REPORT

OF THE

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' HOME COMMISSION

STATE OF COLORADO.

Office of the Commission,
Room 4, State Capitol,
Denver, Colo., December 5, 1896.

HIS EXCELLENCY.

HON. A. W. McINTIRE,
GOVERNOR OF COLORADO.

Sir—As accurately as possible, in view of a very recent change in the composition of the Board of Commissioners of the Colorado Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, I herewith submit to you a report of the administration of the said Board for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1896.

On December 3, the Commissioners met at their office, room 4, state capitol, for the purpose, among others, of consultation on questions relating to the welfare of the important state institution confided by a generous and patriotic people through their executive officer, to their care and business management, and hearing read by the president his annual report.

At this meeting the report of the secretary was ready to be incorporated with that of the president, both reports being required by law. Each of the Commissioners present expected that the president's report would be read by him, be passed upon in regular order of business, and all be in readiness to submit to your excellency. Such was not the case, hence, what follows, is a combined report of the secretary and vice president acting in a dual capacity.

Very early in the proceedings of the meeting the president tendered his resignation, which was accepted, and severed his connection with the Commission by not thereafter participating in its deliberations. Later he tendered his resignation as a member of the Commission, which was accepted by your excellency.

On December 4, business was resumed, the vice president and secretary assuming the duties of presiding officer for the time being.

At different meetings during the year, the late president and Commissioner has reported that upon inquiry at the office of the secretary of state he has been assured that the annual report for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1895, would not, for lack of funds, be put into printed form. As the secretary of the Commission has never seen the president's manuscript of that report, to which was appended his own, in compliance with the law, he must necessarily, it would seem, prepare this year's report as if that of 1894-1895 did not exist.

The Commission has a permanent record of all its meetings and proceedings, and as the Soldiers' Home grows in magnitude by reason of almost daily accessions to its membership, the minutes necessarily increase in the record of business transacted. With the sole help of this permanent record in preparing this report, it is hoped that your excellency, as well as every citizen of Colorado to whom the information herein contained shall come, will favor the Home Commission and the local administration with an opinion of faithful and diligent discharge of duty. To that end particular attention is called to the various reports of the other officers of the Home, those directly connected with it, as commander, adjutant, surgeon, quartermaster and commissary, which are so perfect in detail that each is recommended for careful consideration. The financial report is complete and detailed, and has been prepared by Mr. E. W. Garretson, bookkeeper, who has taken unusual precautions to have it correct and correspond with the records of other state officials who have custody of the state appropriations and of the fund derived from the general government. The financial report of the Hon. A. M. Sawyer, treasurer of the commission, will be found equally detailed and accurate.

Immediately after the completion of a wing to the dormitory—this in October, 1895—it was furnished and occupied, admitting all applicants whose applications were then on file. The membership was then about eighty in number and has not since been much less. In other words, this has been the minimum number of inmates.

During the month of December, 1895, telephone connection was established between the Home offices and the office and residence of Dr. A. W. Packard, in Monte Vista. Since then, in emergent cases in the hospital, speedy professional services have been rendered, and in several instances such service has doubtless saved lives or has quickly mitigated infirmities. During the three first months of 1896, a majority of those admitted were infirm and assigned to the hospital; seven were reported more or less demented. Two of these were subsequently sent to the asylum at Pueblo and died there. Others died at the Home.

At the meeting in February, 1896, the commander's report showed the necessity for increased accommodation. By reason of the difficulties incident to a former administration of the state auditor's office, the Commissioners could do nothing toward building and were obliged to await more liberal construction of the laws relating to the state appropriation for maintenance. As one means of postponing admissions, circular letters were addressed to the chairmen of every board of county commissioners in the state, and to the commanders of every post of the G. A. R., notifying them not to encourage further applications because there was no room for applicants. Also rules were established governing the issue of furloughs. These precautions prevented over-crowding.

During the spring and summer all went well with the Home, its inmates and officers. There were occasional violations of the few rules formulated for observance by the old men, but nothing serious. The Commissioners do not believe the Home to be a punitive institution, hence have never provided a graded system of punishments for violation of discipline. All must abide by a few simple rules, and if dissatisfied, are at liberty to depart, but there are no other punishments inflicted.

The greatest annoyance arises from the drink habit, and its indulgence after mild censure by the commander is followed by discharge. So far, and no further, does punishment go.

At the July meeting, Comrade H. O. Dodge, of Boulder, Colo., took his place as a member of the Commission, having been elected, April 23, department commander, Grand Army of the Republic. Such election rendered him eligible to membership, with the same powers as are exercised by the appointed members.

During the year several minor improvements were completed, all authorized by the Commission and carried out under the supervision of the commander and Hon. J. D. Lewis, resident Commissioner. These brought the entire institution up to the requirements of the number of guests. As warm weather approached, nearly all the inmates who were at all able-bodied took discharges and there was again a minimum population with an accumulation of applications. Later in the season others were received and filed, so that it seemed necessary to devise plans for receiving more inmates. One of these was carried out by finishing the basement of the new wing to the dormitory and removing the offices of the adjutant and quartermaster into a part of it, while the other and larger part was used as an assembly room in which social amusements were held during the summer, largely contributed to by the citizens of Monte Vista. Every available place was otherwise utilized, and as applicants arrived they found comfortable quarters until there was again a plethora.

The next plan received the most careful consideration.

The appropriation for building purposes was exhausted. In this emergency an opinion was sought of the attorney general as to the use of part of the cash fund, so-called, being the contribution of the general government. It was fully represented to the official named how necessary it was, and as soon as possible, to increase the capacity in readiness for the coming winter. Fortunately the opinion was favorable and the Commission at its September meeting authorized advertisements for bids for erecting a wing on the west side of the main building or dormitory, on such plans as would render the whole symmetrical. After the contracts were let work proceeded rapidly and the commander's report shows that about December 1 the new wing was occupied. The work was under the constant supervision of the committee on buildings and grounds. The whole institution can, at the date of this report, provide for 135 inmates. A part of these sleep in the old assembly room for which apartment a substitute was provided by setting up a tent convenient to the main building, into which were removed the library, organ, chairs, tables and other furniture. Here the inmates may, during fair and warm weather, enjoy their leisure, and here the social entertainments have been continued. is hoped that competent authority will appropriate sufficient money for the erection of a suitable and separate building for the purposes named. Estimates of the cost of this, with other building improvements, will be found in their proper place.

The increase in membership begot other necessities, such as for the storage of supplies, for furniture and other requisites. A cellar, formerly used for storing vegetables, was converted into a two-story building and the quartermaster was installed therein. Here are kept the food and clothing supplies, while a separate cellar, recently constructed, receives only the vegetables.

The sewage system continues to work well but must soon be enlarged. The surgeon's report contains information relating to his department and the sanitation. Individual members of the Commission have taken notes of the necessary improvements, to carry out which a liberal appropriation is confidently expected. These notes will be formulated into a statement to be presented during the coming legislative session, and the Commission propose to present them when well digested.

A proposition to light all the buildings with electricity was considered. Officers of The Monte Vista Electric Light Company presented proposals for lighting from their plant, a distance of nearly three miles from the Home. Because of what appeared to be excessive cost for installation the proposition was deferred. The buildings remain, therefore, lighted by means of oil lamps. A local electric plant is not considered feasible because of the great expense.

In view of some agitation of the question of removing the Home to some other part of the state, the Commission visited a proposed site at old Fort Lyon, near the town of Las Animas, Bent county. From the notes taken by the secretary is culled the following information:

There are some forty buildings situated on the military reservation of 538 acres contiguous to the Arkansas river. These were abandoned several years ago as a military post and the buildings have become dilapidated, especially those used as officers' quarters, which are constructed of adobe bricks and plastered with stucco. Neglect and decay dominate the entire place. At the time of the visit a rough calculation was made of the cost of preparing for the reception of an old soldier population for the years to come and it was agreed that $10,000 would be none too large an amount. Should the matter of removal be the subject of consideration by the people through their legislature at its coming session, the Commissioners will impart all the information they possess.

Later the Commission visited the Kansas State Soldiers' Home, located five miles east of Dodge City. This visit was especially made for the purpose of observing the working of the law providing for the maintenance of "dependents." The act of the Colorado legislature, approved April 10, 1895, provides that dependents of honorably discharged soldiers and marines who participated in the war of the rebellion shall be maintained at the Home on equal terms. Up to this date no provision has been made for the reception of such dependents, because the appropriations were inadequate. There should be provision made for the reception of the wives and widows of veterans after arriving at the age of say fifty years.

The Kansas home has no limitation as to age of adult females, but the law provides that the children of veterans shall be maintained until the ages of twelve and fourteen for boys and girls respectively. When the commander informed the Coloradoans that during the year 1895 there had been ten births, and that there were 120 children enrolled as pupils in the home school, a large proportion of whom were native to the home grounds, a cause was given for grave reflection on the propriety of admitting other than old men and old wife or widow to the benefits of this kind of public charitable institution. As a result of collecting the opinion of this Commission, it is officially stated that if Colorado continues to maintain a Soldiers' Home, some limitation should be placed on the admission of adult females. This is a delicate subject to deal with, nevertheless it does not seem right that young wives, such as were seen at the Kansas home, many of whom were born long after the war closed, should be brought there as dependents, and in due course contribute to the propagation of public charges from birth to the ages mentioned.

Should means be provided for enlarging the Colorado Home for the reception of dependents, this Commission will not favor opening the doors to children.

With the completion of the new building, the changes, by enlargement and otherwise, of the several departments, the able management of the present commander, the ample provision of supplies, and recently completed repairs, the Colorado Home may be considered in excellent condition and will successfully bear the scrutiny of any citizen or official of the state. To the end that its usefulness may be extended, the Commission recommend liberal appropriations for the maintenance of an average of not less than 150 veterans for each of the next two years, and if the extension shall be toward receiving dependent wives and widows, then a sufficient additional sum as a building fund for the erection of quarters suitable for such purpose.

Former reports contain allusions to the lands supposed to be possessed by the state upon which the Home is located. No definite understanding exists as to the extent of these possessions. An attempt to gain satisfactory information was commenced in March, 1896, and the business was placed in the hands of Commissioner Lewis. At the April meeting he reported as follows:

"I have the honor to report that I communicated to Mr. Marsh, chairman of the Monte Vista committee, the result of the consideration by the Commissioners of the Home of the proposition in regard to the exchange of a piece of land of twenty acres for a roadway on the east side of the lake, and up to this date I have not received any report from him.

(Signed.) "J. D. LEWIS."

At subsequent meetings, Commissioner Lewis has reported inability to secure attention to this proposition, and the matter is still open.

The title to the tract upon which the cemetery is located has been found to be secure, the land having been included in the original donation through the Monte Vista committee for securing the location of the Home.

At the July meeting another important question arose concerning the burial expenses of deceased inmates and whether the state or Rio Grande county should bear them. It was determined to submit the question to Atty. Gen. Carr, and the president was instructed to state the question to him and solicit an opinion.

Following is the official correspondence:

Soldiers' and Sailors' Home Commission. State of Colorado.

> Office of the President, Denver, Colo., April 2, 1896.

Hon. B. L. Carr, Attorney General State of Colorado.

Sir—I am instructed by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home Commission, state of Colorado, to submit to you for a decision the following:

When does the responsibility of a county in the state of Colorado cease to exist in the burial of a deceased Union soldier, who during his life was sent to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home because of his indigent circumstances and inability to labor, and who died while an inmate of the Home?

Does such old soldier become a burden upon Rio Grande county in the way of burial if he claims a residence in that county by registering and voting there?

If an old soldier does not, after going to the Home, exercise his right to register and vote, does he still remain a citizen of the county sending him there, or from which he went, and is that county responsible for the burial expenses should he die at the Home?

Very truly yours,

WARNER A. ROOT,

President Soldiers' and Sailors' Home Commission.

Hon. Warner A. Root, President of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home Commission, Denver, Colo.

Dear Sir—Your favor of April 2 is received and contents noted. It would have been answered before but for my absence.

In reply to your first question:

"When does the responsibility of a county in the state of Colorado cease to exist in the burial of deceased Union soldiers who, during their lives, were sent to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home because of their indigent circumstances and inability to labor and who died while an inmate of the Home?"

The liability of the county he went from would cease when his domicile was fixed in Monte Vista. If he afterwards became a resident of Rio Grande county by registration and voting there I suppose it would have to be held he changed his domicile when he went there, the registration in voting being evidence of intention to make such a change of domicile. He would then become a burden upon Rio Grande county from the date of his residence. If upon taking up his residence at the Soldiers' Home, his intention is to make it only a temporary residence, he at the same time retaining his domicile in the county he came from, it would be the duty of Rio Grande county in case of his death to pay the burial expenses and recover the same from the county of his actual residence.

Very truly yours,

B. L CARR, Attorney General.

As the commissioners of Rio Grande county have uniformly rejected bills laid before them for said funeral expenses, which are for one-half the amount which the statutes provide shall be paid by counties should an indigent old soldier die within their limits, some law should be passed defining the status of citizenship of inmates of the Home and the responsibility, if any, of the county in which the Home is situate. Bills rendered to other counties have been paid promptly.

There have been no changes during the year in the conditions appertaining to the unpaid balance of subscription claimed to be due from the citizens of Monte Vista to secure the location of the Home. The hard times which have so long prevailed, even in the fertile San Luis valley and among an industrious and enterprising people, greatly impede, if not wholly prevent, them acquiring a surplus of cash, or indeed any amount which can be conveniently spared wherewith to make their subscriptions good.

The cost of maintenance for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1896, was as follows:

Current expense$	5,310.19
Hospital	2,893.09
Clothing	4,384.74
Household	5,600.14
	8,768.14
Farm	1,274.02
		$28,230.32
At the average of ninety-six men present during the		ton tones year, the amount per capita for maintenance would be$	294.06
Deducting the amount allowed by the United States

The net cost to the state per capita would be.... $ 194.06

The present and increased capacity for 150 men at $194.06 per capita, would necessitate an appropriation for the two years ending November 30, 1898, of $60,000.

Estimates for necessary additional improvements:

Addition to hospital and furnishing same	5,000.00
Stable, storage for stable supplies, and sheds	1,000.00
Assembly room	4,000.00
Quarters for twenty-four aged couples	10,000.00
Minor improvements, such as enclosing the building plot and cemetery	200.00

government per capita.....

100.00

PRESENT ESTIMATED VALUE OF THE HOME PROPERTY.

Following is the estimated value of the Home property in its present condition, making no allowance, however, for slight deterioration of the older buildings. This item is probably more than compensated by recent improvements. All reference is omitted to an item of value hitherto reported in the valuation of Home property, viz., expenses of dyke erected several years ago to convert a venerable swamp into a lake, reported at a sum of $3,200, to which expense additions are perforce and continually necessary to protect the dyke against wave-wash and depredations of aquatic animals:

Lands, 120 acres at $25 per acre	$ 3,000.00
Ditch stock	1,000.00
Main building, "dormitory"	12,644.00
Hospital	12,789.00
Commander's cottage	5,770.00
Dining room, kitchen and bakery	3,200.00
Quartermaster's storehouse and cellar	1,240.00
Stables and sheds and other outbuildings	1,800.00
Sewerage system	2,303.00
Steam pumping and water system	1,800.00
Minor improvements	700.00
Furniture and fixtures	4,000.00
Live stock, farm implements and vehicles	800.00
Trees, shrubbery and fences	700.00
Artesian wells	375.00

$52,121.00

Upon all the above property in buildings and insurable accessories there are policies of insurance now in force amounting to $18,500.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

AMUSEMENTS.

The facilities for amusements are not what they should be, owing to the want of a proper building in which to hold entertainments.

We are indebted to the Woodman's quartette and the glee club of Monte Vista for numerous visits at great inconvenience to themselves, and have been entertained by the young people who have always shown a willingness to do all in their power to help enliven and make less tedious the monotony of the life of the members of the Home. But the necessity still exists for a greater variety of amusement, and above all, a suitable room in which to hold meetings of whatsoever kind.

MAINTENANCE AND DISCIPLINE.

The policy of the managers of the Home has been to see that its members should be properly clothed and fed. The fact that the average cost per diem has been reduced from 25.1 for 1895 to 22.88 for 1896 is evidence that no extravagance has been practiced in this direction.

The number of offenses committed during the past year is much less than in any year since the organization of the Home. Six members were dishonorably discharged during the year, two only for drunkenness, one for insulting language, one for refusing to send pension to his family, one for assault and one for quarreling.

This very satisfactory state of affairs is due in a great measure to the wise provisions of the law governing pensions which was enacted by the tenth general assembly. Up to that time the members were allowed full control of their pensions, the result being that in a majority of cases the money was squandered in drink.

Under the workings of the present law, many of these same men have a very respectable bank account which is theirs whenever they wish to leave the Home. I doubt very much if a law could be framed that would give as general satisfaction.

When a death occurs at the Home, the relatives of the deceased are notified, and if the remains are not claimed by them, interment is made in the Home cemetery in accordance with the previously expressed wish of the party, in all cases using the G. A. R. ritual. The graves are all marked by marble headstones furnished by the government, and a careful record is kept at the Home of all interments, so that the graves can at any time be fully identified.

Rev. William Keiry, who resides near the Home, has acted as chaplain and been in attendance at every funeral since the organization of the Home with but two exceptions; he has also held Sunday services whenever not otherwise engaged. Rev. O. S. Baum of the Presbyterian, Rev. G. W. Irwin of the Methodist, and Rev. L. A. Betcher of the Christian churches, have also held services at the Home.

There has been allowed the members perfect freedom of conscience and untrammeled enjoyment of their religious belief, and no distinction has been made between Protestant and Catholic, either in the matter of selecting paid employés or in visiting and ministering to the sick.

Very respectfully yours,

S. M. FRENCH, Commander,

REPORT

OF THE

Committee on Buildings, Titles, Grounds and Farm Management.

Monte Vista, Colo., December 5, 1896.

To the Board of Commissioners of the Colorado Soldiers' and Sailors' Home:

Gentlemen—Your committee on buildings, titles, grounds and improvements beg leave to submit the following report for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1896.

The commissary quarters, which was a basement, have been raised one story, making office and store room for the quarter-master.

A new cellar has been built adjoining the quartermaster's building which gives ample room for the storage of vegetables.

A new wing has been built on the west side of the main building or dormitory, 31x55 feet in size, one story and basement high, which materially adds to the appearance of the structure and provides room for thirty men.

A small addition has been made to the main kitchen in order to separate the bakery from the cooking department.

The plumbing has been thoroughly overhauled in all the buildings, and the wards and dormitories calcimined.

An artesian well has been sunk in the cemetery, the grounds graded, and shade trees planted, and the grounds prepared for seeding to grass in the spring.

IMPROVEMENTS NEEDED.

The roofs of the hospital and main kitchen should have two coats of graphite paint, and all the outside woodwork requires repainting.

The hospital is crowded to about its limit and more room must be provided in the near future. An addition 31x110 feet could be built on north end of present hospital, the estimated cost of which is $6,500.

Owing to the fact that our state laws provide for the maintenance of wives and widows of dependent soldiers, it will be necessary to provide some place to shelter them. We submit a sketch plan of a building which will accommodate twenty-four couples and cost about $10,000.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

Monte Vista, Colo., December 7, 1896.

To the Honorable Board of Commissioners of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home of Colorado:

Gentlemen—I have the honor of submitting to you my fifth annual report of the medical department of the Home for the year ending November 30, 1896:

Number treated in the hospital during the year, counting one man but once	71
Number treated at sick call, counting one man but once	132
Total attendance at sick call during the year	741
Number of prescriptions compounded at sick call and in the hospital during the year	2,349
Number of deaths during the year	9
Number totally insane during the year	2
Number impaired cerebration (not classed as insane)	8

The following are the names, date of death and the disease of those who died during the year:

John S. Hughes—Admitted December 4, 1895; died December 18, 1895; cause of death, chronic gastritis.

Orin P. Stewart—Admitted February 12, 1896; died February 19, 1896; cause of death, carcinoma of the liver.

Benton Farrer—Admitted February 12, 1896; died March 15, 1896; cause of death, pulmonary abscess, the result of pneumonia. He was on his way to Creede with a freighting outfit when he was stricken with pneumonia, and after having the disease for about one week, came to the home for treatment and was admitted to the hospital. The exposure was too great for him.

Francis Barraclough—Admitted December 11, 1896; died April 17, 1896; cause of death, interstitial hepatitis.

Patrick Rooney—Admitted (the last time) February 10, 1895; died April 20, 1896; cause of death, cerebral softening due to cerebral hemorrhage. For nine months prior to death he was as helpless as a child, and required and received attention as such.

John Smith—Admitted May 21, 1896; died July 12, 1896; cause of death, acute yellow atrophy of the liver.

Sylvester Hawkins (colored)—Admitted August 22, 1896; died September 18, 1896; cause of death, gummatous tumor of brain.

John Kelly—Admitted August 20, 1896; died November 9, 1896; cause of death, tubercular peritonitis. When admitted he said that he had not been out of his ward (he came from the National Home at Leavenworth) for four years. He improved greatly at first and he, as well as myself, were greatly encouraged, but the disease had such a hold on him that he finally succumbed to it.

Lorenzo Debolt—Admitted November 28, 1895; died November 15, 1896; cause of death, emphysema of lungs and insufficiency of the mitral valve, due to asthma.

James M. Samuels—Admitted December 1, 1895; adjudged insane and sent to the asylum February 12, 1896.

Orlando Cortright—Admitted October 29, 1895; adjudged insane and sent to the asylum February 12, 1896.

The following are the diseases treated in the hospital and at sick call: Delusional insanity, dementia, epilipsy, insomnia, melancholia, paralysis agitans, locomotor ataxia, paraplegia.

NOT WELL DEFINED CAUSES.

Cerebral softening, intercostal neuralgia, facial neuralgia, occipital neuralgia, sciatica, hemicrania, torticollis, chronic nasopharyngeal catarrh, acute laryngitis, acute and chronic bronchitis, tonsilitis follicular, stomatitis, chronic gastric catarrh, gastritis chronic, gastralgia, indigestion, gastro duodenal catarrh, intestinal indigestion, acute and chronic diarrhæa, habitual constipation, hemorrhoids, tubercular peritonitis, carcinoma of the liver, intertitial hepatitis, fatty degeneration of the heart, hypertrophy of the heart, hypertrophy of the liver, enlargement of gall bladder, mitral regurgitation, nephritis, chronic suppression of the urine, facial erysipelas, catarrhal fever, rheumatism subacute, chronic articular and muscular, lumbago, alcoholism, senile debility, conjunctivitis, acute and chronic; ottorrhæa, eczema, coryza, cystitis chronic, hypertrophy of prostate gland, prostatitis, orchitis, acute and chronic; varicose ulcers, indolent ulcers, psoas abscess, inspissated cereum, frozen fingers, frostbite of feet, emphysema of lungs, gummatous tumor of brain, tertiary syphillis, acute yellow atrophy of the liver, pulmonary abscess, spasmodic colic, pleurisy, ulceration of frontal sinus, necrosis of tubinated bones, chorea, crushed fingers, abscess of deltoid muscles, morphia habit, erythema, bilious fever, acute peritonitis.

You will see from the report of the causes of death that the greater number of those who died were in the Home but a short time. Their diseases were such and they were so disabled upon their entrance to the Home that it was necessary to admit them to the hospital at once.

There has been no epidemic during the last year, and by far the greater number of those admitted to the hospital for treatment are afflicted with old chronic diseases which are gradually sapping their lives away, and should they be stricken with any of the acute diseases, they fail quickly. I report this for the reason that it will be absolutely necessary for more hospital accommodations to be made during the coming year, and it is only a question of a very short time when the Home will of necessity be one general hospital.

If permitted, would recommend that during the coming year an addition be built on and to the north side of the hospital similar in construction to the present building.

We have no trained nurses, but I do not believe that there is an institution in the country where more care and attention is given to the sick than is in our Home. The hospital steward, Mr. W. C. Lewis, is a civilian and is doing excellent work.

The assistant steward, Mr. Wm. Hawk, is an old veteran and has been with us as an assistant for over two years. I must say that the salaries paid them for the amount of hard work they have to do are inadequate. They put in 365 days in a year and fourteen hours in a day.

I do not feel like closing this report without giving mention of Commander S. M. French. Upon his shoulders rests the entire management of the Home, which to my mind is a great responsibility. But, however, he bears that responsibility and bears it well. No matter what is asked for in the Home and more particularly in the hospital, and especially when it will give comfort to some one suffering, he is always ready and willing to render such assistance as is in his power. He truly has the good of the members of the Home at heart.

And now, gentlemen, I thank you for the kindness shown me and for the granting of the requests which I have made from time to time pertaining to my department.

Yours respectfully,

DR. W. A. PACKARD, Home Physician.

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' HOME COMMISSION.

STATE OF COLORADO.

Office of the President,
Room 4, Capitol Building,
Denver, Colorado, January 28, 1897.

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representative of the Colorado Legislature, in session at this date as the Eleventh General Assembly.

The members of the Colorado Soldiers' and Sailors' Home Commission respectfully represent that in their opinion changes should be made in the law governing the management of the Home, and have authorized the president to prepare this statement in connection with their official report to the Governor, copies of which will be laid before you. The act may be found on pages 104 to 109 of "Laws passed by the Tenth Session of the General Assembly."

The amendments suggested by our experience in management are as follows:

Section I reads: "The government of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home shall be vested in a commission of three persons," etc., and, further on in the section: "At least two members of said commission shall be honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines."

In our opinion the Commission should consist of five members. The members of the Commission are selected from among men of repute in the localities whence they are appointed and are usually business men, all old soldiers, who cannot always attend meetings without sacrificing some business interests. A quorum of five members would be three and this number can generally be counted upon to be present at meetings. These meetings are probably the least costly to the State Treasury of any similar administrative body charged with duties in connection with any public institution in the State. The bond of each member of the present commission is in the inordinate amount of $25,000. It is reduced in the present act to $5,000, which seems to be ample security for faithful and honorable discharge of duty.

The provision that "at least two members of the commission shall be honorably discharged soldiers," etc., is good as far as it goes, but we think that every member should possess the qualification named. A penitentiary commissioner cannot, for instance, place himself en rapport with the inmates of the institutions at Canon City and Buena Vista, but a Commission charged with the duty of maintaining their fellow old soldiers, consisting entirely of their comrades, is more than likely to wisely contrive ways and means to that end, to learn their wants, to discriminate as to their nature, whether proper or not, and to decide by reason of their joint experience during the war. "We have drank from the same canteen."

Section 4 provides for the care and treatment of old soldiers * * * "and those dependent upon them"—See page 10, 6th line.

This clause should be so worded as to clearly define who are dependents, and should prohibit the admission, as such, of children, and of women under the age of fifty years.

Specific reasons for this provision of law may be found on pages 7 and 8 of the report to the Governor.

Section 5. The Treasurer of the Board should not be required to give an additional bond of $5,000 as such Treasurer, he having already been required in Section 3 to bond himself in a similar sum as a Commissioner. He is custodian only of a part of the money required by Section 8, to be retained out of the pensions of the inmates of the Home. The amount in his hands fluctuates and may at any time be wholly taken up by drafts on call of the depositors. If any bond shall seem to be necessary the amount thereof should not exceed $1,000, a sum double the average amount in his hands.

Sections 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15 do not require change, especially Section 8, which provides for custody of pensions. The provisions of this section are complete, and the effect is to prevent unwise use of this income, violations of the rule relating to use of intoxicants, and other evils. Where there are dependents, now necessarily non-resident, portions of this money are now sent to them. Whereas, if there is no restraint, such as now prevails under this section, it would be squandered.

In several of the State homes as we learn from their reports, the retention of part of the pension money for use in connection with the appropriations for maintenance, has caused suits to be instituted to abrogate the rule. Some have been decided against the complainants, others are pending. It may be stated that as a rule the courts have sustained the proposition that the pension may be retained, in part or in whole.

We have learned that some members of the Home, whose accumulation of pension moneys are under the present rules, and in conformity with the provisions of Section 8 thereto relating placed in the custody of the Treasurer of the Commission, complain that they have no security for the return of their money. If a bond of $5,000, and a desire for the maintainance of an honorable reputation in fiduciary as well as of all other personal capacities is not a sufficient guar antee for the proper custody and repayment to the beneficiaries of the government bounty for gallant service, we are at a loss to suggest anything better, except to say: Let the law stand as it is.

A pension of $8.00 per month is the interest, at six per cent. per annum, on a capital of $1,600. In this light this commission does not think an injustice is done by simply aiding the pensioner to save the only tanglible capital he possesses.

We suggest that a paragraph of Section 4 be so changed as to admit members of Colorado regiments without regard to the provision as to one year's residence next preceding the date of their application for admission. Within the past three months there have been applications from non-resident veterans, members of Colorado troops who, because of this provision, could not be admitted. Colorado should admit them to her own Home.

It is the opinion of this Commission in regard to the affidavits required by the blank which has been prepared for applicants to sign preliminary to admission, that indigency should be certified by the County Commissioners. The present "Certificate of Identification" is to be signed by "A Judge, County Clerk, or by a Post Commander of the G. A. R." We think the County Commissioners are better qualified than any of the officials named, to certify as to the indigency of applicants. We recommend a law requiring such certificate and suggest the following form:

State of Colorado, County.

In the matter of the application of — for admission to the Colorado Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, the Board of Commissioners of said county, after due inquiry find that all the foregoing statements are true to the best of our knowledge and belief, that the above named applicant is known by us to be the identical person mentioned, that he has no property of record in this county, that he is without means or ability to support himself and that — [Here add any further facts that may affect the applicant.]

Note.—If the law as it stands at present enables this Commission to put in force the foregoing recommendation, then there is no necessity for formulating it into a law.

On page 8.9, 10 and 11 of our report a succinct statement is made in regard to the status of citizenship of members of the Home. The question chiefly relates to the burial expenses of deceased members. The cost of these does not extend beyond that of the coffin, which is $25, or one-half the amount which County Commissioners may set apart for such expenses when the death occurs within their county limits. The Home is situate in Rio Grande county. Bills have been sent to the Commissioners of that county and have uniformly been rejected, although the deceased was registered and voted in that county. Bills sent to other counties have been paid on presentation.

This question should be settled in order to prevent further contention between this Commission and Rio Grande, or any other, county.

In conclusion we would ask your considerate judgment on the appropriations asked for. There is absolute need for an extension of the hospital, the dormitory and the sewerage system, and for the full amount asked for for maintenance for the ensuing two years. Adequate accommodations should be provided for 200 members; the present capacity is 160 at the most.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

W. P. HARBOTTLE. President.
