Colorado Traveling Library Commission

December 1, 1908 – December 1, 1910

ACT CREATING THE COMMISSION

The act creating the Colorado Traveling Library Commission was introduced in the Fourteenth General Assembly by Senator Hume Lewis of Pueblo, was passed by that body and was signed by Governor James H. Peabody, April 13, 1903. and became a law July 1, 1903. The act is herewith appended.

(S. B. 167, by Senator Hume Lewis.)

An act for the establishment and maintenance of a system of free traveling libraries in the State of Colorado and appropriate money for the support of the same.

Be It Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

Section 1. That there be and hereby is created a board to be known and entitled, "The Colorado Traveling Library Commission," which shall consist of five members, who shall serve without salaries and any compensation whatsoever, and who shall be appointed by the Governor in the manner following, from a list of names which shall be submitted to him by the Executive Board of the Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs. The Colorado Traveling Library Commission shall go into operation on July 1, A. D. 1903, and the terms of office of the members thereof shall date from July 1.

Sec. 2. That the first board hereby provided shall serve as follows: The first two persons selected by the Governor from a list of names submitted to him by the Executive Board of the Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs shall serve for one year; the second two persons selected by the Governor from a list of names submitted to him by the Executive Board of the Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs shall serve for a period of two years. The other members selected by the Governor from a list of names submitted to him by the Executive Board of the Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs shall serve for a period of three years; that upon the expiration of the terms of office of the members of the first board, appointments shall be made by the Governor as herein provided from a list of names submitted to him by the Executive Board of the Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs, and the terms thereafter shall be for a period of three years or until their successors, respectively, are appointed and qualified.

Sec. 3. That the said Colorado Traveling Library Commission shall have power to take and to hold, in the name of the State of Colorado, title to all books, property and apparatus acquired by purchase or otherwise, and to do any and all things necessary to carry out the intention of this act to create and to keep in operation free traveling libraries for the State of Colorado; to make such reasonable rules and regulations for the government and control of said libraries, and of other property, as it may deem necessary and proper; that under such regulations as it may prescribe, the said Commission is required to send out and keep in circulation among the people of this State such books as may be required in any manner for the circulating libraries, and such books, when so sent out, shall be kept for the general use of the public, and said Commission shall distribute the libraries and at intervals change said libraries in such manner as to secure in the most practical manner the free use and enjoyment of said libraries by the people of the State.

Sec. 6. Approved April 13, 1903.

PURPOSE OF THE COMMISSION.

The purpose of the Commission, as expressed in the law, is to maintain the Colorado Free Traveling Library system, through which books and magazines should be accessible to every community in the State, subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as will secure in the most practical manner the free use and enjoyment of said libraries by the people of this State.

AIMS OF THE COMMISSION.

The aims of the Commission are to make the Traveling Library of the greatest usefulness, by finding out the needs of the community or district where the boxes are to be sent, and as far as possible supply these needs, to help small public libraries in getting on their feet, by supplying recent fiction. thus making it possible for them to invest their funds in reference and other books that are necessary in establishing a permanent library, to lend books to study clubs that can not get the material for their work, to co-operate with the teacher in the rural school in developing the children's reasoning power by placing in their hands good wholesome reading matter, thus guiding the children to the right sort of reading and creating in them the love for and the habit of reading good books. In fact, we aim to place within the reach of the citizens of every town in the State, no matter how small or how remote from the centers of civilization, one of our compact little traveling library boxes, and ultimately to have more good books read per capita than in any other state in the Union.

If the citizens who have access to fine buildings, and to the wealth of books so freely distributed through the libraries in the cities, could see the desolation of some of the people not so blessed, and their eagerness to avail themselves of the slightest opportunity, the city people would appreciate far more the great privilege they have and be more ready to help those less fortunate. A well known Denver woman told me that when she was living high up among our snow clad peaks, that all the printed matter that she saw of any kind while in her mountain home was a few standard volumes brought from her eastern home. These were read and re-read until they were worn outthe only way of leaving the mine for the greater part of the year was on snow shoes. A little girl of twelve in one of our rural schools went into hysteria when given a fairy book, and was told that she might take it home to read. She said that she had never had a story book all her own to read before in her life. Another woman wrote that until magazines and papers were sent them by the Traveling Library she had not seen a paper for eighteen months. These are but a few of many cases that come to our notice. The same conditions exist out on the plains, where the people living on the ranches are often 75 miles from a railroad.

APPOINTEES ON THE COMMISSION.

Governor Shafroth re-appointed Mrs. A. M. Welles for a term of three years, commencing July 1, 1910. Mrs. P. J. McHugh of Fort Collins was appointed in place of Mrs. M. A. B. Conine, recently deceased.

IN MEMORIAM.

In the death of Mrs. Martha A. B. Conine, who had rendered valuable service as First Vice-President of the Traveling Library Commission for nearly four years, the Commission in common with the rest of the community feel that they have sustained the loss of one of their noblest women. Foremost in all work that was for the upbuilding of Colorado, the State she loved so well. God grant that from the splendor of the light into which she has gone there will forever stream and radiate the consciousness of herself and of her work.

MARTHA A. B. CONINE, The First Vice-President Traveling Library Commission.

INCREASE OF TRAVELING LIBRARIES.

The Commission has completed the seventh year of its work as a State Commission, previous to which its work had been carried on for two years by a committee from the State Federation of Women's Clubs. The Traveling Libraries have increased since our last report from 216 boxes of fifty volumes each to 241 boxes, with the same number of books in each box, an increase of 25 boxes. The total number of boxes are valued at $12,000. Of these, 96 are juvenile and 145 miscellaneous boxes. In spite of the rapid increase in the number of boxes, the supply is still not equal to the demand, there being 8 unfilled applications on our list, owing to a lack of boxes, as this report goes to press.

RULES GOVERNING STATE TRAVELING LIBRARIES.

1. The person to whom this box is sent shall be held personally responsible for the safe return of its contents.

2. This box of books is free to the public. No charge is made by the State for its use, and no charge is to be made by any person in authority, except to replace books lost or destroyed.

3. The only requirement made by the State is that this box and contents be returned at the end of six months in as good condition as when received, barring natural wear and tear.

4. If a book is lost, one of the same standard and in equally good condition must be substituted for it.

5. In order that the person in charge of a box may protect themselves, they should loan only to persons known to them, or to those presenting satisfactory references. A second book should not be loaned to any person until the first is returned in as good condition as when loaned.

6. These books have been given by friends of free libraries. The State asks all borrowers to treat them well, for the sake of those to whom they may give pleasure and profit after leaving you.

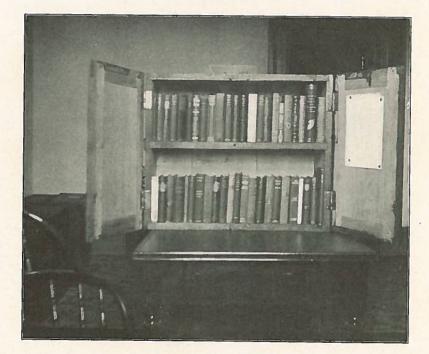

7. Address all communications and applications to the president, stating whether you wish a miscellaneous, a juvenile or a reference box. Always state what road you are on, and exactly how to direct box.

8. Return all boxes to transportation clerk by freight, Room 10, Capitol building, care Colorado Traveling Library Commission. Notify her of the return of a box and enclose bill of lading. Always advise her of the receipt of a box, otherwise she has no means of knowing that it has reached its destination.

9. Always return boxes by freight.

A BOX OF BOOKS FROM THE TRAVELING LIBRARY READ FOR ITS MISSION OF EDUCATION.

"He ate and drank the precious words, His spirit grew robust, He knew no more that he was poor, Nor that his frame was dust; He danced along the dingy ways, And this bequest of wings Was but a book. What liberty A loosened spirit brings!"

10. Do not fasten boxes with nails—it damages them very materially. Proper bolts for fastening are always sent with each box.

11. State whether you are willing to pay transportation charges or not.

12. A second box will not be sent to any one failing to comply with these rules.

APPLICATION BLANK.

Signed.....

I recommend the above applicant as a responsible person and promise to make good to the library any loss that may be occasioned by his failure to comply with the above requirements.

Signed.....

Application blanks will be furnished upon application to the Transportation Clerk, Miss Carrie M. Cushing, Room 10, Capitol Bldg.

BRANCHES OF THE WORK.

First—We have the miscellaneous boxes, composed of recent fiction, with a judicious admixture of travel, history, biography and sociology, intended for the general public and suited to the general taste. Each box contains fifty books.

Second—The juvenile boxes, composed entirely of the best juvenile books, chosen with a view to their relation to the school work, as well as to the tastes and ages of the children generally. These are for use in the country schools, Sunday schools, and the industrial schools. There are also fifty books in each of these boxes.

Third—Small collections of reference books for the use of clubs and study classes. If you write for books of this class you must be resigned to some delay, for they often have to be ordered from the East.

Fourth—Magazines and paper-bound books. These are shipped to farmers, millmen, railroad men, barns, hospitals, engine houses, stations, jails, reformatories and prisons.

Fifth—Leaflets for the sick. Sent to hospitals, relief corps and societies, and branches of the Sunshine Society. These leaflets are short stories taken from the magazines and daintily mounted in such a way that invalids and convalescents can hold them without becoming tired.

SPECIAL BOXES.

Much interest has been manifested during the past year in preparing boxes along specific lines, and placing them in the hands of a librarian, who will send them to clubs and individuals studying along certain lines. For instance, the art committee to have charge of books upon art; teachers' box, prepared for teachers, in charge of county superintendent; household economics committee, books upon their work; outlook and extension books to help students along their line of work; forestry committee, books upon forestry; and the different circles of the Mothers' Congress, books to help both mother and child. A Health box, in which are books upon the prevention and care of tuberculosis.

BOX FOR THE BLIND.

A feature of the annual meeting of the Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs was the presenting of a traveling library box filled with books for the adult blind, and named in honor of their retiring president, "Gertrude Bullen Hollister." This box is to be part of the Traveling Library system, but will be placed for distribution in the hands of Dr. Argo, at the school for the Deaf and Blind at Colorado Springs.

DISTRIBUTION OF PERIODICALS.

Three thousand magazines and unbound books have been distributed since our last report. We do not require that these be returned, but that they be used and passed on until they are worn out—thus enabling a score of readers to see them before they become waste paper. There is no more valuable material for reference work that that found in periodical literature, which often contains material not found in any other form. If you have a magazine which you have read, pass it on. You can do this by sending it to Room 10, Capitol building.

A FEW EXPRESSIONS QUOTED FROM LETTERS RE-CEIVED.

"Up here in this stormy, snow-bound country the luxuries of life are somewhat limited, and the magazines, books and papers are good material for occupying the mind, and many pleasant hours will be spent as a result of the kindness of the C. T. L. C."

"If the traveling libraries you send elsewhere are as much appreciated as the ones I have charge of here in Pine Grove. the club women certainly are doing a great and a glorious work."

"For every book I have given out I have said, "The Colorado Traveling Library Commission send these gratis,' and they all reply, 'How very kind!' So, you see, kind, grateful thoughts are vibrating toward you, and the snow-capped peaks which stand between us can not keep these vibrations from reaching you."

"The books were greatly enjoyed; in fact, they have been in constant use since their receipt. Another box of the same kind will be greatly appreciated."

"The Colorado Traveling Library Commission has not only been a great aid, but the whole thing for communities far removed from Carnegie and other libraries, and the longer it lives the more firmly will its merits be appreciated by the people."

"I wish you might know what a treasure your box has been to us, how it has been appreciated, with what enthusiasm received, with what eagerness read, and how thankful we all are to you."

"The Traveling Library Box arrived three weeks ago, and I assure you it is a boon to this village."

"Through the Traveling Library our community for several years has been provided with a high standard of literature, appreciated by the adult and juvenile, the summer guests, the shutins, and most by the students from the School of Mines, who convene here during the summer."

"We rank the Traveling Library as among the strongest educational agencies. The fact that tired miners, who find it as hard to read as to dig coal, will take these books home or to the reading room and read them, is one of the strongest evidences of the good work that the books are doing."

"Sterling, Logan Co.—We have had a number of the Federation libraries in this county and have enjoyed them more than we can tell. I am setting on foot a movement among my teachers to collect from them fifty good teachers' books to be donated to the Federation for a strictly Teachers' Box. Would this be acceptable? If the books were sent to you would you furnish the case and name it 'Logan County Teachers?' I should like to hear from you."

"Dear Mrs. Welles—I want to thank you for the books that I have read out of your library. I have read 'Blue Fairy Book,' 'Little Women' and Longfellow's poems. I like the stories very much. Miss Graham has read some of the books to us. Miss Graham is my teacher. I liked 'Little Women' the best of all.

"Yours truly,

"GERTRUDE HARRISON, "Blend School."

"Dear Mrs. Julia Welles—I have read some stories from the 'Blue Fairy Book,' out of the Traveling Library. I have read 'Snow White and Rose Red,' 'The Forty Thieves,' 'Hans and Gretchen,' 'The Sleeping Beauty in the Woods,' 'The Tales of a

"EDNA WAYBRIGHT."

"Soldiers' Home, Monte Vista—I am constantly being asked by the men when we can have a new box of books. We have not a complete set of Dickens in the library, and I was wondering if a set might not be put in the boxes. This idea is such a good one and the men so thoroughly appreciate having the books sent them in this way. They seem to like the air of freshness that the new books bring."

Oak Creek, Routt Co., Colo., Dec. 6, 1910.

To The Colorado Traveling Library Commission.

Denver, Colorado.

Dear Friends—The two boxes of books were here when I returned a few days ago, and I thank you.

The books are on the reading room shelves and already half a dozen are in circulation. Thank you specially for the indexed records, which will be carefully kept. Accept my appreciation for the book of poems.

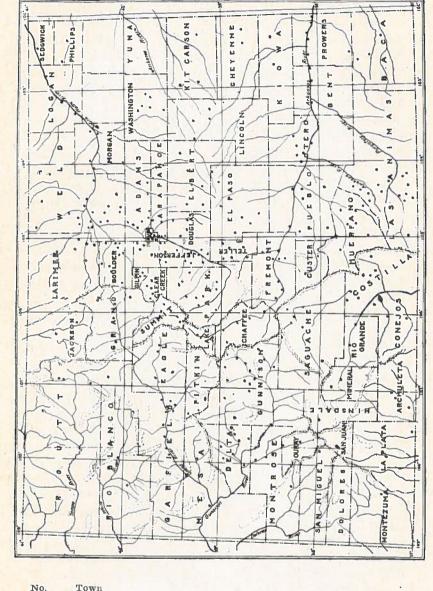

Your work is certainly very fine and very productive for individual and community good wherever books go-many fallow minds stimulated to thinking.

Very truly yours,

(REV.) W. D. J. HARRIS.

TOWNS VISITED BY THE LIBRARIES.

The essential principle in the traveling library system is economy. We endeavor to get the best reading for the largest number at the least cost. After the boxes have been used for a given period by one community, they are sent back, checked over, put in good repair, and sent out for service in other fields. thus keeping interest alive at every point. Books which used to become a back number after a few readings are now worn out in actual service. 300 in the State have been visited by traveling libraries. An increase of 100 towns since our last report; every county in the State has been visited by the boxes except Dolores. They are as follows:

Colorado Federation of Women's Club Sends Box of Books and Will Exchange Them as Needed.

Recognizing the need of a free public library in Lafayette The News some time ago wrote to the Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs for one of their traveling libraries. The first box was received this week and will be kept until all have had a chance to read any of the books it contains. While there are only about fifty titles, the list is quite well selected and will prove of real value to those who desire to read the best of modern fiction. There is no charge of any kind on these books, but those who desire to do so may contribute either money or ORIGIN AND GROWTH OF TRAVELING LIBRARIES IN COLORADO.

America was the first country in the world to conceive the idea of a free school within reasonable reach of every child. If the plain people of America are at all superior in general intelligence to corresponding classes in the rest of the world it is undoubtedly due to the consistent pursuit of that ideal throughout our history. In 1892 Melvie C. Dewey, State Librarian at Albany, New York, assisted the club women of New York to put in operation the traveling library system now so widely used in America. This idea he borrowed from Australia, to which country belongs the honor of having devised and put in operation the traveling library system. This idea is supplementary to that of the public school and rendered necessary by it. The development since 1892 of this system of the placing of a public collection of good books within reasonable reach of every citizen is almost incredible. In the great movement to make the public library as common as the public school in America, Colorado has borne her part. In 1899, the Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs, at its annual meeting, voted $50 with which to purchase and start on its mission of education the first traveling library box. In 1903, through the efforts of the club women, the library was made a State institution and the Federation turned over to the State the $4,000 worth of books and boxes which it had accumulated. Since then the State has accumulated 171 boxes, making a total number of 242 at the present writing. These boxes go into communities 100 miles from the railroad at times. They have gone into counties in Colorado in which there has not only never been a library but never a bookstore in the history of the county. They go to remote hamlets and school houses, to struggling frontier churches, mining camps and lonely ranches; they are taken charge of by teachers, school superintendents, clergymen. Sunday schools, editors, station agents, professional men, club women, mine superintendents, postmasters and farmers' wives. They go to the high hills where the people are almost cut off from communication with the outside world during the long winter months. They supplement the history and geography lessons of the country school house with bright, readable books on the subject which fill the growing minds of the country children of Colorado with ideas and information which they could attain in no other way. Through the encouragement of a box of fresh books coming in every six months, a remarkable number of small, local, libraries and reading rooms have been established over Colorado, in places so small and new that one would not expect to find them there. It is not for the communityamply able to provide its own library facilities that the traveling library is designed. It is for the people who will in no other way have access to a public collection of books. It is an institution of incomparable educational value in a young State of vast distances and shifting population. Its benefits are being worked into the civilization of Colorado, into the mind and character of the people and the type of citizen she is developing. The ninety juvenile boxes are filled with the best known books for children, selected largely from suggestive lists sent in by teachers. The boxes for adults contain the best current fiction and standard novels, and works upon history, biography, travel, science, art, lit erature and sociology. When the boxes first were sent out each book was read from one to three times. The present average is from one to seven times. Children who had never before in their lives seen a story book have received them from our libraries, people hundreds of miles from any public library have had their minds broadened and their lives enriched by the visits of our little boxes. Surely this is a work worthy of a great State, a work which only a highly civilized people could conceive and carry out, and it has had its effect upon other States. The traveling library of Rhode Island was started by the club women of that State after consultation with the chairman of the Colorado Traveling Library Commission. A missionary in India first heard of traveling libraries in Colorado and made inquiries preparatory to starting them in that country. Nevertheless Colorado is dishearteningly behind other States in this work. States far older and more thickly settled than Colorado and needing traveling libraries correspondingly less have systems which dwarf that of Colorado. New York State has thousands of boxes in circulation in her rural communities and the headquarters of the work occupies one floor of one wing of the great capitol at Albany. There in the packing room one may see men working all day, lifting and trucking the boxes, manual labor too heavy to be suitably performed by women, as it is in our Colorado office. In Kansas the traveling library, modeled originally on ours, has a suite of three handsome rooms, which is one of the show places of the capitol. It has an annual appropriation of $3,000 for books and expenses entirely aside from salaries. It pays a librarian $1,000 per year and employs two stenographers and a man for heavy work. The Colorado commission has no stenographer, no man for heavy work, no paid employe, but one shipping clerk at $40 per month. The State Teachers' Association, which met in Denver in November, voted to ask for the enactment of legislation which would insure the privileges of the traveling library to school districts of the third class. This was spontaneous action, unsought by the commission to seek to push the work, for it has no means or facilities to meet the demand which instantly results. On one occasion the chairman of the commission wrote to the County Superintendent of Schools of Logan county, explaining the work. A response came immediately for 48 boxes for circulation among the schools of that county. The commission had only five on hand with which to fill this request. Under such limitations an attempt to widen the field of the library's usefulness is out of the question. All that is possible is to keep up with the demand which the people themselves make as knowledge of the library passes from one to another.

The friends of library extension will this session introduce a bill to amend the Constitution in such a way as to make it possible to create the office of State Librarian, and place all of the library activities of the State in charge of this officer. Our State library work would then be on a par with that of other States. Under this new head would be placed the State Library (now in charge of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction), the Traveling Library (the Commission going out of existence), the Historical Society, the Teachers' Reading Circle, and the Library Commission; there would be established a Legislative Reference Department, a Library Training School and any other library activities that might be demanded by the people. A Legislative Reference Department-modeled after that department in the Wisconsin Library-which has proved to be of immense value to the Legislature of Wisconsin, has been demanded by the legislators of Colorado. A bill for the establishment of such a department was introduced by Senator De Long at the last General Assembly, but failed of passage. A Library Training School is much needed in Colorado at present; all trained Librarians must now be supplied from outside the State. Such a school could be maintained at little expense, as the students could get their practical training by performing the lib rary work of the State, under professional guidance. May we hope that after reading our report the members of the Eighteenth General Assembly will be convinced of its value to the extent that they will be willing to recommend to the people the passage of the amendment to the Constitution as introduced at this session.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Federation Committee that will co-operate with the Traveling Library Commission are as follows: Miss Carrie Cushing, Denver; Mrs. Katherine Thompson, Denver; Mrs. E. A. Sawyer, Colorado Springs; Mrs. Dexter T. Sapp, Gunnison.

Office of the Commission, Room 10, Capitol Building.

Regular meetings of the Traveling Library Commission will be held subject to the call of the President.

AN URGENT REQUEST.

Will patrons of the Traveling Library bear in mind that, under all circumstances, boxes must be returned by "Freight"? Address all boxes to Room 10, Capitol Building, care of Colorado Traveling Library Commission.
