Farm Fresh Directory

Your guide to farmers' markets, roadside stands, u-picks and agritourism activities!

Welcome!

The Colorado Department of Agriculture is pleased to present the 28th edition of the Colorado Farm Fresh Directory, your complete guide to farmers' markets and roadside stands in the state. It is our pleasure to help you locate fresh, locally-grown fruits and vegetables, along with other farm products.

This year's Farm Fresh Directory is the biggest ever and lists more than 200 farms, roadside stands, Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) programs and u-picks, 37 wineries and features over 100 farmers' markets across Colorado. These farms and farmers' markets feature the highest-quality, Colorado-grown raised products. Inside you will also find information about county fairs, agricultural festivals, extension offices as well as a crop calendar.

The directory also features agritourism information such as corn mazes, wineries, and farm/ranch vacations. Our goal is to encourage residents and visitors to experience Colorado agriculture. We hope you find this directory helpful and use it throughout the year.

What's New? There are more than 30 new listings this year, so be sure to find them by looking for the "New" icon.

In addition to the numerous farms and farmers' markets listed in this directory, the Colorado Department of Agriculture would like to acknowledge the following organizations for their generous support of Farm Fresh:

Colorado Farm Bureau, Colorado Farmers' Market Association, Colorado Fresh Markets, Colorado MarketMaker, Colorado Wine Industry Development Board, Delta County Tourism, Douglas County Farm Bureau, Farm Bureau Insurance, Longmont Dairy Farm, Metro Denver Farmers' Market, Miller Farms, Rock Creek Farm, Rocky Mountain Farmers Union and Royal Crest Dairy.

Colorado State University Extension for contribution of information and assistance in publicizing and distributing this directory.

Colorado's many libraries, welcome centers, chambers of commerce and private businesses including Royal Crest Dairy and Longmont Dairy Farm who helped get this directory into your hands.

Using this Directory

Farm Fresh listings are organized by five major regions of the state: Denver Metro Area, Northeast, Southeast, Southwest and Northwest. Within each region, farms and markets are listed alphabetically by county.

Farmers' markets are identified with a special icon , and there is also a separate listing of farmers' markets at the center of the book (48-49).

Farms that are currently certified organic are marked with this icon .

New listings are marked with  icon. Wineries and tasting rooms are marked with , and farms and ranches with a  icon offer agricultural tours. Suppliers of two highly-requested seasonal items, pumpkins  and Christmas trees , are also marked with special icons.

Every effort has been made to locate farms, ranches and farmers' markets that sell direct to the public. If you know of an outlet that we have missed, please contact:

Grass-fed beef. Family owned and operated, B Bar S Ranch has been providing grass-fed beef to consumers since 1985. Our beef is raised nature's way: the animals spend their entire lives grazing mountain or prairie pastures (plus some hay in winter), without supplemental hormones, without antibiotics, without steroids. They never see a feedlot, so the beef is low in fat. Order a quarter, half or whole carcass. You instruct the butcher how you want your beef cut, what you want ground, size of roasts, package size, etc. Excellent jerky and a variety of sausages are available upon request.

CSA farm. Fresh organic vegetables, cooperative farm-centered community, and sustainability of local agriculture are the basic principles behind Stonebridge Farm, a 10-acre community-supported agricultural (CSA) farm located two miles east of Lyons, Colorado on Hwy. 66. Established in 1992 as the first CSA in Boulder County, Stonebridge offers seasonal memberships of organic produce, herbs, and flowers for pick up every Saturday from the second week of May to the end of October. Stonebridge is a share-the-harvest farm, meaning the weekly share of produce is determined by dividing what the garden yields equally among members rather than on the market value of the produce. The subscription rate for a 2012 season share is $450. More information and videos about the farm can be found at www.stonebridgefarmcsa.com. If local produce, grown by people you know, using methods you can see, on land shared by a community of friends appeals to you, contact John Martin at jmartin@greenspeedisp.net or (303) 832-0975 for more information or to subscribe for the season. 1500 block of S. Pearl St. between Florida and Iowa.

Westword voted the Old South Pearl Street Farmers Market "Best Of" and as the market is entering its 12th season, apparently market goes agree! With a continued increase in neighborhood involvement and special events including the Pet Fair, Urban Homesteading and Health Fair, the South Pearl Street Market is stronger than ever. This market has a great atmosphere and is in the center of a beautiful historic Denver neighborhood. This is a Colorado growers only market with a strong emphasis on food, flowers, and produce.

Bring the kids out on Halloween day or night and we will be giving out candy and treats to anyone dressed up in a Halloween costume.

Voted #1 for fun. We are Northern Colorado's best place for family fun during the day and Fort Collins' oldest and scariest haunted corn maze at night.

We boast a large 15 acre corn maze with scavenger hunts and prizes. Come out and enjoy our large pumpkin patch where families can experience the farm life of selecting their very own carving jack-o-lanterns.

Day time activities for all ages include: 15 acre corn maze, large pumpkin patch, acres to pick from, enormous pumpkin catapult (throws pumpkins up to 1,000 ft.), scavenger hunts with prizes, pedal cars, inflatable jumping air attractions, air obstacle courses, miniature horses and petting zoo, pumpkin and corn chuckers, large playground, concessions, snacks, covered sitting/picnic and eating area, restrooms, easy and clean parking areas, winter squash and seasonal decorations available and other fun activities.

At dusk the corn maze transforms into Fort Collins', oldest and scariest haunted corn maze. Get lost while being stalked, spooked and scared by our professional staff of haunters as you wander over 15 acres of fear and fright. Special effects in the maze after dark! Be Afraid-Be Very Very Afraid!!! Voted Fort Collins' scariest corn maze 8 years running.

We are located on the east side of Fort Collins off the Prospect exit (#268) and I-25.

Directions: I-25 North to Fort Collins, exit Prospect Rd. (Exit # 268), east 1/2 mile to County Road 5 (first stop sign). Go South approximately 1/2 mile and look for signs on east side of the road. Visit our web site at www.northerncoloradocornmaze.com for coupons and more information.

June - December

With over 100 years of Colorado fruit growing experience, our fourth generation family farm offers certified organic fruits and fruit products at farmers' markets, at our farm, direct to buyer groups, as fruit shares to other CSA farms and at select retail stores, coops and restaurants. We grow mouth watering organic peaches, pears, apples, cherries, plums, berries and heirloom tomatoes. We make our own fruit into enticing jams, fruit butters, apple sauces, dried fruit and fruit leathers, and cider.

Look for us on Saturdays at the Boulder Farmers' Market, Old Town Fort Collins Farmers' Market, and Golden Farmers' Market. On Sundays find us in Denver at the Old South Pearl St. Farmers' Market, City Park Esplanade (East High School) Farm Market, and Stapleton Farm Market. We sell wholesale to farm stands, stores and restaurants in the Denver/Boulder to Fort Collins area and the I-70 corridor west to Grand Junction. Visit our web site for more information or to order gift packs of any our products online.

GrassRoots Meats is located in southwestern Colorado, at the base of Wolf Creek Pass in Pagosa Springs. It is owned by Allan and Lois Higgins, residents of the area since 1976. GrassRoots Meats produces all natural, grass-finished beef, lamb and chicken raised without added hormones or antibiotics. It is satisfying to know that our animals live their lives on lush green grasses, moving freely and soaking up the sunshine. At GrassRoots Meats we work hard to produce the healthiest and highest quality meat at prices that any family can afford. Our meat is processed by a local USDA packer and marketed directly to the public, both locally and via the internet, as well as to area stores, restaurants and our local farmers' market. We like to think of the folks who support us with their meat orders not as "customers" but as "partners." We hope you will give our meat a try -and get back to your grassroots!

With over 100 years of Colorado fruit growing experience, our fourth generation family farm offers certified organic fruits and fruit products at farmers' markets, at our farm, direct to buyer groups, as fruit shares to other CSA farms and at select retail stores, coops and restaurants. We grow mouth watering organic peaches, pears, apples, cherries, plums, berries and heirloom tomatoes. We make our own fruit into enticing jams, fruit butters, apple sauces, dried fruit and fruit leathers, and cider. Look for us on Saturdays at the Boulder Farmers' Market, Old Town Fort Collins Farmers' Market, and Golden Farmers' Market. On Sundays find us in Denver at the Old South Pearl St. Farmers' Market, City Park Esplanade (East High School) Farm Market, and Stapleton Farm Market. We sell wholesale to farm stands, stores and restaurants in the Denver/Boulder to Fort Collins area and the I-70 corridor west to Grand Junction. Visit our web site for more information or to order gift packs of any our products online.

Marketing Your Livestock as Processed Meat

In Colorado, there are two types of meat processing facilities. It is important to choose the right type of facility for the manner you wish to market your animal.

United States Department of Agriculture Official Establishment This type of establishment operates under a grant of continuous inspection by the USDA. Meat products produced under inspection can be sold to individuals, restaurants, retail stores, and can be marketed over the internet. The meat products produced in this manner will bear the USDA mark of inspection and will be properly labeled. Keep in mind that these plants may also custom kill animals outside of inspection, so be sure to discuss with the plant operator that you wish to have your animal slaughtered and processed under inspection. For more information regarding the USDA's inspection activities, contact the Food Safety Inspection Service at (303) 236-9800.

Custom Processing Facilities This type of plant must operate in a sanitary manner, and is subject to risk based inspection by the Colorado Department of Agriculture. Custom Exempt plants may only process meat animals for the owner of the animal, and all products produced in this plant must be labeled not for sale. These products may only be consumed by the animal owner or his non-paying guests. If you wish to market your livestock utilizing a custom exempt plant, the animal must be sold while live, and you should provide the plant operator with the name and address of the person(s) purchasing the animal when it is delivered to the plant. For more information regarding custom exempt plants, contact the Colorado Department of Agriculture's Meat Inspection Program at (303) 867-9208.

Food Safety Tips for Farmers' Markets

by Colorado State University Extension

Colorado farmers' market vendors take pride in the quality of the foods they offer. To enjoy safe and delicious products, here are a few practical tips.

At the Market

- Purchase from vendors that follow safe food handling practices. Foods that need to be refrigerated at home, such as cheese and eggs, should be kept at refrigerated temperatures at the market. If samples are provided, make sure they are offered in a clean and sanitary manner.
- If processed foods are purchased, check to see that they are labeled properly and provide contact information.
- Ask the vendor for specific handling instructions for the fresh produce and food products you buy.

On the Way Home

- Make the market the last stop. Don't leave food in the car while you run errands. Bacteria can grow readily at the temperature inside your vehicle or trunk, causing a decrease in quality and safety.
- If you live a distance from the market, bring along a cooler with ice packs to transport perishable items such as fresh, prepared foods and dairy products.

At Home

- Refrigerate or freeze perishable foods immediately.
- Wash your hands well with soap and water before preparing fruits and vegetables. Clean counter tops, cutting boards, and utensils with hot soapy water before peeling or cutting produce.
- Bacteria from the outside of raw produce can be transferred to the inside when it is being cut or peeled. Always wash fresh fruits and vegetables before use.
 - Scrub tough produce (melons, potatoes, and carrots) with a clean firm brush under cold running water.
 - Keep unwashed melon rinds and fruit peels away from edible or washed portions of fruit.
 - Rinse leafy vegetables under plain cold water, leaf by leaf.
- Keep raw and processed foods separate to prevent cross contamination.

Preparing Melons

Place the washed melon on a clean cutting board. Cut about one inch off the stem end with a clean knife. Position the melon on the cutting board with the cut end facing down. With a clean knife, slice melon vertically in half. Wash the knife. Scrape the seeds out with a clean spoon. Continue to cut the melon into slices or as desired.

Storing Food at Home

- Most fruits and vegetables store best in the refrigerator at 32°F to 40°F.
- Most fresh produce has a short shelf-life and should be used within a few days.
- Cut produce should be kept refrigerated and used within two days.

Preservation: Canning, Freezing, or Drying Food at Home

If you're planning on preserving fresh produce, be sure to follow USDA food preservation guidelines with needed adjustments for altitude. Fact sheets with this information are available through your local Extension Office. They can also be accessed online at the Colorado State University Extension website, <http://www.ext.colostate.edu>, or the CSU Extension Farm to Table website, <http://farmtotable.colostate.edu/>.

8 Great Reasons to Buy Local!

1. Enjoy Seasonal Diversity

Experience seasonal and regional favorites such as Palisade Peaches, Rocky Ford Melons and Olathe Sweet Corn!

2. From the Field to Your Fridge

Instead of traveling an average of 1500 miles from the farm to your plate, local produce is harvested and delivered immediately. Spending less time in transport means fresh products that retain more of their nutritional value.

3. Savor the Flavor

Since local products don't need to travel far, produce is allowed to ripen on the trees and in the fields ensuring the best flavor.

4. Support the Local Economy

Buying local maintains jobs, sustains family farms and ranches, and contributes to the state economy.

5. Learn About Your Food

Local farmers and ranchers are right here in your backyard! They are readily available to answer questions about their fresh products.

6. Preserve Our Heritage

The beauty of farms and ranches enriches the Colorado landscape and supports the state's western heritage.

7. Invest in the Future

Buying local preserves the strength and character of communities for generations to come.

8. Preserve Open Space and Wildlife Habitat

Buying local is better for the environment because it helps keep farms and ranches profitable, thereby maintaining open space and wildlife habitat.

Palisade Peach Festival Recipe Contest

2007 Grand Prize
"Frozen Peach Margarita Pie"
Julie Coleman – Grand Junction

Crust:

2&1/2 cups thin salted pretzels
1/3 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter, melted

Pulse pretzels in food processor until coarse crumbs are formed. Add sugar, pulse 4 times to mix. Add melted butter and pulse 4 times to mix. Press into a 10 inch pie pan, across the bottom and partially up the sides. Place into freezer.

Filling:

1&1/2 cups peeled, finely chopped fresh Palisade peaches
1 14 oz. can sweetened condensed milk
2 tsp. Grated lime zest
2 Tbs. Fresh lime juice
2 Tbs. Tequila
1&1/2 Tbs. Peach schnapps
1&1/2 cups heavy whipping cream

Stir peaches, condensed milk, lime zest, lime juice, tequila, and schnapps together in small bowl. Pour cream into a large mixing bowl and beat with mixer until peaks form in the cream. Fold in the peach mixture and blend. Pour into the frozen crust and freeze uncovered in the freezer for 6 hours. Wrap airtight and keep frozen until ready to serve.

For ease of serving, place pie in refrigerator for 15 minutes to make slicing easier. Garnish as desired with peaches, pretzels, and lime slices.

Palisade Peach Festival Recipe Contest

1st Place – 2010

Miscellaneous Refrigerated Category
“Peaches N Cream”

Vanessa Doumit - Palisade

A Palisade twist on an Italian Classic!

- | | |
|----------|---|
| 2 | Packages (small-24 count) lady fingers |
| 1/2 C | Peach nectar |
| 5 | ripe Palisade peaches from Clark’s
(medium in size), peeled, sliced, and diced |
| 8 oz | Container of Mascarpone cheese |
| 1- 6 oz. | Container of Peach yogurt |
| 5 T | Sugar, divided |
| 1/2C | Heavy whipping cream |

Directions:

Place a small, metal bowl and metal beaters in the freezer while you prepare the rest of your ingredients. Line the bottom of an 8x8 inch pan with about 1/2 of the lady fingers. Using a pastry brush, brush about 1/2 of the peach nectar, lightly soaking the lady fingers. Remove the bowl and beaters from the freezer and add the whipping cream and 2 tablespoons of sugar. Beat on medium to high speed until stiff peaks form. Set aside. In another bowl, cream the Mascarpone cheese with 3 tablespoons until light and fluffy. Add the peach yogurt and mix until well combined. Add about 1/3 of the diced peaches to the Mascarpone mixture, and then gently fold in the whipped cream. Spread 1/2 of this mixture onto the lady fingers. Spread the remaining diced peaches over the creamed mixture. Top with the remaining lady fingers, lightly brush with the peach nectar, then spread the remaining 1/2 of the Mascarpone mixture on top. Cover tightly with plastic wrap and refrigerate over night. Cut in squares and enjoy!

Tips for Picking Colorado Produce

Know what to look for when selecting fresh Colorado produce!

Apples. Choose apples that are firm to the touch, without bruises, with good color and a pleasant smell. Avoid fruit with bruises or broken skin. Apples are sodium free, fat free and a good source of fiber. Most Colorado apples are harvested in September, however you can find them from August through June.

Cantaloupe. Ripe cantaloupe will have a distinctive aroma and the blossom end should yield to gentle pressure. Cantaloupes that were kept on the vine until fully ripe will have a clean depression where the stem was attached. Avoid cantaloupes that are shriveled, bruised or that have punctured or cracked rinds. Cantaloupe are very low in sodium, fat free and are high in Vitamins A and C. Look for ripe Colorado cantaloupe August through mid-October.

Carrots. Carrots should be vibrant orange and well shaped with firm, smooth exteriors. Avoid soft or wilted carrots or those with growth cracks or splits. Carrots are low in sodium, fat free, high in the antioxidant Vitamin A and a good source of the antioxidant Vitamin C. Look for Colorado carrots August through November.

Cherries. Look for cherries that are plump with firm, smooth and brightly colored skins. Good quality cherries should have green stems attached. Avoid cherries with blemishes, rotted or mushy skins, or those that are shriveled and dull. Cherries are low in fat, sodium free, a good source of fiber and a good source of the antioxidant Vitamin C. Look for Colorado cherries mid-June through mid-July.

Leaf Lettuce. Leaf lettuce should be crisp and well colored. Avoid leaf lettuce with yellow leaves or with leaves showing cracked ribs. Lettuce is fat free, very low in sodium and high in the antioxidant Vitamin A. Look for Colorado leaf lettuce June through October.

Onions. Good quality dry onions should be firm and hard with short, tight necks and dry papery skins. Slightly loose outer skin is common and should not affect quality. Avoid onions that show mold, decay, or blemishes. Onions are fat free, very low in sodium, a good source of fiber and high in the antioxidant Vitamin C. Look for Colorado onions August through March.

Peaches. Peaches should be picked when the background color (not the red side toward the sun, but the backside of the fruit) has changed from green to white or yellow. If the peaches are to be eaten quickly, the best possible peach is one that has already started to soften on the tree, however, if they are to be stored then they should still be firm, but with the light background color.

Potatoes. All potato varieties should be uniformly sized, fairly clean, firm and smooth. Avoid potatoes with wrinkled skins, soft dark spots, cut surfaces or green appearance. Potatoes are fat free, sodium free, a good source of fiber, high in potassium and high in the antioxidant Vitamin C. Look for a variety of Colorado potatoes including Yukon Gold, Russet, Fingerling and Purple year-round.

Sweet Corn. Sweet corn should have fresh green husks with silk ends that are free of decay or worms. Ears should be evenly covered with plump, consistently sized kernels. Avoid corn with discolored or dry-looking husks, stem ends, or kernels. Sweet corn is sodium free, low fat, a good source of fiber and a good source of the antioxidant Vitamin C. Look for Colorado sweet corn mid-July through mid-October.

Tomatoes. Tomatoes should have bright, shiny skins and firm flesh. Avoid tomatoes that are soft or mushy, lacking in color, or have blemishes or growth cracks. Tomatoes are low fat, very low in sodium, a good source of potassium and high in antioxidants Vitamins A and C. Look for fresh Colorado tomatoes mid July through mid-October and greenhouse tomatoes year-round.

Watermelon. Choose a symmetrical watermelon that is heavy for its size. Watermelons are fat free, very low in sodium and high in the antioxidants Vitamins A and C. Look for Colorado watermelons August through September.

Whether you are shopping for fresh produce in the summer or for the perfect gift for holidays, buy local year-round.

When you purchase Colorado food and agricultural products you are not only getting high quality fresh goods, you are supporting Colorado's farmers, ranchers, processors, restaurants and the state economy.

Colorado Proud is a program of the Colorado Department of Agriculture, developed to identify food and agricultural products that are grown, raised or processed in the state.

To find Colorado Products visit www.comarketmarker.com. Look for the Colorado Proud label wherever you shop and dine and buy local!

What is Organic Certification?

Organic certification means that an independent third party has verified that the requirements of organic production and handling have been met. Under the National Organic Program (NOP), all products sold as organic in the United States must be certified by an NOP accredited certification agency.

What is the National Organic Program?

The National Organic Program oversees the United States Department of Agriculture's standard to which all products intended to be sold in the United States as "organic" must be produced.

Who has to be Certified?

Except for businesses indicated as exempt or excluded from certification under the National Organic Program Rules (205.101), all producers and handlers of organic food must be certified.

Exemptions:

- Businesses that sell less than $5,000 of organic products annually.
- Retail food stores.
- Processors whose products contain less than 70% organic ingredients.
- Processors who limit their organic claims to the information panel.

Exclusions:

- Handlers that handle only packaged products.
- Retailers with in-store bakeries, delis, salad bars or ready to eat food.

Who do I contact to find out more about organic certification?
