

Strategic Policy Initiatives

The Department of Corrections has identified three strategic policy initiatives for FY 2016-17 and beyond. For this performance evaluation, the Department has updated progress on the initiatives identified in the FY2017 Performance Plan that capture the Department's strategic and operational priorities, and reflect the overall direction as identified by Department leadership. The updates reflect data as of March 31, 2017.

Additional detail for these, and other, strategic policy initiatives is available in the Department's Performance Plan, which may be accessed here.

Re-Entry Units/Pods in Correctional Facilities

The Department of Corrections implemented re-entry units/pods in 12 level II, III, and IV state correctional facilities, along with private facilities, by September 1, 2015, to bridge the gap between transition from facilities to the community by providing releasing offenders with tools and resources necessary to facilitate a fluid transition to the community and to promote successful reintegration. The Department has been dedicated to developing collaborative partnerships with governmental and private entities to identify resources that will enable offenders to successfully release back into the community; implementing programs in the re-entry living units/pods to enhance offender motivation, problem solving, and thinking processes; and developing employability screening to ensure offenders are engaged in meaningful employment after release.

Technical Parole Violation (TPV) Revocations

Under the new logic for calculating TPV revocations, the Department of Corrections will work to reduce the percentage of TPV revocations from 2.6% to 2.0% by June 30, 2017, by appropriately matching intermediate sanctions to the level of the violation and the risk of the offender. The Department will accomplish this by using intermediate sanctions for parolees to address non-compliant behavior without a formal disciplinary hearing; using Incentives, a parolee positive reinforcement program, in conjunction with the Colorado Violation Decision Making Process (CVDMP), which allows for a range of sanction options for parolees based on the severity of the violation and the risk to reoffend; and utilizing an in-jail Vivitrol program for technical parole violators (TPVs). Vivitrol is a prescription medication used to treat addiction to alcohol and/or narcotic drugs.

Parolees in Stable Housing Environments

The Department of Corrections will increase the percentage of parolees in stable housing environments from 76.5% to 80.0% by June 30, 2017, thereby reducing the number of parolees on a homeless status and increasing their chances to successfully re-enter into society. The Department will accomplish this by assigning a team of officers specifically dedicated to the homeless population in the Denver metro area, which has the highest concentration of parolees designated as homeless; continuing to work closely with the governor's Homeless Initiatives director and the Department of Local Affairs/Division of Housing, which is committed to combating homelessness to assist parolees in their transition back to society; and engaging with and supporting community-based organizations in their efforts to expand housing for the parole population.

<sup>1</sup> The methodology to calculate TPV revocations was revised in 2016; however, the DOC was able to provide TPV revocation rates for previous fiscal years.

<sup>2</sup> TPV revocations are run on a 1-month delay; therefore, the Q2 FY17 evaluation included data from July-November, which was 2.2%. The Q2 percentage has been updated to include July-December data. Q3 data (through March) will not be available until the first week of May; data includes July-February.

<sup>3</sup> Complete data was not available for Q1, Q2, or Q3 due to onboarding of new providers.

<sup>1</sup> Housing data programming was completed in July 2016. Parolee housing data is being input on a rolling basis; thus, this increase in the average number homeless could be an effect of the increase in entered data, rather than an actual increase in the number of homeless parolees. More time is needed to assess the true average number of parolees that are homeless.

<sup>2</sup> Data will be available in Q4 to calculate this metric, as on-boarding of parolee data occurs as parolees visit their CPO.
