Legal Basis for the Report Herein

House Bill 97-1249

Colorado Revised Statutes 22-7-409(2)
The department shall prepare an annual report of the results of the statewide assessments which shall be submitted no later than January 1, 1998, and no later than each January 1 thereafter, to the education committees of the house of representatives and the senate and to the governor and which shall be made available upon request to members of the public. In the report, the department shall present the percentage of students achieving each of the performance levels specified by the board, calculated for the state as a whole, for each district and by district size. The department shall also report the percentage of students in the state achieving each of the performance levels by gender, race, separate disabling condition, and ethnicity. The department shall also report said percentages of schools, categorizing the schools by socioeconomic status determined by the number of students eligible for free or reduced-cost lunch.

Foreword

On behalf of the State Board of Education, the Colorado Department of Education (CDE) is pleased to present the fourth annual report on the Colorado Student Assessment Program (CSAP). The report is a review of students' performances in fifth grade Mathematics from the Fall 1999; as well as third grade Reading Comprehension (English and Spanish), fourth grade Reading and Writing (English and Spanish), seventh grade Reading and Writing, eighth grade Mathematics, and eighth grade Science from the administration of the Spring 2000 CSAP. All third, fourth, fifth, seventh and eighth grade students in Colorado were accounted for in this administration of CSAP.

This report will provide policymakers, educators, parents, and the community with a general accounting and a concise overview of the performance of Colorado's third, fourth, fifth, seventh and eighth grade students relative to the State Model Content Standards in third grade Reading Comprehension (English and Spanish), fourth grade Reading and Writing (English and Spanish), fifth grade Mathematics, seventh grade Reading and Writing, eighth grade Mathematics and eighth grade Science. The report should raise awareness of the status of public education in Colorado as the public schools continue their efforts to implement standards-based education reform statewide. The fourth assessment of fourth grade Reading and Writing, the third assessment of third grade Reading Comprehension, the second assessment of seventh grade Reading and Writing, and the first assessment of fifth grade Mathematics, eighth grade Mathematics and eighth grade Science contribute to the evaluative process of assessing the strengths and gaps in Colorado public education in these content areas and provide information for planning and improving instruction and delivery of educational services. CSAP results are important to schools and districts, as well as for state accountability. They are an integral component of Colorado school district accreditation requirements. In particular, results from this third assessment of third grade Reading Comprehension provide evidence of progress toward meeting the rules for the 1997 Colorado Basic Literacy Act.

Executive Summary

The 1999-2000 school year represented a year of change for the Colorado Student Assessment Program. The most notable development was the addition of several new assessments to the assessment program. For the first time, mathematics was assessed at the fifth grade level (Fall 1999) and mathematics and science at eighth grade (Spring 2000). A total of 11 assessments were administered at five grade levels for the 19992000 school year.

The addition of the new assessments provides a baseline for measuring continual growth on these subject areas as students progress towards proficiency on the Colorado Model Content Standards. The results indicate that $47 \%$ of students were at or above proficient for fifth grade mathematics. In eighth grade mathematics and science, 33\% and 45\% of students were at or above proficient, respectively.

For the first time the results of the Spanish assessment are detailed in the annual report. This assessment provides students who are Spanish speakers an opportunity to demonstrate their abilities in third grade reading and 4th grade writing and reading. These assessments have been administered since 1998 and students have shown marked proficiency gains during this time. In 1998, $41 \%$ of third graders were at or above proficient. This figure increased in 1999 to $47 \%$ and in 2000 to $52 \%$. For fourth grade reading, $22 \%$ of students scored at or above proficient in 1998, $23 \%$ in 1999 and $29 \%$ in 2000. In writing, $23 \%$ of fourth grade students scored at or above proficient in 1998, and $27 \%$ and $31 \%$ in 1999 and 2000, respectively.

Results on the other CSAP assessments show a continual progression of Colorado's students toward the standards. In third grade reading, the number of students proficient or above was $69 \%$. This represents an improvement over last year by 2 percentage points. In fourth grade reading, $62 \%$ of students were proficient or above and in writing, $36 \%$ of students were proficient or advanced. This figure is 3 percentage points above the previous year for reading and 2 percentage points for writing. In seventh grade reading $58 \%$ of students were proficient or above and in Writing $42 \%$ were proficient or above. This represents a growth of 2 percentage points in reading and 1 percentage point in writing.

The following report provides detailed information regarding the student assessment results. Included in these data is information on student achievement by gender, ethnic/racial, disability, and accommodation categories. In addition, achievement data are presented for each school district and for schools categorized by socioeconomic status.

Standards-Based Education and Assessment in Colorado

With the passage of House Bill 93-1313, Colorado embarked on its path toward standards-based education reform. This legislation charged the State to develop model content standards that would guide student learning in Colorado public schools. Colorado Model Content Standards in the areas of Reading, Writing, Geography, Mathematics, Science, and History were adopted by the State Board of Education in June 1995. As mandated by this legislation, each of the 176 Colorado school districts also has written and adopted standards that meet or exceed those of the State. These statements of the academic content each student is expected to learn describe what students should know and be able to do. They establish the framework for ensuring that rigorous academic content is being taught and raise expectations for all students. The State Model Content Standards present students and teachers with clear and challenging educational targets; serve as a focus for student learning and achievement; and provide the impetus for a measurement tool for judging students' academic learning and performance.

In accordance with legislation, CDE continued the statewide assessment of public school students relative to the State Model Content Standards in the Fall of 1999 and the Spring 2000. The CSAP again assessed all third grade students in Reading Comprehension (English and Spanish), fourth grade students in Reading and Writing (English and Spanish), and all seventh grade students in Reading and Writing, and began the assessment of all fifth grade students in Mathematics and eighth grade students in Mathematics and Science.

Purpose of the Colorado Student Assessment Program

The purpose of the CSAP is to provide educators, policy makers, and the community with a picture of student performance and to determine the level at which Colorado students meet the State's academic content standards. The results will provide a context for improving public education in Colorado. The fact that the CSAP is based on the State's model content standards will ensure that all districts are held to the same challenging standards that Coloradoans expect for their children regardless of students' individual characteristics or whether they live in urban, suburban, or rural areas.

Description of the Fall 1999 and the Spring 2000 Assessments

 In the Fall of 1999, 53,701 fifth grade students were assessed in Mathematics.During the fourth Colorado statewide assessment, March 1-March 26, 2000, assessments were administered to:

- 54,197 third grade students in English Reading Comprehension, and 1,721 students in Spanish (Lectura);
- 54,827 fourth grade students in English Reading and Writing, and 1,288-1,291 in Spanish (Lectura and Escritura);
- 54,875 fifth grade students in Mathematics
- 54,320 seventh grade students in Reading and Writing;
- 53,881 eighth grade students in Mathematics; and
- 53,878 eighth grade students in Science.

Percentages of students not participating in the assessments were as follows:

- $2 \%$ of third grade students - English and Spanish Reading
- 2\% of fourth grade students - English Reading and 3\% of fourth grade students Spanish Reading
- $4 \%$ of fourth grade students - English Writing and 3\% of fourth grade students Spanish Writing
- $2 \%$ of fifth grade students - Mathematics
- $4 \%$ of seventh grade students - Reading
- $5 \%$ of seventh grade students - Writing
- $3 \%$ of eighth grade students - Mathematics
- $4 \%$ of eighth grade students - Science

The category reported as "Not tested" represents students who were not tested due to inadequate literacy in either English or Spanish, parental refusal, or to the severity of a disability that resulted in the student working on individual standards rather than on State standards for Reading. Students who did not complete all testing sessions or whose tests were invalid (e.g., student shared answers, made no attempt to respond to the test) also are contained in this category. It was the intent of the Colorado Department of Education that as many students as possible participate in the assessment.

The Colorado Department of Education's goal is to describe all students' levels of achievement with accuracy by providing as many students as possible with the opportunity to demonstrate their skills and knowledge. Since accommodations are used during instruction to provide students with access to information and learning activities, the CSAP allows assessment accommodations that also are used for instruction. An accommodation is a change made to the assessment procedures that provides a student with an equal opportunity to demonstrate knowledge and skills without affecting the reliability or validity of the assessment. An accommodation does not change the construct being measured, instructional level, content, or the performance criteria. Accommodations are not intended to provide an unfair advantage; they are intended to simply "level the playing field." One accommodation that is not allowed is reading the Reading test to the student because it would provide an unfair advantage and change the construct being measured. The test results would not be a valid indicator of a student's ability to decode print information, but rather, would indicate the student's ability to process and decode auditory information.

On the other hand, reading the Mathematics or the Science test to the student is allowed because that accommodation does not change the constructs being measured in the same way that reading the Reading test does.

Results of accommodated and non-accommodated assessments are shown throughout this report. The vast majority of students who received accommodations in the assessment procedure were special education students and students with disabilities.

Each assessment for Reading, Writing, Mathematics and Science is comprised of three testing sessions. Third grade Reading is the exception, which is two testing sessions. Each testing session for Reading and Writing is 50 minutes, while each testing session for Mathematics and Science is 55 minutes.

For the third, fourth, and seventh grade Reading assessments, students were required to read passages and individually respond to selected-response (multiple-choice) and constructed-response (open-ended) questions about the passages. For the fourth and seventh grade Writing assessments, each student responded to writing prompts, editing tasks, and selected-response and constructed-response questions. For the fifth and eighth grade Mathematics assessment, students were required to read and select correct responses to mathematics problems in context, use pictures, numbers and words to show and explain solution methods, write descriptions of objects and create displays of quantitative information. For the eighth grade Science assessment, each student responded to selected-response and constructed-response questions.

Summaries of Students' Performances

Results for each CSAP assessment are reported according to four levels of student performance. These performance levels were determined and described by educators who teach the specific subject at that grade level. These proficiency levels were then adopted by the State Board of Education. A detailed description of the types of knowledge and skills that must be demonstrated for each performance level on the assessments is provided in Appendix A.

Summarized in this report are: Performance of All Students, Performance of Students by Gender, Performance of Students by Race and Ethnicity, Performance of Students by Disabling Condition ${ }^{1}$, Performance of Students by Test Accommodation, and Performance of Students by District Size. Also summarized in each subject area are performance of students by school districts and results categorized by percent of students in the school receiving free or reduced-cost lunch, the indicator of socioeconomic status.

This report on students' performance is presented in eight parts:

- Part 1 - third grade Reading Comprehension (English and Spanish);,
- Part 2 - fourth grade Reading (English and Spanish);
- Part 3 - fourth grade Writing (English and Spanish);
- Part 4 - fifth grade Mathematics;
- Part 5 - seventh grade Reading;
- Part 6 - seventh grade Writing;
- Part 7 - eighth grade Mathematics; and
- Part 8 - eighth grade Science.

Section 1.1A Performance of 3rd Grade Students Statewide in Reading Comprehension

Number of Students Assessed

Of the 54,197 Colorado third grade students, 53,020 students completed the assessment in Reading Comprehension during the Spring 2000 CSAP. Only two percent, or 1,177 students were not tested.

Table 1A Student Assessment Status in 3rd Grade Reading CSAP Spring 2000

| Student Assessment Status | Number | Percent |
| :--- | :---: | :---: |
| Students completing the assessment | 53020 | $97.8 \%$ |
| Test incomplete or invalid | 260 | $.5 \%$ |
| Not tested: Not literate in English or Spanish | 260 | $.4 \%$ |
| Not tested: Working on individualized standards | 589 | $1.1 \%$ |
| Not tested: Parental/Guardian refusal | 68 | $.1 \%$ |
| State Total | 54197 | $99.9 \%$ |

Performance of Students Statewide in Reading Comprehension

| Total | $9 \%$ | $20 \%$ | $63 \%$ | $7 \%$ | $2 \%$ | $101 \% * *$ |

Does not total 100\% due to rounding.

As illustrated in Table 2A, the results indicate that in 2000, 69 percent $^{2}$ of Colorado third grade students were considered proficient or advanced in Reading Comprehension, while the performance of 9 percent was deemed unsatisfactory. All students classified as proficient are considered as meeting the State Model Content Standards for Reading Comprehension.

*Data on student's gender was invalid (e.g., more than one category marked) or was not provided.
Does not total 100\% due to rounding.
As illustrated in Table 3A, the results of the 2000 CSAP indicate that third grade girls outperformed boys in Reading: 72 percent of the girls and 67 percent of the boys were proficient or advanced in Reading.

Student Performance in Reading by Race and Ethnicity

Table 4A Reading Performance of 3rd Grade Students by Race and Ethnicity

*Data on student's race or ethnicity was invalid (e.g., more than one category marked) or was not provided by test administrator.
Does not total 100\% due to rounding
The 2000 CSAP results shown in Table 4A indicate that Non-minority (white) and Asian/Pacific Islander students, on average, scored higher than did other minority students.

The results of CSAP in Table 7A indicate that, in general, student performance in Reading Comprehension does not vary substantially by size of school district, indicated by total district enrollment except, that overall, slightly more students in the largest districts (25,000 or more students) were proficient or advanced in Reading Comprehension and slightly fewer students in districts enrolling 301 to 600 students were proficient or advanced in Reading Comprehension.

Section 1.2A District Performance Levels in Reading Comprehension

While only two percent of third grade students, statewide, were not tested or had invalid tests in Reading, this percentage ranged from zero percent to 8 percent within school districts.

A summary of results of the 2000 CSAP assessment of student performance in Reading comprehension for each school district is provided in Table 8A below.

Section 1.3A Performance of Schools Classified by Socioeconomic Status

This section presents summaries of the Reading Comprehension performance of students in schools of differing socioeconomic status (SES). Percent of students receiving free or reduced-cost lunch is used as the indicator for school SES. Four levels of SES characterize schools:

- Level 1: 0-25\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 2: 26-50\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 3: 51-75\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 4: 76-100\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch

Section 1.1B Performance of 3rd Grade Students Statewide in Lecutra Comprehension

Number of Students Assessed

Of the 1,721Colorado third grade students, 1,681 students completed the assessment in Lectura Comprehension during the Spring 2000 CSAP. Only two percent, or 40 students, were not tested.

|  | $19 \%$ | $26 \%$ | $45 \%$ | $8 \%$ | $2 \%$ | $100 \%$ |

As illustrated in Table 2B, the results indicate that in 2000, 53 percent of Colorado third grade students were considered proficient or advanced in Lectura Comprehension, while the performance of 19 percent was deemed unsatisfactory. All students classified as proficient are considered as meeting the State Model Content Standards for Reading Comprehension.

| State Total | $19 \%$ | $26 \%$ | $45 \%$ | $8 \%$ | $2 \%$ | $100 \%$ |

The results of CSAP in Table 7B indicate that, in general, student performance in Lectura Comprehension does not vary substantially by size of school district, indicated by total district enrollment except, that overall, slightly more students in the mid-size districts (1,201-6,000 students) were proficient or advanced in Lectura Comprehension and slightly fewer students in districts enrolling 25,000+ students were proficient or advanced in Lectura Comprehension.

Section 1.2B Performance Levels in Lectura Comprehension For Districts Administering the Spanish Assessments

While only two percent of third grade students, on average, were not tested or had invalid tests in Lectura, this percentage ranged from zero percent to 3 percent within school districts.

A summary of results of the 2000 CSAP assessment of student performance in Lectura comprehension for each school district is provided in Table 8B. below.

Section 1.3B Performance of Schools Classified by Socioeconomic Status

This section presents summaries of the Lectura Comprehension performance of students in schools of differing socioeconomic status (SES). Percent of students receiving free or reduced-cost lunch is used as the indicator for school SES. Four levels of SES characterize schools:

- Level 1: 0-25\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 2: 26-50\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 3: 51-75\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 4: 76-100\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch

Number of Students Assessed

Of the 54,827 Colorado fourth grade students, 53,570 students completed the assessment in Reading during the Spring 2000 CSAP. Only two percent, or 1,095 students, were not tested.

Table 12A indicates that in 2000, 62 percent of Colorado fourth grade students were considered proficient or advanced in Reading, while the performance of 8 percent was deemed unsatisfactory. A student classified as proficient was considered to have met the State Model Content Standards for Reading.

*Data on student's gender was invalid (e.g., more than one category marked) or was not provided.
Does not total $100 \%$ due to rounding
As illustrated in Table 13A, the results of the 2000 CSAP indicate that fourth grade girls out-performed boys in Reading: 65 percent*of the girls and 59 percent*of the boys were proficient or above in Reading.

The results of CSAP in Table 17A indicate that, in general, student performance in Reading does not vary substantially by size of school district, indicated by total district enrollment except, that overall, slightly more students in districts enrolling 6,001 to 25,000 students were proficient or advanced in Reading and slightly fewer students in districts enrolling 601 to 1,200 students were proficient or advanced in Reading Comprehension.

Section 2.2A District Performance Levels in Reading

While only two percent of fourth grade students, on average, were not tested or had invalid tests in Reading, this percentage ranged from zero percent to 36 percent within school districts.

A summary of results of the 2000 CSAP assessment of student performance in Reading for each school district is provided in Table 18A below.

Section 2.3A Performance of Schools Classified by Socioeconomic Status

This section presents summaries of the performance of students in schools of differing socioeconomic status (SES). Percent of students receiving free or reduced-cost lunch is used as the indicator for school SES. Six levels of SES characterize schools:

- Level 1: 0-25\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 2: 26-50\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 3: 51-75\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 4: 76-100\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch

Section 2.1B Performance of 4th Grade Students Statewide in Lectura

Number of Students Assessed
Of the 1,288 Colorado fourth grade students, 1,247 students completed the assessment in Lectura during the Spring 2000 CSAP. Only three percent, or 41 students, were not tested.

Table 12B indicates that in 2000, 29 percent of Colorado fourth grade students were considered proficient or advanced in Lectura, while the performance of 37 percent was deemed unsatisfactory. A student classified as proficient was considered to have met the State Model Content Standards for Reading.

*Data on student's gender was invalid (e.g., more than one category marked) or was not provided.

As illustrated in Table 13B, the results of the 2000 CSAP indicate that fourth grade girls out-performed boys in Lectura: 33 percent of the girls and 24 percent of the boys were proficient or above in Lectura.

The results of CSAP in Table 17B indicate that, in general, student performance in Lectura does not vary substantially by size of school district, indicated by total district enrollment except, that overall, slightly more students in districts enrolling 1,201 to 6,000 students were proficient or advanced in Lectura.

Section 2.2B Performance Levels in Lectura For Districts Administering the Spanish Assessments

While only three percent of fourth grade students, on average, were not tested or had invalid tests in Lectura, this percentage ranged 3 percent within school districts.

A summary of results of the 2000 CSAP assessment of student performance in Lectura for each school district is provided in Table 18B below.

Section 2.3B Performance of Schools Classified by Socioeconomic Status

This section presents summaries of the performance of students in schools of differing socioeconomic status (SES). Percent of students receiving free or reduced-cost lunch is used as the indicator for school SES. Six levels of SES characterize schools:

- Level 1: 0-25\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 2: 26-50\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 3: 51-75\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 4: 76-100\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch

Section 3.1A Performance of 4th Grade Students Statewide in Writing

Number of Students Assessed
Of the 54,827 Colorado fourth grade students, 52,736 students completed the assessment in Writing during the Spring 2000 CSAP. Only four percent, or 2,091 students, were not tested.

Table 22A indicates that in 2000, 36 percent of Colorado fourth grade students were considered proficient or advanced in Writing, while the performance of 15 percent was deemed unsatisfactory. A student classified as proficient was considered to have met the State Model Content Standards for Writing.

The results of CSAP in Table 27A indicate that, in general, student performance in Writing does not vary substantially by size of school district, indicated by total district enrollment except, that overall, slightly more students in districts enrolling 6,001 to 25,000 students were proficient or advanced in Writing.

Section 3.2A District Performance Levels in Writing

While only four percent of fourth grade students, on average, were not tested or had invalid tests in Writing, this percentage ranged from zero percent to 58 percent within school districts. A summary of results of the 2000 CSAP assessment of student performance in Writing for each school district is provided in Table 28A below.

Section 3.3A Performance of Schools Classified by Socioeconomic Status

This section presents summaries of the performance of students in schools of differing socioeconomic status (SES). Percent of students receiving free or reduced-cost lunch is used as the indicator for school SES. Six levels of SES characterize schools:

Level 1: 0-25\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
Level 2: 26-50\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
Level 3: 51-75\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
Level 4: 76-100\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch

Section 3.1B Performance of 4th Grade Students Statewide in Escritura

Number of Students Assessed
Of the 1,291 Colorado fourth grade students, 1,252 students completed the assessment in Escritura during the Spring 2000 CSAP. Only three percent, or 39 students, were not tested.

Table 21B Student Assessment Status in 4th Grade Escritura CSAP Spring 2000

Table 22B indicates that in 2000, 31 percent of Colorado fourth grade students were considered proficient or advanced in Escritura, while the performance of 33 percent was deemed unsatisfactory. A student classified as proficient was considered to have met the State Model Content Standards for Writing.

As illustrated in Table 23B, the results of the 2000 CSAP indicate that fourth grade girls out-performed boys in Escritura: 39 percent of the girls and 23 percent of the boys were proficient or above in Escritura.

Student Performance in Escritura by Race and Ethnicity

The 2000 CSAP results shown in Table 24B indicate that Non-minority (white) and Asian/Pacific Islander students, on average, scored much higher than did other minority students.

The results of CSAP in Table 27B indicate that, in general, student performance in Escritura does not vary substantially by size of school district, indicated by total district enrollment except, that overall, slightly more students in districts enrolling 6,001 to 25,000 students were proficient or advanced in Escritura.

Section 3.2B Performance Levels in Escritura For Districts Administering the Spanish Assessments

While only four percent of three grade students, on average, were not tested or had invalid tests in Escritura, this percentage ranged from zero percent to 4 percent within school districts. A summary of results of the 2000 CSAP assessment of student performance in Escritura for each school district is provided in Table 28B below.

Section 3.3B Performance of Schools Classified by Socioeconomic Status

This section presents summaries of the performance of students in schools of differing socioeconomic status (SES). Percent of students receiving free or reduced-cost lunch is used as the indicator for school SES. Six levels of SES characterize schools:

- Level 1: 0-25\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 2: 26-50\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 3: 51-75\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 4: 76-100\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch

Part 4
Student Performance in Mathematics Comprehension

Grade 5

CSAP Fall 1999

Section 4 Performance of 5th Grade Students Statewide in Mathematics Comprehension

Number of Students Assessed

Of the 54,875 Colorado fifth grade students, 53,701 students completed the assessment in Mathematics during the Fall 1999 CSAP. Only two percent, or 1,174 students, were not tested.

Table 31 Student Assessment Status in 5th Grade Mathematics CSAP Fall 1999

| Student Assessment Status | Number | Percent |
| :--- | :---: | :---: |
| Students completing the assessment | 53701 | $97.8 \%$ |
| Test incomplete or invalid | 418 | $.8 \%$ |
| Not tested: Not literate in English or Spanish | 342 | $.6 \%$ |
| Not tested: Working on individualized standards | 382 | $.7 \%$ |

|  | $13 \%$ | $38 \%$ | $34 \%$ | $13 \%$ | $2 \%$ | $100 \%$ |

As illustrated in Table 32, the results indicate that in 1999, 47 percent of Colorado fifth grade students were considered proficient or advanced in Mathematics, while the performance of 13 percent was deemed unsatisfactory. All students classified as proficient are considered as meeting the State Model Content Standards for Mathematics.

The results of CSAP in Table 37 indicate that, in general, student performance in Mathematics does not vary substantially by size of school district, indicated by total district enrollment except, that overall, slightly more students in smallest districts (enrolling 300 or less students) were proficient or advanced in Mathematics.

Section 4.2 District Performance Levels in Mathematics

While only two percent of fifth grade students, on average, were not tested or had invalid tests in Mathematics, this percentage ranged from one percent to 17 percent within school districts.

A summary of results of the 1999 CSAP assessment of student performance in Mathematics for each school district is provided in Table 38 below.

Section 4.3 Performance of Schools Classified by Socioeconomic Status

This section presents summaries of the Mathematics performance of students in schools of differing socioeconomic status (SES). Percent of students receiving free or reducedcost lunch is used as the indicator for school SES. Four levels of SES characterize schools:

- Level 1: 0-25\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 2: 26-50 receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 3: 51-75\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 4: 76-100\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch

Section 5.1 Performance of 7th Grade Students Statewide in Reading

Number of Students Assessed

Of the 54,320 Colorado seventh grade students, 52,327 students completed the assessment in Reading during the Spring 2000 CSAP. Four percent, or 1,993 students, were not tested.

Table 40 Student Assessment Status in 7th Grade Reading CSAP Spring 2000

Table 41 indicates that in 2000, 58 percent of Colorado seventh grade students were considered proficient or advanced in Reading, while the performance of 12 percent* and 26 percent* was deemed unsatisfactory or partially proficient, respectively. A student classified as proficient was considered to have met the State Model Content Standards for Reading.

*Data on student's gender was invalid (e.g., more than one category marked) or was not provided.
Does not total $100 \%$ due to rounding.
As illustrated in Table 42 the results of the 2000 CSAP indicate that seventh grade girls out-performed boys in Reading: 64 percent of the girls and 53 percent of the boys were proficient or above in Reading.

Student Performance in Reading by Race and Ethnicity

Table 43 Reading Performance of 7th Grade Students by Race and Ethnicity

| Race/Ethnicity | Reading Performance Level |  |  |  |  | Total |

*Data on student's race or ethnicity was invalid (e.g., more than one category marked) or was not provided by the test administrator.
Does not total to $100 \%$ due to the rounding.
The 2000 CSAP results shown in Table 43 indicate that Non-minority (white) and Asian/Pacific Islander students, on average, scored much higher than did other minority students.

The results of CSAP in Table 46 indicate that, in general, student performance in Reading does not vary substantially by size of school district, indicated by total district enrollment except, that overall, slightly more students in districts enrolling 6,001 to 25,000 students were proficient or advanced in Reading and slightly fewer students in districts enrolling 601 to 1,200 students were proficient or advanced in Reading.

Section 5.2 District Performance Levels in Reading

While only four percent of seventh grade students, on average, were not tested or had invalid tests in Reading, this percentage ranged from zero percent to 16 percent within school districts.

A summary of results of the 2000 CSAP assessment of student performance in Reading for each school district is provided in Table 47 below.

Section 5.3 Performance of Schools Classified by Socioeconomic Status

This section presents summaries of the performance of students in schools of differing socioeconomic status (SES). Percent of students receiving free or reduced-cost lunch is used as the indicator for school SES. Four levels of SES characterize schools:

- Level 1: 0-25\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 2: 26-50\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 3: 51-75\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 4: 76-100\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch

Section 6.1 Performance of 7th Grade Students Statewide in Writing

Number of Students Assessed

Of the 54,320 Colorado seventh grade students, 52,327 students completed the assessment in Writing during the spring 2000 CSAP. Five percent, or 2,941 students, were not tested.

Table 49 Student Assessment Status in 7th Grade Writing CSAP Spring 2000

Table 50 indicates that in 2000, only 42 percent of Colorado seventh grade students were considered proficient or advanced in Writing, while the performance of 2 percent* and 51 percent* was deemed unsatisfactory or partially proficient, respectively. A student classified as proficient was considered to have met the State Model Content Standards for Writing.

| *Data on student's gender was invalid (e.g., more than one category marked) or was not provided. |  |  |  |  |  |  |

As illustrated in Table 51 the results of the 2000 CSAP indicate that seventh grade girls out performed boys in Writing: 49 percent of the girls and 36 percent of the boys were proficient or above in Writing.

Student Performance in Writing by Race and Ethnicity

Table 52 Writing Performance of 7th Grade Students by Race and Ethnicity

The 2000 CSAP results shown in Table 52 indicate that Non-minority (white) and Asian/Pacific Islander students, on average, scored much higher than did other minority students.

The results of CSAP in Table 55 indicate that, in general, student performance in Writing does not vary substantially by size of school district, indicated by total district enrollment except, that overall, students in districts with enrollments between 6,001 to 25,000 and 1,201 to 6,000 students performed slightly better than students in other districts.

Section 6.2 District Performance Levels in Writing

While five percent of seventh grade students, on average, were not tested nor had invalid tests in Writing, this percentage ranged from zero percent to 26 percent within school districts.

A summary of results of the 2000 CSAP assessment of student performance in Writing for each school district is provided in Table 56 below.

Section 6.3 Performance of Schools Classified by Socioeconomic Status

This section presents summaries of the performance of students in schools of differing socioeconomic status (SES). Percent of students receiving free or reduced-cost lunch is used as the indicator for school SES. Four levels of SES characterize schools:

- Level 1: 0-25\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 2: 26-50\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 3: 51-75\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 4: 76-100\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch

Section 7.1 Performance of 8th Grade Students Statewide in Mathematics Comprehension

Number of Students Assessed

Of the 53,881 Colorado eighth grade students, 52,056 students completed the assessment in Mathematics during the Spring 2000 CSAP. Only three percent, or 1,825 students, were not tested.

As illustrated in Table 59, the results indicate that in 2000, 33 percent of Colorado eighth grade students were considered proficient or advanced in Mathematics, while the performance of 30 percent was deemed unsatisfactory. All students classified as proficient are considered as meeting the State Model Content Standards for Mathematics.

*Data on student's gender was invalid (e.g., more than one category marked) or was not provided.
Does not total $100 \%$ due to rounding.
As illustrated in Table 60, the results of the 2000 CSAP indicate that eighth grade boys out-performed girls in Mathematics: 32 percent of the girls and 35 percent of the boys were proficient or advanced in Mathematics.

Student Performance in Mathematics by Race and Ethnicity

The results of CSAP in Table 64 indicate that, in general, student performance in Mathematics does not vary substantially by size of school district, indicated by total district enrollment except, that overall, slightly more students in districts enrolling 6,000-24,999 were proficient or advanced in Mathematics.

Section 7.2 District Performance Levels in Mathematics

While only three percent of eighth grade students, on average, were not tested or had invalid tests in Mathematics, this percentage ranged from zero percent to 15 percent within school districts.

A summary of results of the 2000 CSAP assessment of student performance in Mathematics for each school district is provided in Table 65 below.

Section 7.3 Performance of Schools Classified by Socioeconomic Status

This section presents summaries of the Mathematics performance of students in schools of differing socioeconomic status (SES). Percent of students receiving free or reducedcost lunch is used as the indicator for school SES. Four levels of SES characterize schools:

- Level 1: 0-25\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 2: 26-50\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 3: 51-75\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 4: 76-100\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch

Section 8.1 Performance of 8th Grade Students Statewide in Science Comprehension

Number of Students Assessed

Of the 53,878 Colorado eighth grade students, 51,986 students completed the assessment in Science during the Spring 2000 CSAP. Only four percent, or 1,892 students, were not tested.

Table 67 Student Assessment Status in 8th Grade Science CSAP Spring 2000

| Student Assessment Status | Number | Percent |
| :--- | :---: | :---: |
| Students completing the assessment | 51986 | $96 \%$ |
| Test incomplete or invalid | 913 | $1.7 \%$ |
| Not tested: Not literate in English or Spanish | 446 | $.8 \%$ |

|  | Unsatisfactory | Partially  Proficient | Proficient | Advanced | Not  Tested |  |
|  | $20 \%$ | $31 \%$ | $41 \%$ | $4 \%$ | $4 \%$ | $100 \%$ |

As illustrated in Table 68, the results indicate that in 2000, 45 percent of Colorado eighth grade students were considered proficient or advanced in Science, while the performance of 20 percent was deemed unsatisfactory. All students classified as proficient are considered as meeting the State Model Content Standards for Science.

*Data on student's gender was invalid (e.g., more than one category marked) or was not provided.
Does not total $100 \%$ due to rounding.
As illustrated in Table 69, the results of the 2000 CSAP indicate that eighth grade boys out-performed girls in Science: 41 percent of the girls and 50 percent of the boys were proficient or advanced in Science.

Student Performance in Science by Race and Ethnicity

Table 70 Science Performance of 8th Grade Students by Race and Ethnicity

The 2000 CSAP results shown in Table 70 indicate that Non-minority (white) and Asian/Pacific Islander students, on average, scored higher than did other minority students.

The results of CSAP in Table 73 indicate that, in general, student performance in Science does not vary substantially by size of school district, indicated by total district enrollment except, that overall, slightly more students in the smallest districts 300 or less students were proficient or advanced in Science and slightly less students in districts enrolling 25,000 or more students were proficient or advanced in Science.

Section 8.2 District Performance Levels in Science

While only four percent of eighth grade students, on average, were not tested or had invalid tests in Science, this percentage ranged from zero percent to 18 percent within school districts.

A summary of results of the 2000 CSAP assessment of student performance in Science for each school district is provided in Table 74 below.

Section 8.3 Performance of Schools Classified by Socioeconomic Status

This section presents summaries of the Science performance of students in schools of differing socioeconomic status (SES). Percent of students receiving free or reduced-cost lunch is used as the indicator for school SES. Four levels of SES characterize schools:

- Level 1: 0-25\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 2: 26-50\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 3: 51-75\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch
- Level 4: 76-100\% receiving free or reduced-cost lunch

Appendix A

Colorado Student Assessment Program Performance Level Descriptors Grade 3 Reading  Adopted by the State Board September 10, 1998

UNSATISFACTORY

Third grade students are unsatisfactory in Reading Comprehension when they read narratives and simple expository texts with familiar content with little evidence of literal comprehension.

PARTIALLY PROFICIENT

Third grade students are partially proficient in Reading Comprehension when they can comprehend simple narrative and/or expository text with familiar content on a literal level. They are able to:

- demonstrate limited accuracy in the identification and sequencing of facts and events
- demonstrate minimal understanding in a written response
- demonstrate understanding of simple vocabulary.

PROFICIENT

Third grade students are proficient in Reading Comprehension when they can comprehend longer and increasingly difficult text, including poetry. They are able to:

- draw inferences from what they read
- follow directions
- identify main idea and supporting details
- accurately and thoroughly sequence events
- draw conclusions
- determine cause and effect
- reread and search to confirm obvious information and meaning
- demonstrate their thorough understanding of text through a written response
- understand vocabulary essential to the text.

ADVANCED

Third grade students are advanced in Reading Comprehension when they can comprehend a variety of texts including narrative (such as realistic fiction, fantasy, and legends), expository, and poetry in an in-depth manner. They are able to:

- restate and evaluate main idea and significant details, problem and solution, and cause and effect
- paraphrase and summarize information
- analyze the sequence of events
- identify and infer character traits and motives, the theme of a narrative, and meaning from figurative language, including metaphor and personification
- interpret complex or content specific vocabulary
- re-read and search text to confirm less obvious information and meaning
- draw conclusions by inferring from the text using higher levels of thinking.
(Third Grade Students only have one Standard)

Colorado Student Assessment Program Proficiency Level Descriptors Grade 4 Reading Adopted by the State Board October 3, 1997

UNSATISFACTORY

Standard 1

A student who has received an unsatisfactory proficiency rating may demonstrate evidence of minimal or very general comprehension (i.e., gist) of a text that has substantial textual or visual support/clues.

Standard 4

A student who has received an unsatisfactory proficiency rating may give inconsistent responses to a specific task when predicting or drawing conclusions using text and/or visual clues.

Standard 5

A student who has received an unsatisfactory proficiency rating may demonstrate limited accuracy in the identification and use of facts presented in the text.

Standard 6

A student who has received an unsatisfactory proficiency rating may respond to simple story elements (e.g., character, setting, and plot) at a literal level.

PARTIALLY PROFICIENT

Standard 1

A partially proficient student demonstrates use of limited strategies to comprehend reading materials by:

- using context clues to comprehend word meanings
- recalling details to answer questions
- skimming to locate a limited number of details

Standard 4

A partially proficient student demonstrates analysis of a text by using a graphic organizer to categorize facts.

Standard 5

A partially proficient student begins to demonstrate accurate identification and use of information presented in the text.

Standard 6

A partially proficient student demonstrates the ability to read and respond to literature by:

- classifying vocabulary in a basic way
- understanding a text (e.g., poem) at a literal level
- recalling details to answer questions

PROFICIENT

Standard 1

A proficient student demonstrates comprehension of a variety of reading selections by using multiple strategies:

- context and visual clues
- word parts (prefixes and suffixes)
- multiple word meanings and idiomatic expressions
- factual recall and discrimination
- sequencing
- main idea
- inference
- written summary with factual support

Standard 4

A proficient student responds to a specific text by:

- understanding and following directions
- recognizing the author's point of view and purpose
- expressing a character's reactions or explaining a reaction to the test
- locating relevant information
- defining a problem or a solution
- making predictions and drawing conclusions based on the information

Standard 5

A proficient student demonstrates the accurate use of information from a variety of sources by:

- differentiating among printed materials
- reading for information that contains multiple steps
- analyzing and discriminating among various media
- identifying details from relevant information
- extracting information from a complex stimulus (e.g., graph, chart, table, or text)

ADVANCED

Standard 1

An advanced student uses multiple strategies to read a variety of selections to demonstrate a deeper understanding (e.g., insight into text) by:

- writing a complete, thorough summary
- completing complex non-linear sequencing
- recalling details with inference (e.g., making connections between details or ideas)
- using context clues for words with unusual or abstract meanings

Standard 4

An advanced student responds to a specific text by:

- thoroughly categorizing facts and details using a graphic organizer
- differentiating fact from opinion
- evaluating the main idea
- defining both a problem and a solution
- defending and thoroughly supporting a reaction to a text
- interpreting the author's style

Standard 5

An advanced student demonstrates skill in finding and using information from a complex variety of sources by:

- identifying and using the organizational features of a book (e.g., glossary, index, or table of contents)
- following a complex set of instructions
- discriminating among a wide variety of reference materials
- applying reasoning skills
- interpreting factual material displayed in a non-traditional way

Standard 6

An advanced student demonstrates the ability to read and respond to literature by:

- generating character traits and motives for characters' actions
- identifying many details from context to thoroughly answer a question
- supporting an opinion with specific details from text
- classifying vocabulary in abstract ways
- interpreting poetry and folk tales in a more abstract manner with a more complete understanding of figurative language (e.g., personification, symbolism)

Colorado Student Assessment Program Performance Level Descriptors Grade 4 Writing  Adopted by the State Board of Education October 3, 1997

UNSATISFACTORY

In independently revised narrative Writing, * the student response displays the following characteristics:

- unfocused and disorganized writing
- irrelevant details that may not support the topic or relate to the purpose
- age-inappropriate vocabulary
- illegible portions
- sentences or fragments
- errors in conventions that make writing difficult to read

In independently unversed narrative, expository, and descriptive paragraphs,  the student response displays the following characteristics:

- irrelevant or insufficient details that impede meaning
- limited word choice and sentence structure
- illegible portions

PARTIALLY PROFICIENT

In independently revised narrative Writing, * the student response displays the following characteristics:

- minimally focused and organized writing with general ideas related to the purpose
- irrelevant details or information
- errors in conventions that may distract from meaning
- more complete sentences than fragments
- appropriate vocabulary with occasional lapses in accuracy

In independently unversed narrative paragraphs,  the student response displays the following characteristics:

- random and fragmented ideas
- limited and repetitive word choice and sentence structure

Given a sentence or a paragraph, the student displays some knowledge of editing sentence structure (including subject/verb agreement, modifiers, capitalization, and punctuation).

PROFICIENT

In independently revised narrative Writing, * the student response displays the following characteristics:

- mostly focused and organized writing
- details included, most of which are relevant
- age-appropriate vocabulary
- simple sentence patterns
- errors in conventions do not distract from meaning

In independently unversed narrative, expository, and descriptive paragraphs,  the student response displays the following characteristics:

- ideas connected to the specified purpose
- simple and familiar word choice
- simple sentence structure

Given a sentence or a paragraph, the student can edit text for run-on sentences, subject/verb agreement, and use of appropriate vocabulary, punctuation, capitalization, and proper use of most modifiers.

ADVANCED

In independently revised narrative Writing, * the student response displays the following characteristics:

- clear, focused, fluent, developed, and organized writing for the purpose specified in the prompt
- details and word choice that support the central idea and are appropriate for the given audience
- variety of sentence structure
- minor errors in mechanics, spelling, and usage
$\bullet$
In independently unversed narrative, expository, and descriptive paragraphs,  the student response displays the following characteristics:
- relevant details, examples, and anecdotes that support the central idea
- accurate and specific word choice

Given a sentence or a paragraph, the student displays a strong grasp of editing (including concepts such as homonyms and advanced vocabulary).

Unsatisfactory

Standard 1: Number Sense

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Unsatisfactory may demonstrate evidence of minimal number sense and use of numbers by:

- writing and ordering whole numbers
- counting and measuring, using whole numbers

Standard 2: Patterns and Functions

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Unsatisfactory may demonstrate evidence of minimal use of algebraic methods to explore, model, and describe geometric patterns and numeric sequences by:

- Reproducing patterns using a variety of materials

Standard 3: Probability and Statistics
A student who has received a proficiency rating of Unsatisfactory may demonstrate evidence of minimal use of data collection by:

- reading and interpreting displays of data including pictographs and bar graphs

Standard 4: Geometry

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Unsatisfactory may demonstrate evidence of minimal use of geometric concepts by:

- recognizing basic shapes using a variety of materials

Standard 5: Measurement

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Unsatisfactory may demonstrate evidence of minimal use of tools and techniques to measure by:

- selecting and using appropriate standard and non-standard units of measurement
- using tools to measure length

Standard 6: Computation

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Unsatisfactory may demonstrate evidence of minimal use of computational techniques by:

- selecting and using appropriate methods for computing
- using addition of whole numbers
- adding and subtracting commonly used fractions using graphic representation

Partially Proficient

Standard 1: Number Sense

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Partially Proficient may demonstrate evidence of limited number sense and use of numbers by:

- demonstrating the meanings for whole numbers through the use of drawings

Standard 2: Patterns and Functions

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Partially Proficient may demonstrate evidence of limited use of algebraic methods to explore, model, and describe geometric patterns and numeric sequences by:

- recognizing, extending, creating, and describing simple patterns and sequences using a variety of materials

Standard 3: Probability and Statistics

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Partially Proficient may demonstrate evidence of limited use of data collection by:

- reading and interpreting displays of data including tables, pictographs, and bar graphs
- solving problems using various strategies for making combinations

Standard 4: Geometry

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Partially Proficient may demonstrate evidence of limited use of geometric concepts, relationships, and spatial reasoning by:

- identifying and drawing graphically representing geometric figures

Standard 5: Measurement

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Partially Proficient may demonstrate evidence of limited use of tools and techniques to measure by:

- knowing, using, describing, and estimating measures of length, weight, and temperature
- comparing and ordering objects according to measurable attributes
- using the approximate measures of familiar objects to develop a sense of measurement

Standard 6: Computation

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Partially Proficient may demonstrate evidence of limited use of computational techniques by:

- selecting and using appropriate methods for computing, using addition, subtraction, and multiplication with whole numbers

Proficient

Standard 1: Number Sense

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Proficient may demonstrate evidence of number sense and use of numbers by:

- demonstrating the meanings for commonly used fractions and representing equivalent forms of the same number through the use of drawings
- reading and writing whole numbers and identifying place value
- testing conjectures about properties of whole numbers

Standard 2: Patterns and Functions

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Proficient may demonstrate evidence of use of algebraic methods to explore, model, and describe geometric patterns and numeric sequences by

- Recognizing, extending, creating, and describing simple patterns and sequences with more than one attribute, using a variety of materials
- Recognizing when a pattern exists and using that information to solve a problem
- Describing patterns and other relationships, using open sentences with or without variables

Standard 3: Probability and Statistics

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Proficient may demonstrate evidence of use of data collection by

- Constructing, reading and interpreting displays of data, including tables, pictographs, and bar graphs
- Analyzing and making predictions based on data obtained from data and chance devices
- Interpreting data using the concepts of largest, smallest, most often, and middle

Standard 4: Geometry

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Proficient may demonstrate evidence of use of geometric concepts, relationships, and spatial reasoning by

- Recognizing shapes and their relationships
- Identifying describing, drawing, comparing, classifying, and building graphically representing geometric figures
- Solving problems using geometric relationships and spatial reasoning

Standard 5: Measurement

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Proficient may demonstrate evidence of use of tools and techniques to measure by

- Knowing, using, describing, and estimating measures of length, perimeter, weight, time, and temperature
- Demonstrating the process of measuring and explaining the concepts related to units of measurement
- Selecting and using appropriate standard and non-standard units of measurement in problem-solving situations

Standard 6: Computation

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Proficient may demonstrate evidence of use of computational techniques by

- Demonstrating conceptual meaning for the four basic arithmetic operations of addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division
- Adding and subtracting commonly used fractions using graphic representation
- Applying addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division in problem-solving situations

Advanced

Standard 1: Number Sense

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Advanced may demonstrate evidence of number sense and use of numbers by

- Demonstrating the meanings of commonly used decimals through the use of drawings
- Testing conjectures about properties of whole numbers, and commonly used fractions and decimals
- Estimating to justify the reasonableness of solutions to problems involving whole numbers, and commonly used fractions and decimals
- Developing number sense and using numbers and number relationships in complex problem-solving situations
- Communicating clearly the reasoning used in solving these problems

Standard 2: Patterns and Functions

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Advanced may demonstrate evidence of use of algebraic methods to explore, model, and describe geometric patterns and numeric sequences by

- Recognizing, extending, creating, and describing complex patterns and sequences with more than one attribute using a variety of materials
- Describing complex patterns and other relationships using tables, graphs, and open sentences with or without variables
- Identifying how a change in one quantity can produce a change in another
- Using algebraic methods to explore, model and describe patterns and functions involving numbers, shapes, data, and graphs in complex problem-solving situations
- Communicating clearly the reasoning used in solving these problems

Standard 3: Probability and Statistics

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Advanced may demonstrate evidence of use of data collection by

- Constructing, reading and interpreting displays of data including tables, charts, pictographs, and bar graphs
- Generating, analyzing, making, and communicating predictions based on data obtained from data and chance devices
- Solving complex problems using various strategies for making combinations
- Using data collection and analysis, statistics, and probability in problem-solving situations
- Communicating clearly the reasoning used in solving these problems

Standard 4: Geometry

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Advanced may demonstrate evidence of use of geometric concepts, relationships, and spatial reasoning by

- Relating geometric ideas to measurement and number sense
- Solving multi-step problems using geometric relationships and spatial reasoning
- Using geometric concepts, properties, and relationships in complex problem-solving situations
- Communicating clearly the reasoning used in solving these problems

Standard 5: Measurement

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Advanced may demonstrate evidence of use of tools and techniques to measure by

- Knowing, using, describing, and estimating measures of length, perimeter, capacity, weight, time, and temperature
- Selecting and using appropriate standard and non-standard units of measurement in complex problem-solving situations
- Using a variety of tools and techniques to measure and apply the results in complex problem-solving situations
- Communicating clearly the reasoning used in solving these problems

Standard 6: Computation

A student who has received a proficiency rating of Advanced may demonstrate evidence of use of computational techniques by

- Demonstrating and using basic addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division facts in solving complex problems
- Constructing, using, and explaining procedures to compute and estimate with whole numbers
- Selecting and using appropriate methods for computing of addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division with whole numbers in complex problem-solving situations
- Developing and using computational techniques in complex problem-solving situations
- Communicating clearly the reasoning used in solving these problems

Colorado Student Assessment Program Performance Level Descriptions Grade 7 Reading  Adopted by the State Board of Education September 9, 2000

Standard 1

A student who has received an unsatisfactory proficiency rating may demonstrate evidence of minimal or very general comprehension (i.e., gist) of a test that has substantial textual clues. The student may sometimes locate simple stated facts within a text.

Standard 4

A student who has received an unsatisfactory proficiency rating may make few predictions from written text.

Standard 5

A student may use resource materials in a basic way. The student may locate and select relevant information and some important details on a minimal level and may transfer from text to graphic form and from graphic form to text.

Standard 6

A student who has received an unsatisfactory proficiency rating may respond to obvious story elements at a literal level. The student may identify an obvious point of view in a simple text.

PARTIALLY PROFICIENT

Standard 1

A partially proficient student demonstrates limited use of strategies to comprehend reading materials by

- using context clues to determine word meanings
- inferring from information that is implied by not directly stated
- identifying the main idea
- summarizing limited ideas

Standard 4

A partially proficient student responds to a specific text by

- drawing conclusions from a simple text
- recognizing an authors purpose in non-fiction texts
- classifying information as either fact or opinion
- recognizing concrete ideas in poetry

Standard 5

A partially proficient student begins to identify and use information presented in the text.

- locating and selecting relevant information from non-fiction
- organizing information from a straightforward text
- identifying some organizational features of a text.

Standard 6

A partially proficient student demonstrated the ability to read and respond to literature by

- interpreting simple concepts in poetry or fiction
- identifying some similes

PROFICIENT

Standard 1

A proficient student uses appropriate reading strategies to demonstrate comprehension of a variety of reading selections

- determining the meaning of complex vocabulary in context
- drawing inferences from a variety of texts
- identifying main ideas and some supporting details
- summarizing main ideas

Standard 4

A proficient student demonstrates analysis of a text by

- drawing conclusions with multiple ideas based on simple and moderate-to-complex texts
- making predictions
- recognizing an author's point of view and purpose
- distinguishing between fact and opinion
- identifying some abstract ideas in poetry

Standard 5

A proficient student demonstrates the accurate use of information from a variety of reference sources by

- identifying purposes of non-fiction or technical writing
- organizing and synthesizing information from texts
- identifying organizational features of a text

Standard 6

A proficient student demonstrates the ability to read and respond to literature by

- identifying the use of figurative language
- identifying some abstract concepts in poetry

ADVANCED

Standard 1

An advanced student, when reading a variety of selections, uses multiple strategies to construct and demonstrate higher levels of comprehension.

- determining the meaning of complex vocabulary
- drawing inferences by creating connections between texts
- identifying essential details and main ideas
- justifying and supporting conclusions about text
- comparing texts with similar themes.

Standard 4

An advanced student responds to a specific text by

- making predictions from complex text
- determining an author's purpose and point of view
- distinguishing between fact and opinion in complex text
- analyzing poetry
- drawing conclusions, solving problems, and answering questions based on complex text

Standard 5

An advanced student demonstrates skill in finding and using information from a complex variety of sources by

- discovering applicable information in a text
- organizing and synthesizing information from complex texts
- identifying organizational features of a complex text
- finding pertinent information in a complex text

Standard 6

An advanced student demonstrates the ability to read and respond to literature by

- identifying and analyzing the use of figurative language in complex texts
- interpreting abstract concepts within a text.

Adopted by the State Board of Education September 9, 2000

UNSATISFACTORY

Standard 2

A student who has received an unsatisfactory proficiency rating may attempt to perform the writing tasks, but his or her writing displays the following characteristics:

- inaccurate and/or age-inappropriate vocabulary
- simple and repetitive sentence beginnings, structures, and lengths
- some unreadable portions
- lack of focus and organization
- mechanical or grammatical errors or both that impedes understanding

Standard 3

Given a sentence or paragraph, an unsatisfactory student displays little or no knowledge of sentence structure, verb usage, capitalization, and spelling. In independently written, unrevised narrative, expository, and descriptive paragraphs, the student's writing displays the following characteristics:

- limited word choice
- vague sentence structure
- language usage errors that severely impede understanding
- many illegible portions
- simple, repetitive sentences and/or many fragments and run-ons
- convention errors that make writing difficult to understand

PARTIALLY PROFICIENT

Standard 2

A partially proficient student attempts to perform the writing tasks, and his or her writing displays the following characteristics:

- meets a few requirements of the task
- identifies a general idea
- uses a few details that are not consistently on topic
- uses compositions that is mostly readable, but may be partially illegible

Standard 3

Given a sentence, paragraph, letter, or writing task, a partially proficient student shows knowledge of language conventions, including

- capitalization
- the correct forms of common irregular verbs
- the spelling and punctuation of commonly used contractions
- the comparison of commonly used adjectives

PROFICIENT

Standard 2

A proficient student uses the writing process (planning, drafting, revising, and editing) and applies thinking skills to produce writing that may entertain, persuade, inform and/or describe. A proficient student also demonstrates the ability to choose precise vocabulary in increasingly difficult writing selections. The student's writing

- occasionally engages audience interest
- mixes general and precise vocabulary
- uses composition that is generally fluent, readable, and neat
- demonstrates some sentence variety
- fulfills the purpose of the writing task
- defines but does not thoroughly organize and develop the topic
- shows some use of detail to support main ideas
- uses some transitions to link ideas

Standard 3

A proficient student identifies some parts of speech, including nouns and adjectives. Given sentence, paragraph, letter, or writing tasks, a proficient student demonstrates editing skills, including

- homonyms and homophones
- capitalization and punctuation
- verb tense in context
- subject/verb agreement
- correct use of pronouns, including pronoun and antecedent agreement
- sentence Structure
- comparisons of comparative and superlative adjectives and adverbs
- clauses and phrases

ADVANCED

Standard 2

An advanced student uses the writing process (planning, drafting, revising, and editing) and applies thinking skills to produce writing that may entertain, persuade, inform, and/or describe. The student's writing

- engages audience interest
- uses precise vocabulary with figurative language and imagery
- demonstrates a variety of sentence structures, beginnings, and lengths
- uses composition that is readable, fluent, and nearly error-free
- meets the requirements of the writing task
- defines, organizes, and develops the topic
- incorporates relevant details to support main ideas
- uses transitions to connect ideas

Standard 3

An advanced student identifies parts of speech, such as verbs, adjectives, adverbs, and pronouns. Given more complex sentences, paragraphs, letters, or writing tasks, the student demonstrates strong editing skills, including

- advanced vocabulary
- homonym usage
- capitalization and punctuation

Unsatisfactory

Standard 1: Number Sense

A student who has received a proficiency rating of unsatisfactory demonstrated minimal use of number sense and numbers by:

- Recognizing the correct operation to use, e.g., multiplication or division
- Using decimals in problem-solving situations

Standard 2: Patterns, Functions, and Algebra
A student who has received a proficiency rating of unsatisfactory demonstrated minimal use of algebraic methods to explore, model, and describe patterns and numeric sequences.

Standard 3: Data Analysis, Probability, and Statistics

A student who has received a proficiency rating of unsatisfactory demonstrated minimal use of data displays and analysis by:

- Reading, interpreting, describing, and comparing displays of data, such as line graphs, circle graphs, and bar graphs
- Drawing conclusions based on data analysis

Standard 4: Geometric Concepts

A student who has received a proficiency rating of unsatisfactory demonstrated minimal use of geometric concepts by:

- Recognizing a geometric shape, given a set of properties

Standard 5: Measurement

A student who has received a proficiency rating of unsatisfactory demonstrated minimal use of tools and techniques to measure by:

- Reading various scales on measurement tools
- Selecting and using appropriate tools to measure to the degree of accuracy required
- Using measures of perimeter

Standard 6: Operation and Calculation

A student who has received a proficiency rating of unsatisfactory demonstrated minimal use of computational techniques.

Partially Proficient

Standard 1: Number Sense

A student who has received a proficiency rating of partially proficient demonstrated limited use of number sense and numbers by:

- Recognizing the correct operation to use, e.g., multiplication or division
- Using decimals in problem-solving situations

Standard 2: Patterns, Functions, and Algebra

A student who has received a proficiency rating of partially proficient demonstrated limited use of algebraic methods to explore, model, and describe simple numeric patterns by:

- Recognizing, representing, and analyzing patterns and relationships using a table
- Constructing a graph from data in a table
- Recognizing when patterns exist and using that information in a problem-solving situation
- Using reading and reasoning skills in problem -solving situations

Standard 3: Data Analysis, Probability, and Statistics

A student who has received a proficiency rating of partially proficient demonstrated limited use of data displays and analysis and probability by:

- Reading, interpreting, describing, and comparing displays of data, such as line graphs, circle graphs, and bar graphs
- Drawing conclusions based on data analysis
- Using counting strategies to determine all the possible outcomes of process

Standard 4: Geometric Concepts

A student who has received a proficiency rating of partially proficient demonstrated limited use of geometric concepts and relationships by:

- Recognizing a geometric shape, given a set of properties
- Using and knowing basic geometric terminology
- Sketching two-dimensional models, using a variety of materials and tools

Standard 5: Measurement

A student who has received a proficiency rating of partially proficient demonstrated limited use of tools and techniques to measure by:

- Reading various scales on measurement tools
- Selecting and using appropriate tools to measure to the degree of accuracy required
- Using and describing measures of area and perimeter

Standard 6: Operation and Calculation

A student who has received a proficiency rating of partially proficient demonstrated limited use of computational techniques by:

- Constructing and using procedures to compute and estimate with whole numbers
- Distinguishing relevant information in a problem-solving situation

Proficient

Standard 1: Number Sense

A student who has received a proficiency rating of proficient demonstrated general use of number sense and numbers by:

- Demonstrating proper use of decimals to develop and communicate a conclusion in a problem-solving situation
- Recognizing relationships among fractions
- Comparing relative sizes of fractions using physical materials

Standard 2: Patterns, Functions, and Algebra

A student who has received a proficiency rating of proficient demonstrated general use of algebraic methods to explore, model, and describe simple numeric patterns and relationships by:

- Recognizing, representing, and analyzing patterns and functions in a problem-solving situation
- Writing algebraic sentences
- Analyzing functional relationships to explain how a change in one quantity results in a change in another

Standard 3: Data Analysis, Probability, and Statistics

A student who has received a proficiency rating of proficient demonstrated general use of data displays and analysis, statistics, and probability by:

- Evaluating arguments based on statistical claims
- Communicating the reasoning used in solving problems

Standard 4: Geometric Concepts

A student who has received a proficiency rating of proficient demonstrated general use of geometric concepts, relationships, and spatial reasoning by:

- Describing, analyzing, and reasoning informally about the properties of twodimensional figures
- Applying the concepts of ratio, proportion, and similarity in problem-solving situations
- Solving problems using coordinate geometry
- Solving problems involving perimeter and area
- Transforming geometric figures using reflections, translations, and/or rotations
- Communicating the reasoning used in solving problems through words, diagrams, charts, or calculations

Standard 5: Measurement

A student who has received a proficiency rating of proficient demonstrated general use of tools and techniques to measure by:

- Reading and interpreting various scales, including those based on number lines, graphs, and maps
- Estimating, making, and using direct and indirect measurements to describe and make comparisons
- Estimating, using and describing measures of distance, perimeter and/or area
- Demonstrating how a change in an object's linear dimensions affects its perimeter and area
- Communicating the reasoning used in solving problems through words, diagrams, charts, and calculations

Standard 6: Operation and Calculation

A student who has received a proficiency rating of proficient demonstrated general use of computational techniques by:

- Computing accurately, using whole numbers, fractions, decimals, integers, and exponents
- Selecting and using the correct operations with whole numbers and decimals in a problem-solving situation
- Communicating clearly the reasoning used in a problem-solving situation

Advanced

Standard 1: Number Sense

A student who has received a proficiency rating of advanced demonstrated superior use of number sense and numbers by:

- Estimating with rational numbers
- Ordering fractions and decimals by examining their relationship
- Applying number theory concepts to represents numbers in various ways
- Communicating clearly the reasoning used in a problem-solving situation

A more advanced student may also have demonstrated additional use of number sense by:

- Demonstrating the meaning of commonly used fractions, using physical materials

Standard 2: Patterns, Functions, and Algebra

A student who has received a proficiency rating of advanced demonstrated superior use of algebraic methods to explore, model, and describe patterns and functions by:

- Representing, describing, and analyzing patterns and relations using tables, graphs, and algebraic notations in real world situations
- Solving multi-step linear equations in problem-solving situations using a variety of methods

A more advanced student may also have demonstrated additional use of algebraic methods to explore, model, and describe patterns and functions by:

- Analyzing complex functional relationships
- Modeling real-world phenomena using functions and equations

Standard 3: Data Analysis, Probability, and Statistics

A student who has received a proficiency rating of advanced demonstrated superior use of data displays and analysis, statistics, and probability by:

- Using measures of central tendency, such as mean, median and mode
- Communicating clearly the reasoning used in solving problems
- Making predictions using theoretical probability drawn from real-world problems

A more advanced student may also have demonstrated additional use of data displays and analysis, statistics, and probability by:

- Solving real world problems with the informal use of combinations and permutations

Standard 4: Geometric Concepts

A student who has received a proficiency rating of advanced demonstrated superior use of geometric concepts, relationships, and spatial reasoning by:

- Comparing three-dimensional models
- Describing, analyzing, and reasoning informally about the properties of threedimensional figures
- Relating geometric ideas to measurement and number sense
- Solving problems involving surface area and/or volume
- Analyzing relationships between area and perimeter
- Using geometric concepts, properties and relationships in multi-step problem-solving situations
- Communicating clearly the reasoning used in solving problems

A more advanced student may also have demonstrated additional use of geometric concepts, relationships, and spatial reasoning by:

- Analyzing relationships between similar three-dimensional figures

Standard 5: Measurement

A student who has received a proficiency rating of advanced demonstrated superior use of tools and techniques to measure by:

- Developing and using formulas and procedures to solve problems involving measurement
- Estimating, making, and using direct and indirect measurements to describe and make comparisons in multi-step problem-solving situations
- Estimating, using and describing measures of distance, perimeter, area, volume, capacity, weight, mass, and/or angle comparison
- Describing how a change in an object's linear dimensions affects its perimeter, area, and volume in problem-solving situations
- Communicating clearly the reasoning used in solving these

Standard 6: Operation and Calculation

A student who has received a proficiency rating of advanced demonstrated superior use of computational techniques by:

- Computing accurately, using whole numbers, fractions, decimals, integers, exponents, and percents
- Estimating with nonstandard units in a problem-solving situation
- Computing accurately with the order of operations

Unsatisfactory

Standard 1: Scientific Investigation

A student who has received a proficiency rating of unsatisfactory may demonstrate evidence of minimal knowledge of scientific investigation by:

- Identifying a scientific question
- Matching numerical data to a graph

Standard 2: Physical Science

A student who has received a proficiency rating of unsatisfactory may demonstrate evidence of minimal knowledge of physical science concepts by:

- Measuring basic physical properties of matter

Standard 3: Life Science

A student who has received a proficiency rating of unsatisfactory may demonstrate evidence of minimal knowledge of life science concepts and vocabulary.

Standard 4: Earth and Space Science

A student who has received a proficiency rating of unsatisfactory may demonstrate evidence of minimal knowledge of Earth and space science concepts and vocabulary.

Standard 5: Interrelationships

A student who has received a proficiency rating of unsatisfactory may demonstrate evidence of minimal knowledge of interrelationships among science, technology, and human activity.

Standard 6: Connections

- A student who has received a proficiency rating of unsatisfactory may demonstrate evidence of minimal knowledge of connections among scientific disciplines by:
- Identifying variables (conditions related to change in an experiment)

Partially Proficient

Standard 1: Scientific Investigation

A student who has received a proficiency rating of partially proficient may demonstrate evidence of limited knowledge of scientific investigation by:

- Extrapolating from a graph
- Stating a hypothesis
- Describing a relationship between variables
- Matching non-numerical data to a graph

Standard 2: Physical Science

A student who has received a proficiency rating of partially proficient may demonstrate evidence of limited knowledge of physical science concepts by:

- Identifying changes caused by the application of external force on matter
- Identifying a chemical or a physical change within a system

Standard 3: Life Science

A student who has received a proficiency rating of partially proficient may demonstrate evidence of limited knowledge of life science concepts and vocabulary by:

- Identifying structure and function of body parts
- Recognizing the pathway of matter/energy through an ecosystem

Standard 4: Earth and Space Science

A student who has received a proficiency rating of partially proficient may demonstrate evidence of limited knowledge of Earth and space science concepts and vocabulary.

Standard 5: Interrelationships

A student who has received a proficiency rating of partially proficient may demonstrate evidence of limited knowledge of interrelationships among science, technology, and human activity.

Standard 6: Connections

A student who has received a proficiency rating of partially proficient may demonstrate evidence of limited knowledge of connections among scientific disciplines.

Proficient

Standard 1: Scientific Investigation

A student who has received a proficiency rating of proficient may demonstrate evidence of general knowledge of an experimental design by:

- Identifying, writing, and explaining a testable hypothesis
- Identifying experimental variables and analyzing relationships
- Understanding that reliability of results is dependent on volume of data
- Identifying and applying relevant data
- Forming predictions from data
- Formulating a conclusion based on data
- Constructing a graph with minimal errors from given data

Standard 2: Physical Science

A student who has received a proficiency rating of proficient may demonstrate evidence of general knowledge of physical science concepts by:

- Identifying a chemical or physical change using words, diagrams, graphs, or models
- Identifying what will change and what will remain unchanged when matter experiences an external force
- Recognizing how mixtures can be separated based on their properties
- Recognizing quantities (force, velocity, acceleration) that explain the motion and interactions of objects within a system

Standard 3: Life Science

A student who has received a proficiency rating of proficient may demonstrate evidence of general knowledge of life science concepts and vocabulary by:

- Describing the structure and function of body system
- Recognizing the relationship among organisms in their ecosystem
- Identifying the role of genes and chromosomes in heredity
- Tracing the pathway of matter/energy through an ecosystem

Standard 4: Earth and Space Science
A student who has received a proficiency rating of proficient may demonstrate evidence of general knowledge of Earth and space science concepts and vocabulary by:

- Comparing the physical characteristics of major objects in the solar system
- Recognizing major natural processes that shape Earth's surface

Standard 5: Interrelationships

A student who has received a proficiency rating of proficient may demonstrate evidence of general knowledge of interrelationships among science, technology, and human activity and how they affect the world by:

- Understanding the role of technology in preventing the spread of disease

Standard 6: Connections

A student who has received a proficiency rating of proficient may demonstrate evidence of general knowledge of connections by:

- Identifying controls (parts of an experiment that must be kept the same)

Advanced

Standard 1: Scientific Investigation

A student who has received a proficiency rating of advanced may demonstrate evidence of superior knowledge of experimental design by:

- Representing data accurately on a graph
- Analyzing data and communicating predictions made from the data
- Evaluating and critiquing experimental design

A more advanced student may also demonstrate evidence of additional knowledge of experimental design by"

- Understanding the impact of changing multiple variables in experimental designs
- Demonstrating a variety of approaches to problem solving

Standard 2: Physical Science

A student who has received a proficiency rating of advanced may demonstrate evidence of superior knowledge of physical science concepts by:

- Describing qualitative relationships associated with energy transfer
- Identifying factors (forces) that cause change in a system
- Describing quantities (forces, energy) that explain the motion and interactions of objects within a system
- Classifying and analyzing substances based on common physical and chemical properties
- Explaining the concept of conservation of mass within a closed system
- Classifying matter in terms of elements, compounds, mixtures, atoms, and molecules

A more advanced student may also demonstrate evidence of additional knowledge of physical science concepts by:

- Describing the laws of conservation of matter and energy

Standard 3: Life Science

A student who has received a proficiency rating of advanced may demonstrate evidence of superior knowledge of life science concepts and vocabulary by:

- Interpreting the relationship among a variety of organisms in their ecosystem
- Differentiating among life cycles of organisms
- Tracing the pathway of energy (food) in living things
- Recognizing characteristics of different groups of organisms

Standard 4: Earth and Space Science

A student who has received a proficiency rating of advanced may demonstrate evidence of superior knowledge of Earth and space science concepts and vocabulary by:

- Explaining how rocks are formed and change
- Identifying the composition, properties, and structure of Earth's atmosphere
- Integrating the water cycle with physical science
- Interpreting evidence that supports plate tectonics
- Recognizing relative size and distance in space

Standard 5: Interrelationships

A student who has received a proficiency rating of advanced may demonstrate evidence of superior knowledge of interrelationships among science, technology, and human activity and how they affect the world by:

- Communicating knowledge of the difference between renewable and nonrenewable resources, their origins and uses
- Analyzing how technology is used to convert energy from a natural source to a consumable form
- Interpreting the impact of the use of technology on the environment

Standard 6: Connections

A student who has received a proficiency rating of advanced may demonstrate evidence of superior knowledge of connections among scientific disciplines.

[^0]:    ${ }^{1}$ The results on student performance by separate disabling condition shown in the tables should be interpreted with caution. There was a slight discrepancy in the number of students with disabilities reported on the December 1999 Federal count and that reported on the March 2000 CSAP. This discrepancy should be taken into account when drawing inferences based on these data.

[^1]:    ${ }^{2}$ Although the numbers in the table for Proficient and for Advanced sum to 70\%, in fact statewide there were $69 \%$ of students in these combined categories. For the Proficient category $62.7 \%$ has been rounded to $63 \%$; for Advanced, $6.5 \%$ has been rounded to $7 \%$; for Proficient and Advanced, $62.7+6.5=69.2$ which has been rounded to $69 \%$.
