Highlighting — Your Next Book to Read

Having trouble getting books you like? We have strategies...

I know some of us here select a book for ourselves and then find we don't like it. When we assess our "batting average" we think it's about 80% good ones. So don't be discouraged if you get a book you don't like. Just send it back. There is no rule that you have to finish a book you start. I know I don't.

5 strategies to getting the book you want:

- Don't like it? Send it back pronto!
- Call the reader advisors to adjust your reading interests.
- Establish a request list — call us with titles, authors or series you want.
- Let us know what you don't want.
- Try some read-a-likes.

Bonus tip — stay in touch, call us if you are having problems and we will do our best to help. We are here to be bothered!

My next reads are:

- Rough Beauty: Forty Seasons of Mountain Living
by Karen Auvinen
- The Raven Tower by Anne Leckie

CTBL will be closed on the following days in 2019 & 2020:
September 2nd; November 28th, 29th; December 24th, 25th; January 1st

From the Director

A good time was had by all who came to the patron open house. We had Mix and Mingle tables where patrons could meet and talk with one another and indulge in yummy treats. We also celebrated the 50th anniversary of the lunar landing with activities which included Oreos as well as a presentation from Ginny Quaney who is an aerospace engineer. Many checked out the studio and did some recording themselves. This year we had a patron come from 130 miles away to visit with the reader advisors.

Check out the Friends of CTBL Facebook page or follow on Twitter.

11th Patron Open House — A Success

We masterminded a thank you photo to include in the thank you letter sent to our legislators. They supported CTBL in the last legislative session. Here is the photo and it is also posted on the website:

CTBL Community Reads

Circe — DB090711 & PR028919 & BR022648

Author: Madeline Miller  Narrator: Perdita Weeks

Length: 12 hours, 11 minutes  Bestseller

In the house of Helios, god of the sun and mightiest of the Titans, a daughter is born. But Circe is a strange child—not powerful, like her father, nor viciously alluring like her mother. Turning to the world of mortals for companionship, she discovers that she does possess power—which can transform rivals into monsters and menace the gods themselves. To protect what she loves most, Circe must summon all her strength and choose, once and for all, whether she belongs with the gods she is born from, or the mortals she has come to love. Fiction. 2018. Award winner

She Has Her Mother's Laugh: The Powers, Perversions, and Potential of Heredity — DB091420

Author: Carl Zimmer  Narrator: Joe Ochman

Length: 20 hours, 35 minutes

New York Times columnist and science writer Carl Zimmer presents a history of the human understanding of heredity and how it has shaped society, chronicling the transitions brought about by genetic research and making predictions about how evolving understandings are likely to impact the future. Weaving historical and current scientific research, his own experience with his two daughters, and original reporting, Zimmer ultimately unpacks urgent bioethical quandaries arising from new technologies, but also long-standing presumptions about who we really are and what we can pass on to future generations. Commercial audiobook. Non-fiction. 2018. Award winner

Duplication on Demand – DOD – Coming This Fall

What is DOD you ask? It is a service model where customized cartridges are created for patrons with multiple books on them.

This will allow you to have lots of books with no waiting for a book title. By giving you more books on each cartridge, it will also help alleviate problems with slow mail delivery.

All BARD and download only books will now be accessible to all patrons. Books from your request list will be duplicated to the cartridges, so please keep a request list with lot of titles on it. If there is nothing on your request list, the computer will select from your reading interests.

The bookshelf feature now defaults to sequential play so you don't have to worry about not being able to use this feature.

If you want to select your book, hold the play/stop button down until you go into bookshelf mode. Then navigate forward and back with the fast forward and rewind keys to hear the books on the cartridge. When you get to a book you want to listen to, just push the play/stop button again.

Another big change is that you can keep the mail card. No need to turn it over to send the container back. The card will have the list of the first 8 books on the cartridge.

If you want to be part of the first patrons to test DOD, please call Cris or Kay to sign up. If at any point you have issues with DOD, please call and talk to Cris or Kay for help.

Resource of Interest – Phamaly Webinar Series

Phamaly Theatre Company hosts Disability Etiquette OR How to be a Good _____ to a Person with a Disability! There are six episodes in the series and cover customer, friend, lover, ride share diver, Santa and Stranger. You can find the series here:

<https://www.phamaly.org/disability-etiquette>

Resource of Interest — Communications Technology Program

The Colorado Department of Human Services supports the Communications Technology Program (CTP). CTP provides communications resources and tools, such as amplified and captioned phones, smartphones and tablets, as well as ring signalers and neck loops or head sets and specialized equipment at no charge to qualified deaf, hard of hearing and deafblind. This technology gives a person access to family and the community at large. The program will update the list of what devices are available as needed. Find more information here:

<https://ccdhh.com/index.php/ctprogram/>

Tech Talk — Assistive Technology Devices

AT (Assistive Technology) Devices are items or equipment that increase, maintain, or improve the functional capabilities of persons with disabilities. Some devices for persons with low-vision are magnifiers, CCTVs, talking watches, large button phones, etc.

CTBL occasionally receives gently used AT Devices that are no longer needed. We would love to be able to pass these items on to patrons or others who will use them. Currently we have 3 or 4 CCTVs and some other devices waiting for their next home.

Call the library at 800-685-2136, if you are interested in learning more about the devices we currently have available.

Here is an example

Resource of Interest — Are you a Veteran with a Visual Impairment?

Did you know that the Department of Veterans Affairs provides health and rehabilitative services to help you overcome the everyday challenges of vision loss? All U.S. military veterans, whether they served during war or peace, whether service connected or non-service connected may be eligible.

VIST Coordinators are case managers who coordinate services for veterans with vision problems that impact their safety and independence. They can assist with: VA Eligibility and enrollment Review of veteran's benefits, Referrals to VA inpatient, outpatient and in home programs for assessments and training. All adaptive aids recommended during training are provided to Veterans as part of their rehabilitation program.

For more information, contact the Visual Impairment Services Team (VIST) Coordinator nearest you:

Wanted — Finished reading your books & magazines?

Please send them back when you have finished reading. Other patrons may be waiting to read those titles. And for the newsletters and magazines the cartridges need to be reused.

Magazine list is available on request.

Volunteers — To Serve is Beautiful

"To serve is beautiful, but only if it is done with joy and a whole heart and a free mind."

— Pearl S. Buck

The CTBL Open House is a success because of the many volunteers who give their time freely so we can open our doors to our visitors. The joy and energy they bring to volunteering energize and encourages our staff.

Olga is one of those people who have made a difference from the minute she joined our team! She has demonstrated a willingness to do whatever it takes to make the library better. She is like a whirlwind with cleaning and organizing this place and keeps us all smiling while she does it! What did we do before Olga came along?

Mike C has documented many CTBL events by photographing those special moments. He went above and beyond this year to take the group picture of patrons, staff, and volunteers to thank our Colorado Legislators for their support of CTBL. It requires an artistic eye, a calm voice, and a steady hand to capture everyone smiling at the same time. Thanks, Mike, for giving us this "Kodak moment."

Alexis and Paulette were the ultimate partners who assembled packets, made numerous signs, cut out arrows of every size and direction, bought jumbo boxes of Oreos, got a banner printed, dispensed cheerful words of encouragement, and worked for weeks to make our Open House a success. What a dynamic duo to work with!

Chris, Dmitry, Roy, Travis, and Daniel provided the manpower to move every piece of furniture to set up for the Open House. It was organized chaos, but because of you, we got it done!

We highlighted just a few folks but there were so many more people who joyfully helped us put on this year's Open House. They whole-heartedly gave their best and made the day special for everyone. We couldn't have done it without everyone!

Protect Your Economic Identity!

By Kim Charlson

The ACB Braille Forum March 2019 Volume LVII March 2019 No. 9
Published by the American Council of the Blind

I have heard from many people who are blind around the country who have experienced identity theft, or who have had their economic security jeopardized by a corporate security breach. As people who are blind, we often rely to some extent on the assistance of others to conduct our financial business. Whether you rely on a family member, friend, or volunteer to read mail, write checks, make deposits or withdrawals from your bank or ATM machine, I encourage you to be vigilant and take steps to protect your economic identity.

Let me share with you some resources that you may use to protect yourself from identity theft. As a result of structured negotiation by the American Council of the Blind, the California Council of the Blind, and attorneys Lainey Feingold and Linda Dardarian, free credit reports are available for people who are blind or visually impaired in braille, large print, audio CD and online in an accessible format. A free credit report can be ordered from any of the three credit reporting agencies, Equifax, Experian, or TransUnion, by calling toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. This is an automated system. After entering identifying information, including your telephone number and Social Security number, callers will be given the option of receiving reports in braille, large print or audio formats. The reports will also be sent separately in print. The alternative format version you select should arrive within two or three days of the print copy. The request to select your format comes toward the end of the process.

You should be aware that while credit reports are free through the toll-free number above, credit scores are not. Information on how to request credit scores will be provided when ordering the initial reports. Credit scores should also be provided in braille, large print, and audio formats to those who order the initial reports in these formats.

Credit reports delivered online have been designed to be accessible in accordance with Web Content Accessibility Guidelines. They are available only through Annualcreditreport.com — the official web site operated by the three credit reporting agencies. You should be aware that not all sites that claim to provide free reports actually have free reports, and certainly not all of those sites are accessible.

For the past five years the three credit reporting agencies have been very committed to providing credit report information in accessible formats for people with visual impairments. The companies have also been quick to resolve any problems that may arise, including issues with inaccessible captchas that were quickly corrected with the substitution of an accessible captcha option for logging into the site and requesting a free credit report.

At this time of year when people are thinking about financial issues and taxes, those of us who are blind or visually impaired must take extra precautions to protect our private and confidential financial information. Utilize the available resources, including a free annual credit report in an accessible format. While doing so, remember and be proud of the advocacy victory ACB helped to make possible for anyone who is blind or visually impaired to maintain their financial independence and credibility.

Narrator Recommended — Night of the White Buffalo: A Wind River Mystery

Author: Margaret Coel  Narrator: Judith Knapp

Dennis Carey is discovered shot dead in his truck along Blue Sky Highway. With the tragic news comes the exposure of an astonishing secret: the most sacred creature in Native American mythology, a white buffalo calf, was recently born on Carey's ranch. The birth draws a flood of pilgrims to the reservation, frustrating Vicky and Father John's already difficult investigation as they try to unravel the strange events surrounding both Carey's murder and the recent disappearances of three cowboys from his ranch. Part of the Wind River Series. Some violence. DBC03188.

Legacy Gifts

Legacy gifts to the Friends of CTBL are a vital way to ensure ongoing support for all the services the library provides to patrons. The Friends have established Eyes to the Future that honors and recognizes the generosity and vision of patrons, families and friends who have chosen to leave a legacy through their estates or other deferred gifts.

We invite you to become a member of Eyes to the Future. Enrollment in this honorary group is simply a matter of advising us about your plans to make a legacy gift, such as a bequest in a will or living trust, or designating The Friends of CTBL as beneficiary of an individual retirement plan, 401k or life insurance policy. The Friends of CTBL is a public 501 c 3 charity and the tax ID is 23-7243950.

Contributions to The Friends of the Colorado Talking Book Library and The Colorado Talking Book Library

An additional way to contribute to either the Friends or to CTBL is through a charitable bequest as part of a will or through life insurance. You do not have to rewrite your current document but can add a written amendment called a codicil. Such a bequest only becomes irrevocable at your death. Giving to the library helps support the programs and service we provide to our patrons and helps to secure the future.

AmazonSmile

The AmazonSmile Foundation donates 0.5% of the purchase price of eligible products to charitable organizations. If you make purchases through Amazon, try AmazonSmile and designate The Friends of CTBL as a recipient of charitable donations. Several patrons have already done this. Thanks!
