors that follow safe food handling practices. If samples are provided, make sure they offered in a clean and sanitary manner.
- If processed foods like salsa and honey are purchased, check to see that they are labeled and processed in a facility that follows Good Manufacturing Practices.
- When buying prepared foods such as hot dogs and potato salad, make sure hot foods are kept hot (above 140°F), cold foods are served cold (below 40°F), and everything is kept clean.
- Ask the vendor for specific handling instructions for the foods you buy. Products may need to be refrigerated, particularly if they contain no preservatives.

On The Way Home

- Make the market the last stop. Don't leave food in the car while you run errands. Bacteria can grow readily at the temperature inside your car or trunk, causing a decrease in quality and safety.
- If you live a distance from the market, bring along a cooler with ice packs to transport perishable items such as fresh, prepared foods and dairy products.

At Home

- Refrigerate or freeze perishable foods immediately.
- Keep raw and processed foods separate.
- Always wash fresh fruits and vegetables just before use
- If you're planning on canning or freezing your market produce, be sure to follow USDA food preservation guidelines with needed adjustments for altitude.*

Storing

- Most fruits and vegetables store best in the refrigerator at 32 to 40° F.
- Pears keep well at 32°F, but must be taken out to ripen at 65 to 70°F.
- Not all fresh produce stores well together. Apples, tomatoes and melons give off ethylene gas and cause carrots to develop a bitter taste.

Canning

- Fruits, tomatoes and pickled vegetables may be canned in a boiling water bath using USDA recommended processing times.*
- To adjust boiling water bath times for altitude, add 1 minute for each 1,000 feet above sea level if the time is 20 minutes or less. If the processing time is more than 20 minutes, increase by 2 minutes per 1,000 feet.
- Vegetables, meats, poultry and fish (low-acid foods) must be canned in a steam pressure canner at 240°F for the appropriate time to destroy heat-resistant bacteria.*
- When using steam pressure canners at altitude, increase the processing pressure by ½-pound per 1,000 feet above sea level (12.5 lbs for 5,000 feet; 13.5 lbs for 7,000 feet; 15 lbs for 10,000 feet) if using dial gauges. If using a weighted gauge, use the 15-pound weight between 1,000 and 10,000 feet elevation.

COLORADO APPLE FACTS

"Taking Flavor to New Heights"

-  Colorado's high-altitude apples taste better!!!
Their mile-high flavor consistently wins taste tests in supermarkets and at trade shows.
-  Colorado apples are a powerhouse of nutrition:
A medium apple provides part of your daily requirements for potassium, iron, fiber, Vitamin A, Vitamin C, and important antioxidants--all with less than 80 calories!
-  Pesticide use on Colorado apples is greatly reduced because of natural, high-altitude growing conditions and Integrated Pest Management (IPM) practices. Many apples are being grown completely organically.
-  Apples consumed soon after picking have superior crispness.
-  Premium grade apple varieties include Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, Jonathan, Gala, Fuji, Granny Smith, Jonagold, Cameo, Braeburn, Honeycrisp and Rome. Several other varieties are also produced.
-  Apple production is centered on the Western Slope of the Continental Divide. Over 75% of Colorado's apple crop is produced in Delta County.
