BACKGROUND

Created in 1992 as the result of a citizens' initiative, the Great Outdoors Colorado (GOCO) Constitutional Amendment—Article XXVII of the Colorado Constitution—redirected a portion of Lottery proceeds to the GOCO Trust Fund for projects that preserve, protect and enhance Colorado's wildlife, park, river, trail and open space heritage. The Amendment also created the GOCO Board to oversee distribution of the funds.

Contrary to what many people think, GOCO receives only a portion of Lottery proceeds. The Conservation Trust Fund and the Colorado Division of Parks and Outdoor Recreation are allocated 50% of the proceeds. Additionally, a cap is placed on the total amount of funding GOCO receives. In Fiscal Year 2009-2010, GOCO reached its cap of $56.4 million. Therefore, $88,000 was contributed to the School Capital Construction Assistance Fund, created by voters in November 2000 with the passage of the Lottery's Powerball game.

The allocation of Lottery proceeds in Fiscal Year 2009-2010 was:

- 40%—or $45.2 million— to the Conservation Trust Fund for distribution to local governments, and park and recreation districts on a per capita basis for parks, recreation and open space.
- 10%—or $11.3 million— to the Division of Parks and Outdoor Recreation for state park and outdoor recreation projects.
- 50% to the GOCO Trust Fund capped at $35 million annually adjusted for inflation—$56.4 million in FY2010.
- $88,000 to the School Capital Construction Assistance Fund for facility improvements since GOCO reached its cap.

FUNDING CATEGORIES

The Colorado Constitution requires GOCO to allocate its proceeds to four areas in substantially equal portions over time:

1. "Investments in the wildlife resources of Colorado through the Colorado Division of Wildlife, including the protection and restoration of crucial wildlife habitats, appropriate programs for maintaining Colorado's diverse wildlife heritage, wildlife watching, and educational programs about wildlife and wildlife environment."
2. "Investments in the outdoor recreation resources of Colorado through the Colorado Division of Parks and Outdoor Recreation, including the State Parks system, trails, public information and environmental education resources, and water for recreational facilities."
3. "Competitive grants to the Colorado Divisions of Parks and Outdoor Recreation, and Wildlife, and to counties, municipalities, or other political subdivisions of the state, or non-profit land conservation organizations, to identify, acquire, and manage open space and natural areas of statewide significance."
4. "Competitive matching grants to local governments or other entities that are eligible for distributions from the Conservation Trust Fund, to acquire, develop or manage open lands and parks."

STRUCTURE OF THE BOARD

Great Outdoors Colorado Board members are appointed by the Governor and subject to confirmation by the Colorado State Senate. The structure of the 17-member Board is designed to provide representation to all parts of the state based on population.

- Two members from each of Colorado's seven congressional districts serve.
- No two members from one congressional district can be from the same political party.
- One member of the Board must represent agricultural interests.
- Two members must live west of the Continental Divide.
- The Executive Director of the Colorado Department of Natural Resources and a representative from the Colorado Board of Parks and Outdoor Recreation, and from the Colorado Wildlife Commission are members.

ACCOUNTABILITY

The Great Outdoors Colorado Board strives to be responsive to the needs of communities, takes seriously the enormous responsibility the citizens have given it to allocate these public funds, and works hard to be an accountable organization.

The Board:

- has adopted bylaws.
- has adopted the State Code of Ethics.
- has adopted the Colorado Open Meetings Law.
- is subject to an annual audit by the State Auditor presented to the Legislative Audit Committee.
- must provide this annual report to the Governor, Colorado General Assembly and Colorado citizens.
- ensures the Joint Budget Committee and Capital Development Committee are notified of grants to the Division of Parks and Outdoor Recreation, and the Division of Wildlife.
- regularly conducts "stakeholder" meetings with citizens who represent organizations with involvement or expertise in each of GOCO's funding categories to set grant award criteria.
- has conducted four extensive public hearing processes in conjunction with formulating strategic plans.
- directs staff to conduct grant writing workshops throughout the state twice a year.
- holds one-half of all Board meetings outside the Denver metro area.

GOCO GRANTS AT WORK:

- commissioned four statewide surveys to identify citizen priorities for use of Lottery proceeds and to gain a better understanding of Coloradans' preferences for open space, parks, outdoor recreation and wildlife.
- commissioned three surveys of eligible grant recipients to assess the grant process and where additional technical assistance should be provided.

Payment In Lieu of Taxes (PILT)

GOCO does make Payments In Lieu of Taxes (PILT) on properties purchased by the Colorado Divisions of Wildlife and Parks. GOCO's share of the payment equals the portion of the project for which it paid. For example, if GOCO paid 50% for acquisition of a parcel, it would provide 50% of the PILT payment based on the agricultural value of the property.

What Great Outdoors Colorado Does Not Do

- The Board does not have the power to regulate. It only makes grants to willing recipients.
- The Board itself does not have the authority to acquire any interest in real property. The Board makes grants to eligible entities to acquire interest in real property.
- The Board does not have power of eminent domain. GOCO dollars cannot be used to acquire real property by condemnation.
- The Board cannot have an effect on Colorado water law. However, it can make grants to purchase water for recreational purposes or for aquatic habitat restoration or enhancement pursuant to Colorado water law.

OVERVIEW OF GRANTS AWARDED FOR FY2010

In Fiscal Year 2009-2010, the GOCO Board awarded $76.6 million for 196 projects—projects that preserve land, provide new ballfields, skateparks and playgrounds, protect species, improve existing facilities at state parks and establish new state parks, and expand the state's trail system.

While the dollars GOCO awards are significant, demand continues to be greater. To maximize its resources, GOCO encourages grant recipients to form partnerships and to leverage GOCO dollars. Grant recipients have embraced these criteria, providing cash matching contributions and in-kind services far exceeding GOCO's requirements.

Project partners include local governments, state and federal agencies, land trusts, foundations, special districts, the business community, private landowners, non-profit organizations, school districts, community groups and volunteers.

OPEN SPACE GRANTS

With projections placing an additional one million residents in the state by 2020, Colorado continues to experience population growth and development. Both are vital to Colorado's economic health, but so are its agricultural lands, unique wildlife habitats and breathtaking open spaces. Preserving Colorado's beauty and natural resources in the face of rapid change is an enormous challenge. GOCO continues to help eligible entities—local governments, land trusts, Colorado State Parks and the Colorado Division of Wildlife—address this challenge through its Open Space Grant Program, which awards grants twice each year.

In FY 2010, GOCO awarded $9.2 million in Open Space Grants for 18 projects that are helping to preserve 17,896 acres. Projects funded include:

- Ben Delatour Scout Ranch in Larimer County sponsored by The Conservation Fund.
- Prewitt Reservoir Conservation Project in Logan and Washington counties sponsored by Colorado Open Lands.
- Talbott Riverview Orchard & Vineyard in Mesa County sponsored by the Mesa Land Trust.
- Rio Grande Ranch in Rio Grande County sponsored by the Rio Grande Headwaters Land Trust.
- Hatton Ranch in Teller County sponsored by the Palmer Land Trust.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT PARK, OUTDOOR RECREATION AND ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION FACILITY GRANTS

Every community needs gathering places, regardless of their size or scope. One town may need its first playground, while another may need to expand a major water park. Whatever a community's outdoor recreation needs, GOCO funds can help. Cities, counties, and park and recreation districts are eligible for GOCO grants to acquire, expand and improve local parks, outdoor recreation amenities and environmental education facilities. Local Government Park and Outdoor Recreation Grants—and Mini Grants for smaller projects costing $60,000 or less—are offered twice each year.

In FY 2010, GOCO awarded $7.5 million in Local Government Park and Outdoor Recreation Grants for 58 projects, including 16 Mini Grants for smaller projects costing $60,000 or less. Projects funded include:

- Environmental Experience and Sensory Play Area in Garfield County sponsored by the Town of Parachute.
- Community Garden at the Community Center in Jefferson County sponsored by the Ken-Caryl Ranch Metro District.
- Ayers-Campbell Playground Enhancement Project in Logan County sponsored by the City of Sterling.
- City Park Shelter Enhancement in Pueblo County sponsored by the City of Pueblo.
- Fruita Outdoor Pool Renovation in Mesa County sponsored by the City of Fruita.

TRAIL GRANTS

Since 1971, the Colorado State Trails Program has fostered the development of recreational trails for everyone and almost all possible trail experiences, be it hiking, biking, horseback riding, wildlife-watching or cross-country skiing. GOCO funding provides a substantial boost to the State Trails Program, which offers grants for trail planning and design, construction, maintenance, special projects and equipment. Trail Grants are offered once each year through the Colorado State Trails Program.

In FY 2010, GOCO provided $500,000 for State Trail Grants to 4 local governments. Additionally, GOCO offered a special opportunity grant cycle in which 5 trail projects were awarded $2.1 million. Projects funded include:

- Fossil Creek Trail in Larimer County sponsored by the City of Fort Collins.
- Cherry Creek Regional Trail in Arapahoe County sponsored by the City of Centennial.
- Coal Creek/Rock Creek Trail Project—Eastern Link in Boulder County sponsored by Boulder County.

PLANNING GRANTS

Meeting the changing needs of a community while also preserving its character and preparing for the future requires strategic planning. GOCO Planning Grants help develop plans that create, protect and enhance open space, wildlife habitat, parks and trails all of which are crucial elements of every community. And because they result in sound plans, GOCO Planning Grants typically lead to projects that have greater long-term success. Local governments, land trusts, the Colorado Division of Wildlife and Colorado State Parks are all eligible for Planning Grants, which are offered twice each year.

In FY 2010, GOCO awarded $643,400 in Planning Grants for 11 projects. Projects funded include:

- Fruita Connection Trail Planning in Mesa County sponsored by Mesa County.
- Frederick Parks, Trails and Open Space Master Plan in Weld County sponsored by the Town of Frederick.
- Parks and Recreation Master Plan in Teller County sponsored by the City of Cripple Creek.
- Northeast Greenway Corridor Master Plan sponsored by the City and County of Denver.
- Uncompahgre Riverway Master Plan in Montrose County sponsored by the City of Montrose.

CONSERVATION EXCELLENCE GRANTS

In FY 2010, GOCO developed a new grant program to assist existing organizations in achieving high-caliber land conservation. Conservation Excellence Grants provide funding for conservation planning, staff training, open space assessment, expansion of services in underserved regions, planning for public access and education, and other activities that improve and expand an existing entity's capacity to do its best work in land conservation. Local governments and land trusts are eligible for Conservation Excellence Grants, which are offered twice each year.

In FY 2010, GOCO awarded $585,577 in Conservation Excellence Grants for 15 projects. Projects funded include:

- Youth, Family and the Outdoors: Development of Successful Public Access Programs for Private Lands sponsored by Wetlands America Trust, Inc. d.b.a. Ducks Unlimited, Inc.
- Teller County Survey of Critical Biological Resources sponsored by Teller County.
- Expanding Conservation Excellence in Northwest Colorado in Jackson, Moffat and Rio Blanco counties sponsored by the Colorado Cattlemen's Agricultural Land Trust.
- Beyond the Rio Grande Initiative in Mineral, Rio Grande, Alamosa and Conejos counties sponsored by the Rio Grande Headwaters Land Trust.
- Protecting Local Agriculture and Threatened Species Habitat in Larimer and Weld counties sponsored by the Legacy Land Trust.

WILDLIFE INVESTMENTS THROUGH THE COLORADO DIVISION OF WILDLIFE

GOCO funds invested through the Division of Wildlife (DOW) make habitat protection, species protection, wildlife education and popular programs like Watchable Wildlife possible. In addition to managing the 960 wildlife species living in Colorado, the DOW oversees more than 230 wildlife areas used for public recreation, conducts research to improve wildlife management activities, and develops programs to protect and recover threatened and endangered species. Since DOW funding comes largely from hunting and fishing license fees, it spends most of its revenue on game species management. This leaves very limited resources for non-game species management and habitat protection, not to mention opportunities for Coloradans and visitors to watch and learn about the state's wildlife. Fortunately, GOCO funds keep these important efforts viable.

In FY2010, GOCO invested $11 million in projects through the DOW. Projects funded include:

- Protection of 17,345 acres of habitat, including the Jumping Cow State Wildlife Area in Elbert County and the Torres Ranch State Habitat Area in Las Animas County. GOCO dollars often match funds from the Habitat Stamp Program to achieve habitat protection.
- Restoration of 4,457 acres of wetlands, 3,725 acres of adjacent uplands and 14 miles of streams.
- Completion of an interstate Conservation Agreement for the Rio Grande Cutthroat Trout.
- Completion of a Birding Trail for southwest Colorado.

OUTDOOR RECREATION INVESTMENTS THROUGH THE DIVISION OF PARKS AND OUTDOOR RECREATION

Colorado's 42 State Parks offer quality outdoor recreation experiences for their more than 11 million visitors each year. They are a great resource close to home and a cornerstone in Colorado's economy and quality of life.

Faced with a dwindling budget over the past several years, Colorado State Parks has relied heavily on GOCO/Lottery funds to enhance existing parks, provide facilities at new state parks, and offer educational programs for Colorado youth.

In FY 2010, GOCO invested $5 million through Colorado State Parks to develop the first facilities at the yet-to-be opened Staunton State Park, located just north of U.S. Hwy 285, approximately 6 miles west of Conifer. This 3,700-acre area boasts rugged rock outcroppings, lush grassy meadows, rolling hillsides forested with conifers and aspens and a dramatic waterfall. The park is slated to open in the summer of 2012.

GOCO's investments through Colorado State Parks in FY 2010 totaled $11.3 million. Projects funded include:

- Restoration of the Marina Bay at North Sterling State Park.
- Improvements at Cherry Creek, Chatfield, and Trinidad State Parks including a new Camper Services Building at Cherry Creek. GOCO dollars match funds from the Army Corps of Engineers.
- The State Trails Program and a "Trails in State Parks" initiative.
- The Colorado Youth Corps Association.

SPECIAL OPPORTUNITY AND LEGACY GRANTS

In FY 2010, GOCO offered a Special Opportunity Grant Cycle that supplemented the LPOR and Open Space Grant Programs enabling them to fund larger, more expensive projects while taking advantage of lower real estate and construction costs.

GOCO's Legacy Grant Program was created to ensure that Colorado's rich natural heritage is preserved for future generations. Legacy Grants are multi-year initiatives of regional or statewide importance to which GOCO makes multi-million dollar commitments. They are designed to preserve Colorado's land and water, enhance wildlife habitat, create state and local parks, construct trails, and help provide environmental education. Legacy projects typically hinge upon strong partnerships between federal and state agencies, non-profit organizations, landowners and the private sector.

All entities eligible for GOCO funds can participate in Special Opportunity and Legacy Grant Cycles, which are offered periodically as GOCO's financial position allows.

GOCO awarded $19 million in Special Opportunity Grants for 22 projects in FY 2010. Projects funded include:

- River North Park Acquisition sponsored by the City and County of Denver.
- South Park Outdoor Recreation Complex in Park County sponsored by the South Park Parks & Rec District.
- Brighton Outdoor Family Aquatic Park—Phase I sponsored by the City of Brighton.

While Legacy Grants were not awarded in FY 2010, work continued on the following previously-funded projects:

- Two conservation easements protecting 436 acres were finalized on properties that are part of the Laramie Foothills Legacy: The Bradley property and the Tibbits Lake property, both located in Larimer County.
- Colorado Open Lands acquired an easement on 500 acres of Barr Farm in Pueblo County, part of the Peak to Prairie Legacy.

GOCO'S 2010 STRATEGIC PLAN

In April 2010, the GOCO Board adopted a new Strategic Plan outlining priorities and initiatives to guide the Board's work over the next five to ten years. GOCO's previous Strategic Plan was adopted eight years ago, and it was time to consider today's challenges: Continued population growth, budget challenges at both the state and local levels, and growing concern about the lack of time our children spend outdoors.

The 2010 Strategic Plan priorities were informed by the results of a statewide survey, by 14 meetings with the public held around the state, and by working closely with GOCO's local government, state agency and land conservation stakeholders. The Board defined three core program areas in which to categorize the funding opportunities GOCO currently provides, and identified specific goals within each core program area including the following:

Program: Land, Water and Wildlife

Goal: Protect priority landscapes for open space and wildlife including protecting river corridors and acquiring parcels in urban areas to provide easily-accessible outdoor experiences.

Program: Outdoor Recreation and Trails

Goal: Build trail systems that connect communities, parks and regional corridors.

Goal: Renovate and enhance existing outdoor recreation infrastructure rather than constructing new ones.

Program: Youth, Families and the Outdoors

Goal: Increase participation by youth and families in all areas of GOCO's mission.

To achieve these priorities, GOCO will:

- Work with grantees to leverage federal, public and private resources to develop and pursue targeted initiatives that advance these priorities.
- Set specific financial, programmatic and grant-making goals for the next five years.
- Work with State Parks, the Division of Wildlife, local governments and nonprofit land conservation organizations to align goals and strategies.
- Remain flexible to address new challenges that arise in the future and take advantage of special opportunities.

The 2010 Strategic Plan will help position GOCO and its partners for continued success while working to address the outdoor challenges facing our state.

FINANCIAL SUMMARY FOR FY 2009-2010

The following is a summary of financial information drawn from State Audit reports for 17 fiscal years of Great Outdoors Colorado's operation. More detailed financial information is included in the annual audit reports, which are available through GOCO.

Since Fiscal Year 1993-1994, Great Outdoors Colorado has authorized grants from Lottery proceeds for:

- local government park, outdoor recreation and environmental education facilities projects.
- outdoor recreation projects through the Colorado Division of Parks and Outdoor Recreation.
- wildlife projects through the Colorado Division of Wildlife.
- open space projects.
- planning and capacity building projects.
- trail projects.
- Legacy projects that integrate components of GOCO's four Constitutionally-mandated funding categories.

There are two financial steps to the GOCO grant process:

- 1) Grant Authorization - The GOCO Board approves the use of funds for projects up to a specified amount.
- 2) Grant Expenditure - Funds are distributed for projects as either reimbursements to sponsors for expenses incurred, or in the case of land acquisition payments, to a title company at the time of closing.

The Board furthered its mission during Fiscal Year 2009-2010 with $51.6 million in grants expended.
