COLORADO PROPERTY TAXES

OVERVIEW

The Colorado property tax system provides revenue exclusively for local government services. The largest share of property tax revenue (54.0%) goes to support the state's public schools. County governments claim the next largest share (24.5%), followed by special districts (15.0%), municipal governments (5.5%), and junior colleges (1.0%).

The authority for property taxation is both constitutional and statutory. Article X of the Colorado Constitution provides that all property is taxable unless declared exempt by the Constitution, and that the actual value of taxable property shall be determined under the general laws to secure just and equalized valuations. The specific statutes pertaining to property taxation are found in Title 39, Articles 1 through 14, Colorado Revised Statutes.

Under the general laws of Colorado, county assessors are required to value all taxable property within their territorial jurisdictions. The State Board of Equalization has supervision over the administration of all laws concerning the valuation and assessment of taxable property and the levying of property taxes. The Division of Property Taxation, under the leadership of the Property Tax Administrator, coordinates and administers the implementation of property tax law throughout the sixty-four counties.

RESIDENTIAL ASSESSMENT RATE

For most property classes, assessors estimate the "actual value" of property, which is multiplied by an assessment rate or percentage to determine the "assessed (taxable) value." Until 1982, the assessment rate for both residential and non-residential property was 30 percent. However, beginning in the early 1970's, the market values of residential property increased much faster than values of non-residential property, shifting a greater percentage of the tax burden to residential property owners. Article X, Section 3(1)(b), of the Colorado Constitution, was enacted in 1982 to stabilize the tax burden on residential property. The amendment established a floating assessment rate for residential property while fixing the assessment rate for most other classes at 29 percent. The residential assessment rate is adjusted during years of reappraisal to maintain a consistent ratio between the total statewide assessed values of residential and non-residential property. The residential assessment rate for tax years 2001 and 2002 was 9.15 percent.

The General Assembly adjusts the residential assessment rate based on the findings of a study conducted by the Division of Property Taxation. The study begins with a calculation of the ratio of statewide residential to non-residential value for the prior reappraisal year. The ratio is then adjusted to account for new construction of residential and non-residential property that occurred during the prior two years. For the purpose of this study, new construction includes new real and associated new personal property, and the net change in production volumes of the natural resources, oil and gas, and producing mines classes. If the assessed value of residential new construction is greater than the assessed value of non-residential new construction, the residential side of the ratio is likely to increase; if it is lower, the residential side of the ratio is likely to decrease.

The new ratio, also known as the "target percentage," is the goal to be achieved through the establishment of the new residential assessment rate. The target percentages used to calculate the 2001-2002 rate were 46.61 percent residential and 53.39 percent non-residential. A proportion problem is created in which the estimated statewide assessed value for non-residential property is applied to the ratio to calculate the desired assessed value for residential property. The desired residential assessed value is then compared to an estimated residential actual value to calculate the residential assessment rate.

Estimated values are used due to the timing of the study, which must be completed by April of each reappraisal year, prior to the establishment of new actual values by assessors. For most property classes, two primary methods are used for making the estimates:

1. Weighted monthly median sales ratio regression studies are performed on lists of qualified/verified sales that occurred during the appropriate data gathering period.
2. In-depth interviews are conducted with county assessors and staff.

A history of changes to the residential assessment rate is shown in table 1.

ASSESSED VALUES FOR 2001

Colorado assessed values increased by $10.06 billion, or 20.6 percent, between the 2000 and 2001 tax years. Table 2 breaks out the percentage change by property class.

Table 2

Class	Percent Change 2000-2001
Vacant Land	+ 30.8%
Residential	+ 29.9%
Commercial	+ 16.5%
Industrial	+ 11.5%
Agricultural	- 1.9%
Natural Resources	+ 4.2%
Producing Mines	- 9.8%
Oil & Gas	+ 78.5%
State Assessed	+ 9.5%
Net Total	+ 20.6%

The 20.6 percent increase in assessed value was the largest percentage change since 1987. The sharp increase was largely caused by the reappraisal of all properties from the 1998 to the 2000 level of value, reflecting market value increases attributable to the strength of the Colorado economy during that period. The strong economy also resulted in new construction totaling $1.8 billion in assessed value. Three classes of property, vacant land, residential and commercial, accounted for 82.6 percent ($8.3 billion) of the total assessed value increase. The increases to industrial and state assessed property are also attributable to the strength of the Colorado and national economies.

Unlike most classes, property in the natural resources, producing mines, and oil and gas classes is valued each year based on production that occurred during the prior year. Oil and gas experienced a 78.5 percent increase for 2001, due to significantly higher market prices for the commodities of oil and gas and associated increases in their production. The increase in value was also attributable to expanded production of coal bed methane, a natural gas extraction technique that became economically feasible in the 1990s.

Although the largest dollar increases occurred in Colorado's ten metropolitan counties, percentage increases of more than 10 percent occurred in every region of Colorado. Table 3 displays the increases to Colorado assessed values by region.

INCREASE IN VALUE 2000 - 2001
Region	$ change	% change
Metro Counties (10 counties)	$7,224,898,640	20.4%
Ski Counties (7 counties)	$1,338,968,961	24.1%
Other Mountain (29 counties)	$1,310,466,211	21.3%
Eastern Plains (17 counties)	$ 181,590,625	10.9%

TAXING ENTITIES

Revenue derived from 2001 property taxes (payable 2002) will increase statewide for every type of local government. The combined revenue increase from taxes payable in 2002 is 11.64 percent. Table 4 lists the percentage increases in property tax revenue between taxes payable in 2001 and taxes payable in 2002.

Table 4

Taxing Entity	% Increase 2000-2001
School District K-12	+ 8.91%
Junior Colleges	+ 25.95%
Counties	+ 12.17%
Municipalities	+ 20.84%
Special Districts	+ 17.13%
Combined Increase	+ 11.64%

As discussed in the overview, the largest share of local property tax revenue (54.0%) goes to support public schools. Schools, however, also receive a major portion of their funding from the state. Provisions in the state school finance act create a relationship between the distribution of state funding for schools and the assessed values within the individual districts. In general, districts with a greater assessed value per pupil receive less state aid than those with lower assessed values per pupil. The local property tax burden in those districts increases to fill the gap. During the 2001-2002 budget year, funding from the state is expected to provide $3,140 per pupil, or about 58 percent of schools' total program funding.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATIONMembership

The State Board of Equalization (state board) consists of the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, or their designees, and two members appointed by the Governor with consent of the Senate. Each appointed member must be a qualified appraiser, a former assessor, or a person who has knowledge and experience in property taxation. The state board members for 2001 were Lyle C. Kyle, Chairperson and appointee of Governor Bill Owens; Heather Witwer, Vice-Chair and designee of Governor Owens; Senator Terry Phillips, designee of Stan Matsunaka, President of the Senate; Representative Joe Stengel, designee of Doug Dean, Speaker of the House of Representatives; and JoAnn Groff, appointee of Governor Owens.

Duties and Responsibilities

The state board has various duties concerning the administration of property tax laws and equalization of the values of classes and subclasses of taxable property. Duties of the state board are found primarily in Article X, Sections 3 and 15 of the Colorado Constitution and in Title 39, Articles 1 & 9, Colorado Revised Statutes.

Among its duties, the state board reviews the findings and conclusions of the annual study and orders reappraisals in counties found not in compliance. The annual study was initiated by the 1982 amendment to the Constitution to ensure that all assessors value property at the same level of value using standardized procedures and statistical measurements. The study is conducted by an independent auditing firm contracted by the Director of Research, Legislative Council [39-1-104(16), C.R.S.]. The study and the resulting orders of reappraisal are the primary means of achieving statewide equalization.

The state board's equalization function is important due to the relationship between assessed values and state aid to schools. Generally, if the property in a school district is under-assessed, it is likely that the district will receive more state revenue than it is entitled. The state board also reviews county Abstracts of Assessment, decisions of county boards of equalization, and the policies and recommendations of the Property Tax Administrator.

2001 Enforcement and Repayment Actions

On October 15, 2001, the state board met to review the findings and conclusions of T.Y. Pickett & Company Inc., annual study contractor for Legislative Council.

The report by the annual study contractor recommended that two counties receive reappraisal orders. The recommendations were for the reappraisal of the commercial and industrial classes in Conejos County and the natural resources class in Routt County.

In response, the counties testified that they had resolved the problems identified in the report. Their testimony was supported by a representative of the annual study contractor, who confirmed that the company reviewed the revisions of both counties and that they were in compliance with the standards established by the state board. Based on the testimony, the state board determined that the values for the two counties, and Colorado's 61 other counties, were in compliance with Colorado assessment law, and no reappraisals were ordered.

2001 Possessory Interest Orders

Pursuant to the Colorado Supreme Court's decision in Board of County Commissioners, County of Eagle, State of Colorado v. Vail Associates Inc. and the Board of Assessment Appeals and Allen S.

Black et al. v. Colorado State Board of Equalization, 19 P.3d 1263 (Colo 2001), the state board unanimously voted on November 21, 2001, to order county assessors that were not parties to the case to value possessory interests beginning with tax year 2001. The order is discussed in more detail on page II-14.

2000 Enforcement and Repayment Actions

On October 10, 2000, the state board met to review the findings and conclusions of T.Y. Pickett & Company Inc., annual study contractor for Legislative Council.

After considering all evidence and testimony, the state board concluded that 2000 property values for all 63 counties were in compliance with Colorado assessment law, and no reappraisals were ordered.

The state board also reviewed the results of reappraisals ordered the prior year for vacant land in Park and Saguache Counties. The state board determined that the reappraisals in both counties were successfully completed, and it ordered the counties to make the following paybacks and reimbursements.

County	Supervision	State Aid to Schools Payback
Park	$6,602.07	$63.72
Saguache	$15,159.79	$90.43

Since 1988, the state board has allowed counties to choose an alternative method for the repayment of the supervision costs. Rather than paying the money to the state, counties are allowed to apply the supervision repayment to the budgets of their assessors' offices, for the purpose of enhancing their operational effectiveness.

The Saguache County Commissioners chose to employ the alternative method, and they submitted a plan detailing how the money would be used to enhance the effectiveness of the assessor's office. The Park County Commissioners chose not to employ this method of repayment, and they were ordered to pay the supervisory costs.

1999 Enforcement and Repayment Actions

The vacant land reappraisal orders for Park and Saguache Counties were issued during the October 12, 1999, meeting of the state board. At the meeting, the state board also determined that Fremont County's irrigated farm land was out of compliance. The state board's decisions were based on the 1999 findings and conclusions of annual study contractor T.Y. Pickett & Company Inc.

Vacant land values for Park County were found out of compliance because the reappraisal achieved a 26.46 percent coefficient of dispersion. That figure exceeds the vacant land standard of 20.99 percent. Saguache vacant land was out of compliance because the median sales ratio of 93.06 percent fell outside the allowable range of 95.0 to 105.0 percent.

A reappraisal of Fremont County's irrigated land was ordered because the crop yield used for valuing the subclass was 125 percent of the ten-year average yield reported by the Colorado Agricultural Statistics Service (CASS). This fell outside the state board's compliance standard of 90 to 110 percent. Upon receiving the order, the county made a uniform adjustment to its irrigated land values to achieve compliance with the state board standard prior to publication of the tax warrant.

On December 3, 1999, the state board met and approved the plans for reappraisal submitted by Park and Saguache County. The state board rescinded the reappraisal order for Fremont County upon receiving testimony from the Division of Property Taxation that Fremont's adjusted values for irrigated land were in compliance. The state board did not consider repayment actions for 1999, because all 1998 values were found to be in compliance.

1998 Enforcement and Repayment Actions

On October 5, 1998, the state board met to review the findings and conclusions of annual study contractor T.Y. Pickett & Company Inc.

After considering all evidence and testimony, the state board concluded that 1998 property values for all 63 counties were in compliance with Colorado assessment law, and no reappraisals were ordered.

The prior year, the state board determined that the 1997 values for three counties were out of compliance, and issued the following reappraisal orders:

County	Property Classes Ordered
Lake	Vacant Land
Routt	Agricultural Sub-Classes
Hinsdale	Single Family Residential, Vacant Land, Commercial/ Industrial, Agricultural Improvements

Upon recommendation of the auditor, the state board concluded during its 1998 meeting, that the 1997 orders were justified and successfully completed. It ordered the counties that received 1997 orders to make the following paybacks and reimbursements.

County	Supervision	State Aid to Schools Payback
Lake	$10,599.00	$ 0.00
Routt	$ 878.23	$81.79
Hinsdale	$ 959.30	$ 7.47

The counties chose the alternative repayment method of applying the supervisory costs to the budgets of the assessor's offices.

DIVISION OF PROPERTY TAXATION

Under the general laws of Colorado, the Division of Property Taxation is headed by the Property Tax Administrator. The Administrator is appointed by the State Board of Equalization to serve for a five-year term and until a successor is appointed and qualified.

One primary responsibility of the Division of Property Taxation (division) is to administer the implementation of property tax law throughout the sixty-four counties so that valuations are fair, uniform, and defensible, thereby ensuring that each property class contributes only a fair share of the total property tax revenue. In other words, the division's goal is equalization of valuation and proper distribution of property taxes throughout the state.

The division is comprised of four sections: Administrative Resources, Appraisal Standards, Exempt Properties, and State Assessed Properties.

Administrative Resources staff serves as liaison to the sixty-four counties in determining existing and future needs for assistance from the division. In addition, the section serves as a liaison and coordinator with a variety of other agencies having an interest in property taxation.

The staff conducts all courses dealing with statutory reporting and the administration of an assessor's office and provides workshops in specialized areas of assessment administration such as parcel mapping, severed mineral assessment, and title conveyance.

The staff also researches, develops, and publishes manuals on assessment procedures and legal references, publishes the Mobile Equipment Manual for county clerks and recorders, and provides data processing coordination and administrative services for the division. It conducts research projects for the division and the General Assembly and provides administrative services for the State Board of Equalization and the Statutory Advisory Committee to the Property Tax Administrator. It also responds to taxpayer complaints and processes abatement petitions while providing technical consultation and assistance to county staff.

Appraisal Standards staff serves as liaison to the sixty-four counties in determining existing and future needs for assistance from the division primarily in the appraisal field. It also serves as a liaison and coordinator with a variety of other appraisal agencies and companies having an interest in property taxation.

The staff conducts courses dealing with all aspects of appraisal including the three approaches to value. It also conducts workshops in specialized areas such as standards and ethics for appraisers, sales ratio studies, agricultural valuation, vacant land discounting procedures, and the valuation of possessory interests. All appraisal courses are approved for licensing by the Colorado Board of Real Estate Appraisers.

Appraisal Standards also researches, develops and publishes manuals on appraisal procedures for both real and personal property.

Exempt Properties examines all applications for exemption from property taxation for property claimed to be owned and used solely and exclusively for religious worship, private schools, or charitable purposes, and makes determinations on the applications. Annual reports of exempt properties are reviewed to determine continuations of the exemptions. The Exemptions Section reviews approximately 650 applications and 9,700 annual reports for exemption each year.

State Assessed Properties values all public utility properties in the state. The State Assessed Section sets values on approximately 600 companies every year.

POSSESSORY INTEREST

Overview

The term "possessory interest" refers to the right to occupy and use property pursuant to a lease, permit, license, concession, contract, or other agreement that does not transfer title. Within the Colorado assessment community, the term specifically refers to privately held possessory interests in public land and improvements. A question of considerable concern to Colorado assessors has been whether a possessory interest in government owned property, such as a ski resort's permit to use Forest Service land, represents a taxable interest, even though the government's fee interest in the land is exempt.

The issue has evolved through a series of court decisions and legislation, culminating in the February 26, 2001, Colorado Supreme Court decision in the consolidated cases Board of County Commissioners, County of Eagle, State of Colorado v. Vail Associates Inc. and the Board of Assessment Appeals and Allen S. Black et al. v. Colorado State Board of Equalization, 19 P.3d 1263 (Colo 2001).

By a 4 to 3 majority, the court reversed decisions of the Court of Appeals, and affirmed the taxable status of possessory interests in publicly owned property. The court declared that portions of the recently enacted statute, 39-3-136, C.R.S., were unconstitutional, because they created an exemption that did not fall within any of the exemption categories specified in Article X, of the Colorado Constitution. Section 3 of Article X is quoted in part as follows: "Each property tax levy shall be uniform upon all real and personal property not exempt from taxation under this article...."

To better understand the decision, the following narrative traces the history of the possessory interest debate, from the original Mesa Verde case to the Court's recent decision in Vail Associates.

Mesa Verde I

In 1967, Mesa Verde Company filed an abatement/refund petition with Montezuma County seeking a refund of property taxes paid "under protest" since 1937. Mesa Verde claimed that the improvements on which the company was taxed were exempt, because they were owned by the federal government. The petition was denied by the County Board of Equalization, and the company appealed to District Court. The court dismissed the appeal, ruling it must look "behind the shadow of the United States' title to the substantive ownership of plaintiff." The court ruled that Mesa Verde "had substantially all the incidents of ownership of these improvements" making them subject to taxation. Mesa Verde appealed the court's decision to the Supreme Court.

In Mesa Verde Company v. Montezuma County Board of Commissioners, et al., 178 Colo 49, 495 P. 2d 229 (Colo. 1972), the Colorado Supreme Court affirmed the District Court's ruling. The court noted that the contracts with the Secretary of the Interior granted Mesa Verde "...a possessory interest in all concessionaire's improvements consisting of all incidents of ownership...." The court stated that based on "...the contracts' terms, the language of relevant statutes, and the actions of the parties while under contract..." it was able to conclude there was support in the record for the trial court's finding. Of significance is the court's finding that legal title vested in the United States only for collateral security purposes for performance conditions is not conclusive evidence of ownership by the United States. In addition, since significant incidents of the plaintiff's ownership exist, the property should not be exempt from taxation.

Enactment of 39-3-112, C.R.S. (amendments followed)

The General Assembly entered the debate in 1975 with the passage of an act titled CONCERNING THE TAXATION OF A POSSESSORY INTEREST IN

PROPERTY OTHERWISE EXEMPT FROM TAXATION. The act created 39-3-112, C.R.S., which is quoted in part as follows

When any property which for any reason is exempt from taxation is leased, loaned, or otherwise made available to and used by a private individual, association, or corporation in connection with a business conducted for profit, the lessee or user thereof shall be subject to taxation in the same amount and to the same extent as though the lessee or user were the owner of such property,... 39-3-112(1), C.R.S.

Although 39-3-112, C.R.S., clearly stated the legislature's intention that most possessory interests be taxed, it exempted certain possessory interests, such as agricultural land and public utility easements, from the provisions of the statute.

During the years that followed, the General Assembly amended the statute with several new exemptions to possessory interest taxation.

- SB 76-29 amended 39-3-112(4), C.R.S., to exempt, for the term of an existing lease, property owned by a municipality and leased to a private entity in connection with a business, when the lease was initiated prior to July 1, 1976.
- HB 79-1531 amended 39-3-112(4)(c), C.R.S., to exempt possessory interests in publicly owned property when the use "...is by way of lease of or a concession in or relative to the use of public airport, park, market, fairground, or similar property which is available to the use of the general public." Ski area property was specifically excluded from the exemption, and it continued to be valued by procedures stated in subsection six for federal lands used for recreational purposes.

- HB 79-1021 amended 39-3-112(1), C.R.S., to exempt real property furnished to a government contractor that "...maintains permanent records substantiating the terms of such contract," and to exempt possessory interests in property used by airline companies. The bill also amended 39-3-112(5), C.R.S., to exempt possessory interests in land owned by the state of Colorado and managed by the State Board of Land Commissioners.
- HB 83-1575 amended the "public airport" exemption found in 39-3-112(4)(c), C.R.S., to include property owned by an authority created by the Public Airport Authority Act, and to limit the exemption to property located "...within the boundaries of a public airport (that) is directly related to the ordinary function of the airport."
- HB 88-1015 amended 39-3-112(6), C.R.S., to specify that "the possessory interest, and only the possessory interest..." in federal lands used for recreational purposes be taxed. It also provided more detailed procedures for the valuation of possessory interests in recreational lands.

Rockwell Case

In 1980, the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled in the United States of America v. State of Colorado, et al. (Rockwell Case), 627 F.2d 217 (1980), that management contracts do not create a possessory interest in property that is used in conjunction with the agreement. This case concerned the Rocky Flats Nuclear Weapons Plant and the operator/manager, Rockwell International. The court determined the relationship between the government and Rockwell was such that the company operated under a management contract and any use of the property was strictly delineated by the contract, making it not fall under the description of possessory interest.

Southern Cafeteria Case

In 1983, the Colorado Court of Appeals cited the "Rockwell Case" in Southern Cafeteria Inc. v. Property Tax Administrator, et al., 677 P.2d 362 (Colo. App. 1983) (Southern Cafeteria) ruling that management contracts cannot be valued as a possessory interest. Once again, the court found that the taxpayer had no "incidents of ownership" over the property. The government provided essentially all equipment, fixtures, and real property, monitored the pricing structure, and maintained control over the amount of profit Southern Cafeteria could realize.

39-3-112, C.R.S., repealed

39-3-135, C.R.S., enacted

As part of a 1989 recodification of article three, HB-1098 repealed 39-3-112, C.R.S., and reenacted the statute as 39-3-135, C.R.S. No substantive changes to the law were made.

Mesa Verde II

Mesa Verde Company reentered the debate in 1992 when, under an order from the Montezuma County Board of Equalization, the assessor placed an omitted property assessment on four parcels of land on which the company operated its concessions. Mesa Verde Company still operated under a contract with the U.S. Government to manage the improvements for the benefit of the general public. Mesa Verde protested, then appealed to the County Board of Equalization, but was denied. The taxpayer then appealed to District Court, which ruled that: 1. "Mesa Verde (did) not enjoy a taxable 'ownership interest' in the subject land". (p. 3) 2. "Mesa Verde's use and possessory interest in the subject land was ... exempt from Colorado property tax under the plain language of sections 39-3-135(1) and 39-3-135(4)(c)..." (p. 3), and 3. Montezuma County had no standing to challenge the constitutionality of those portions of the statute. Mesa Verde Company v. the Montezuma County Board of Equalization et al., 898 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1995).

The Montezuma County Board of Equalization appealed the issue of standing directly to the Supreme Court. In Mesa Verde Company v. Montezuma County Board of Equalization et al., 831 P.2d 482 (Colo. 1992), the Supreme Court affirmed that the county board of equalization and assessor lacked standing to challenge the constitutionality of statute.

Mesa Verde III

The Legislature passed SB 93-46 the following year, enacting 30-11-105.1, C.R.S., to authorize counties or county officers, in defending an action in court, to contest the constitutionality of a statute. Subsequently, Montezuma County filed a motion in District Court to vacate its judgment in Mesa Verde II. The court agreed to vacate part of its order regarding the county's standing, but kept other parts of the order in force until it could rule on the constitutionality of exemptions cited in 39-3-135(1) and 39-3-135(4)(c), C.R.S.

In October 1993, the District Court denied the county's motion to vacate its judgment, and instead ruled that the entirety of 39-3-135, C.R.S., was unconstitutional as applied to users of federal land because it violated the Supremacy Clause of the U.S. Constitution. The court held that neither the federal land nor any alleged interest of Mesa Verde in the federal land is subject to Colorado property taxation, and that the county had no authority to tax Mesa Verde's use and possessory interest. Montezuma County appealed to the Colorado Supreme Court.

On April 24, 1995, in Mesa Verde Co. v. Montezuma County Board of Equalization et al., 898 P.2d 1 (Colo. 1995), the Supreme Court reversed the judgment of the District Court, ruling that:

- Mesa Verde Company's possessory interest was "real property" within the meaning of statutory provisions defining real property for tax purposes.

- Mesa Verde Company's possessory interest fell within the Government Contractor Exemption and the Public Park Exemption. However, those exemptions were invalid; they represented attempts by the Legislature to exempt real property that the Colorado Constitution did not authorize the Legislature to exempt.
- The Supremacy Clause did not preclude the state's taxation of the concessionaire's possessory and usufructuary interests in federally owned land.
- The resulting tax was valid because the Ski Area Valuation Rule (and not the unqualified As-if owned Rule) applied to determine valuation, 39-3-135(6), C.R.S.

In reaching its decision, the Supreme Court ruled that the second sentence of 39-3-135 (1) and all of (4)(c) were unconstitutional because they created exemptions not authorized by Article X of the Colorado Constitution. The court also stated: "...Furthermore, sections 9 and 10 of Article X specifically proscribe the legislative power 'to impair the financial base of government operations' by exempting corporate bodies, such as Mesa Verde, from their share of taxation. Allardice v. Adams County, 173 Colo. 133, 158, 476 P.2d 982, 995 (1970); see also Colo. Const. Art. X; Sections 9 & 10...." (p. 8)

39-3-135, C.R.S., repealed
39-3-136 & 39-1-103(17), C.R.S. enacted

In response to the Supreme Court's decision in Mesa Verde III, the General Assembly passed SB 96-218. The bill repealed 39-3-135, C.R.S., and enacted 39-3-136 and 39-1-103(17), C.R.S. The legislation had the following effect on the taxation of possessory interests in exempt property:

- It stated that possessory interests should not be taxed with the exceptions of: 1) equities in state lands, 2) mines, quarries, or minerals, including hydrocarbons, and 3) public utilities. 39-3-136(1)(h), C.R.S.
- It repealed 39-3-135, C.R.S., in its entirety and further stated that possessory interests in real or personal property exempt from taxation under 39-3-136, C.R.S., shall not be subject to taxation unless specific statutory provisions are enacted directing the taxation of possessory interests.
- It established procedures for valuing possessory interests that take effect if possessory interests are found to be taxable under the Constitution, 39-1-103(17), C.R.S.

The stated concern of the Legislature was the Supreme Court's holding that certain possessory interests in land are "real property" and, therefore, subject to property taxation. The Legislature felt the decision opened the door for a variety of possessory interest valuations such as grazing leases, permits on government land, or government employees' parking spaces in government-owned garages becoming subject to property taxation. Further, those interests could be valued by different methods.

SB 96-218 was signed by Governor Romer on June 5, 1996, a month after the statutory date for mailing Notices of Valuation to taxpayers. When the State Board of Equalization (state board) met on October 16, 1996, eighteen counties had not yet removed possessory interest valuations because they believed the legislation was unconstitutional. The state board continued the hearing on possessory interests to October 28, 1996, so that counties had time to prepare presentations. The board also informed the counties of its intention to uphold 39-3-136, C.R.S.

Counties' challenge to 39-3-136, C.R.S.

When the state board met on October 28, 1996, fourteen counties had not removed the possessory interest valuations. The state board issued orders to each of the counties to remove the valuations, and it further ordered the counties to report back by November 13, 1996, that the order had been implemented.

The state board met on November 19, 1996, to review the counties' responses. Ten counties notified the state board that they had not removed the possessory interest valuations. To protect remedies, Boulder County filed an appeal in Denver District Court November 13, 1996; Clear Creek County filed in Denver District Court November 13, 1996, and seven counties filed an action November 25, 1996. The seven counties were Eagle, Grand, Jefferson, Montezuma, Pitkin, Routt, and Summit. Gunnison County chose not to file an appeal in anticipation of the state board's filing a petition for writ of mandamus with the Supreme Court.

In December, 1996, the state board filed a petition for writ of mandamus with the Supreme Court asking the court to order the ten counties to show cause why they should not comply with the state board's order to remove the possessory interest valuations from the county assessment rolls. The state board also requested the court to stay the proceedings pending in Denver District Court. On December 19, 1996, the court denied the petition without comment.

On August 11, 1997, Denver District Court ruled in favor of the State Board of Equalization and upheld the constitutionality of SB 96-218. The court based its ruling on the following points:

- The Supreme Court's decision in Mesa Verde Co. v. Montezuma is clearly based on a statutory definition of possessory interests as "real property." "The Supreme Court did not hold, or even suggest, that the subject land-use rights were inherently 'real property' as that term is defined in Article X, section 3," of the Constitution. Subsequent to the Supreme Court's decision, the Legislature enacted 39-3-136, C.R.S., (SB 96-218) to exclude possessory interests from the statutory definition of "real property."

- The counties did not meet the burden to prove SB 96-218 unconstitutional beyond a reasonable doubt.
- There is no requirement in the Colorado Constitution to tax possessory interests.
- The state board did not abuse its discretion in ordering all counties with 1996 possessory interest assessments to remove them from their tax rolls.

The counties appealed to the Court of Appeals, and on December 24, 1998, the court issued its decision that affirmed the decision of the district court. In doing so, the court cited the reasoning in Vail Associates, Inc. v. Eagle County Board of County Commissioners, 983 P.2d 49 (Colo. App. 1998). This closely related case came before the court when Eagle County appealed the BAA's decision requiring it to remove Vail Associates' possessory interest value from the tax roll.

In Vail Associates, the court based its decision on an understanding that the taxation of property requires implementing legislation; therefore, "the General Assembly has the discretion to determine questions of time, method, nature, purpose, and extent in respect to the imposition of taxes, the subjects upon which the taxing power is to be exercised, and the proceedings concerning taxation." (p. 54) The court said the constitution is a document that sets the limits in which the General Assembly can operate, but there is no restriction against the General Assembly taking actions within those limits. In the court's opinion, the General Assembly recognized its limitations "noting that it could not create a class of property to be taxed and then exempt certain members of that class." (p. 56) Therefore, the General Assembly “decided that it simply would not create that class consisting of possessory interests.” (p. 56)

The court also addressed the county's objection that upon enacting 39-3-136, C.R.S., the Legislature did not amend 39-1-102(14) or 39-1-111, C.R.S. These are the statutes cited in Mesa Verde III as defining possessory interests as real property subject to taxation. By not amending them, the county argued possessory interests were still defined by statute as real property. The court disagreed. “It is not for the reviewing court to determine that the General Assembly could have addressed an issue in a different or ‘better’ manner. Rather, the court’s function is to uphold the intent of the General Assembly and determine whether a statute is constitutional.” (p. 56) The counties appealed the decisions of both cases to the Colorado Supreme Court.

Vail Associates

The Supreme Court consolidated the two cases, and in Board of County Commissioners, County of Eagle, State of Colorado v. Vail Associates Inc. and the Board of Assessment Appeals and Allen S. Black et al. v. Colorado State Board of Equalization, 19 P.3d 1263 (Colo 2001), the court overturned the decisions of the Court of Appeals. In its decision, the court found that 39-3-136, C.R.S., “unconstitutionally exempts some private possessory interests in tax-exempt property from taxation, contrary to Article X ... and (the court’s) controlling decision in (Mesa Verde III).” (p.1267) As previously stated, the Colorado Constitution provides that “...each property tax levy shall be uniform upon all real and personal property not exempt from taxation under this article....” COLO. CONST. art. X, § 3(1)(a).

The court agreed with the Court of Appeals, that the taxation of property requires implementing legislation, but it said the General Assembly’s authority is not unconstrained. “First, the General Assembly cannot refuse to exercise its taxation authority; it must enact tax statutes so that governmental operations may be funded.... Second, it cannot provide purely statutory exemptions from taxation that are not within the constitutional exemption categories of Article X.... Third, it must not enact provisions that exempt certain private interests from bearing their fair and proportionate burden of taxation.” (p. 1274)

The court found that the enactment of 39-3-136, C.R.S., violated each of these constraints. Its decision rests in part on reasoning stated in Mesa Verde III, that possessory interests in real property are themselves real property as defined by 39-1-102(14)(a), C.R.S.

“Real Property” means: (a) All lands or interests in lands to which title or the right of title has been acquired from the government of the United States or from sovereign authority ratified by treaties entered into by the United States, or from the state,.... 39-1-102(14)(a), C.R.S. (emphasis added by court) (p. 1274)

Although 39-3-136(1)(g), C.R.S., is quoted as saying that provisions of 39-1-102(14)(a), C.R.S., “do not direct the taxation of possessory interests in exempt properties,” the court disagreed with the appellate court’s opinion that its enactment removed possessory interests from the statutory definition of real property. “Defining property for taxation purposes and directing taxation of that property are different concepts,” (p. 1275) the court said.

Instead, the court found that 39-3-136, C.R.S., imposed the following changes on the taxation of possessory interests:

- The statute “defines a class of property known as ‘possessory interests.’” (p. 1277)
- It “prohibits taxation of a subclass of that property – possessory interests in otherwise tax-exempt property – from taxation while continuing taxation of other possessory interests.” (p. 1277)

- And it “carves out certain interests within the subclass for continued taxation.” (p. 1277)

“This disparate tax treatment within the same class of property is only permissible if the property exempted in the statute is also exempted in the constitution,” (p. 1277) the court said. However, the only constitutional exemption from the taxation of possessory interests in exempt property is specific to the taxation of non-producing unpatented mining claims. (p. 1278) Therefore, “the express language of section 39-3-136 operates as a purely legislative exemption to taxation that is not authorized under Article X.” (p. 1278)

Accordingly, the court severed 39-3-136, C.R.S., and the final sentence of 39-1-106, C.R.S., and left in place the valuation provisions found in section 39-1-103(17), C.R.S., that the General Assembly intended to apply if the court required the taxation of possessory interests in exempt property. (p. 1280) On March 30, 2001, the State Board of Equalization voted that upon receiving the remands from District Court, appropriate orders would be issued to the counties.

State Board Orders Assessment of Possessory Interests

The Supreme Court’s decision affirmed the taxable status of the possessory interest property assessed by counties who were parties to Vail Associates. Their possessory interests were taxable for the years in which they were placed on the assessment rolls and for future years. However, the question remained as to whether other possessory interest property was taxable for the years in which the state board ordered its removal, or whether it was taxable beginning in 2001, the year the court issued its decision. This included possessory interests that had been removed by counties in response to the state board’s 1996 order and possessory interests, such as grazing rights, that had not been previously assessed.

The state board addressed the question during its November 21 meeting, in which members voted unanimously to order “... all county assessors except those who were parties to (Vail Associates, to) value possessory interests for property tax years 2001, 2002 and forward.”

The order explained that the intent of the legislature was expressed in statute, including section 39-10-101(2)(a)(II), C.R.S., (amended in 1996) that reads in part: “...the treasurer shall not treat any possessory interest in exempt property, as described in section 39-3-136(1)(a), as taxable property omitted from the tax list and warrant for any year if the exclusion of the possessory interest from the assessment roll was based upon any provision of law created or repealed by Senate Bill 96-218...” The state board said “the courts will defer to clear legislative intent regarding the retrospective application of court decisions. Kuhn v. State Department of Revenue, 817 P.2d 101, 110 (Colo. 1991).”

CITY AND COUNTY OF BROOMFIELD

On November 15, 2001, the City and County of Broomfield became Colorado’s 64th county and its second City and County. The City and County was created under a 1998 amendment to the Colorado Constitution that enacted Sections 10 through 13 of Article XX. Under Section 10, all territory that was part of the municipal boundaries of the City of Broomfield was on November 15, detached from the Counties of Adams, Boulder, Jefferson, and Weld and became the new City and County of Broomfield.

Unlike Colorado’s statutory counties, Section 11 provides that Broomfield’s county officers are either appointed or elected as specified in Broomfield’s charter. Under the current charter, many of Broomfield’s officers, including the assessor, are appointed by the City Manager. The City Council performs the functions of the County Commission. In 2000, Nancy Anders, the former Assessor of Grand County, was appointed the Assessor of Broomfield.

Creating a new Assessor's Office required the transfer of records for the affected property to Broomfield, and its consolidation into uniform database and mapping systems. Broomfield also initiated a new concept for Colorado county government by consolidating some of the functions of the Assessor, Treasurer and Clerk and Recorder to provide one-stop shopping for its customers.

During 2001, the question arose as to whether Broomfield would be within its right to retain property taxes it would collect in 2002 on property assessed by the other counties for tax year 2001. The Counties of Jefferson and Adams filed suit on the question in Jefferson and Adams County District Courts. The counties contended that they were entitled to the revenue because property taxes are paid in arrears. As stated by Adams County, it "...claims entitlement to 2001 property taxes because it acquired the interest and right to such taxes conferred by statute on January 1, 2001."

In decisions of both the Jefferson County District Court, issued October 19, 2001, and the Adams County District Court, issued March 11, 2002, the courts determined that Broomfield was entitled to the county portion of the revenue. The decisions of both courts rest in part on language in the constitutional amendment that created the City and County of Broomfield, and on the relationship between the processes of property taxation and budgeting.

The courts determined that under Section 12, the duty of the four counties to provide services to the transferred territory ceased on November 15, 2001, and became the responsibility of the new City and County from that point forward. As stated in the decision of the Adams court, "...the voting public intended the City and County of Broomfield to be a fully functioning governmental entity with the resources to provide the required services." (p. 4)

The Adams District Court continued by describing the assessment, levy and expenditure of taxes as a five part process composed of the following parts: 1) assessment, 2) equalization, 3) budgeting, 4) setting the mill levy, and 5) collection and expenditure. The court said that if Adams County were to receive the revenue, it "would represent a windfall to Adams County since the services for the residents of the property no longer in Adams County, but now lying within the boundaries of the City and County of Broomfield, must be provided and paid for by the City and County of Broomfield for the year 2002." (p. 2-3)

Both Jefferson and Adams Counties have appealed the decisions.

SENIOR CITIZEN PROPERTY TAX HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION

In 2000, Colorado voters amended the state Constitution with the adoption of Section 3.5 of Article X. The amendment, and subsequent legislation, created a property tax exemption for two groups of people: a) Qualifying seniors and b) Surviving spouses of seniors who previously qualified.

For those who qualify, 50 percent of the first $200,000 in actual value of their primary residence is exempted. The exemption is effective January 1, 2002, for tax bills payable beginning in 2003. The assessor must annually mail a notice of the availability of the senior property tax exemption to the owners of all residential property in Colorado. Qualified individuals must file an application with the assessor, and once granted, the exemption remains in effect for future years until a change in the property's ownership or occupancy requires its removal.

The exemption will not result in a loss of revenue to local governments. Each year, county treasurers will send the State Treasurer an itemized list of the exemptions granted and taxes exempted. The state will reimburse local governments for the lost revenue. The amendment authorizes an increase of $44,123,604 to the state's 2001-2002 fiscal year spending limit.

In 2001, a committee of assessors, treasurers and Division of Property Taxation staff created a pair of application forms and a public information brochure about the exemption. Division staff also hosted or attended several meetings with assessors and treasurers regarding administration of the exemption.

PROTESTS, APPEALS & ABATEMENTS

Protests and Appeals of Value

Colorado statutes mandate a process that allows taxpayers the opportunity to challenge the actual value established by the assessor. The process begins with the taxpayer's protest to the assessor. Upon receiving a protest, the assessor reviews the issues raised, and based on a preponderance of the evidence, either adjusts or maintains the actual value established for the property. Taxpayers who disagree with the assessor's decision can appeal to the County Board of Equalization (CBOE) comprised of the county commissioners. Taxpayers who disagree with the CBOE's decision have three choices for further appeal; they can appeal to the State Board of Assessment Appeals (BAA), district court, or binding arbitration. Decisions of the BAA and district court can be appealed to the Colorado Court of Appeals and ultimately to the Colorado Supreme Court. Decisions of an arbitrator are final.

The number of protests and appeals varies greatly from county to county. During 2001, Larimer County received the greatest number of appeals with 13,422 while Kiowa County received only 2. For many counties, the protest process places a significant strain on the resources of the assessor's office, resulting in many hours of overtime or compensated time. Table Five lists the protests and CBOE appeals for each county during the last three reappraisal years, organized according to the county officer pay categories established in 30-2-102, C.R.S. For the purpose of this table, The City and County of Denver is placed in category one. Table six provides a summary of protest and appeal statistics.

Taxpayers can protest and appeal in both reappraisal years, such as those shown in tables five and six, and in intervening years. However, the number of protests and appeals is much greater during reappraisal years.

Abatements

Abatement petitions can be filed for taxes erroneously or illegally levied, for overvaluation, or for an assessment error. Taxpayers who filed a protest can file an abatement petition only for a clerical error or an illegality, but not for an overvaluation. The question of overvaluation involves appraisal judgment, which was reviewed during the protest if a protest was filed.

Abatement petitions can be filed up to two years after the date the taxes are due. Because abatement petitions are filed on taxes already levied, the abated or refunded taxes constitute lost revenue to the affected local governments; however, 39-10-114(1)(a)(I)(B), C.R.S., and case law authorize local governments to recover abated taxes through an increase in their mill levies. Table seven displays the taxes abated during 1999, 2000, and 2001.

AGRICULTURAL TIMBERLAND

In 1990, the Colorado legislature passed HB 90-1229, expanding the definition of "agricultural land" to include forested land that meets certain requirements. The definition reads as follows:

A parcel of land that consists of at least forty acres, that is forest land, that is used to produce tangible wood products that originate from the productivity of such land for the primary purpose of obtaining a monetary profit, that is subject to a forest management plan, and that is not a farm or ranch, as defined in subsections (3.5) and (13.5) of this section. "Agricultural land" under this subparagraph (II) includes land underlying any residential improvement located on such agricultural land.
39-1-102(1.6)(a)(II), C.R.S.

Since the enactment of this law, numerous owners have taken advantage of it to secure significant tax reductions by developing "forest management plans" on what otherwise would generally be classified as vacant or residential improved land. This has resulted in a loss of revenue for the 2001 tax year to the following counties that have "agricultural timberland."

An estimated 54.0% of this lost revenue, or $2,070,683 would have gone to the local school districts.

SHIFT OF PROPERTY TAX BURDEN DUE TO GALLAGHER AMENDMENT

Table Number 9 on the following pages, shows the shift of property tax burden away from residential owners from the inception of the Gallagher Amendment through 2001. Residential taxpayers have saved approximately $5,922,815,006 since the amendment's inception.

The table begins with 1987, because the residential assessment rate remained at 21% until 1987. The contents of each row in the table are described below.

- Row 1. Hypothetical residential assessment rate, 21%.
- Row 2. Actual residential assessment rate for each particular year.
- Row 3. Actual average mill levy.
- Row 4. Hypothetical average mill levy, had the residential rate been 21% every year. This is calculated by dividing the total actual revenue received in each year (Row 9), by the total assessed value, had the residential rate been 21% (Row 8).
- Row 5. Actual total residential assessed value.
- Row 6. Actual total statewide assessed value.
- Row 7. Total hypothetical residential assessed value, had the residential rate remained at 21%.
- Row 8. Hypothetical total assessed value, had the residential assessment rate remained at 21%.
- Row 9. Total actual statewide property tax revenue.
- Row 10. Total hypothetical tax revenue attributable to residential property, had the residential rate remained at 21%. This is calculated by multiplying the hypothetical mill levy at 21% (Row 4) by the hypothetical residential assessed value at 21% (Row 7).

- Row 11. Total actual property tax revenue.
- Row 12. Savings to residential taxpayers, Row 10 minus Row 11.

Concerning the authority of counties to adopt subdivision regulations that entitle subdividers to fair share reimbursement of the cost of improvements from owners of property that benefits from the improvements.

The bill adds a new subsection, 30-28-133(12), C.R.S., that allows counties to adopt subdivision regulations that entitle subdividers to fair-share reimbursement of the cost of any streets and related facilities, water distribution systems, sewage collection systems, storm drainage facilities and other improvements the county requires the subdivider to construct adjacent to or outside the subdivision. The reimbursable costs, less any county reimbursement, are paid to the subdivider by the owners of subsequently developed property situated adjacent to the improvements or by the owners of property that has presumed use of the improvements. The regulations must specify a time period, of not more than 15 years from the date of completion of the improvements, during which the subdivider may seek reimbursement. The regulations may entitle subdivider to interest.

 Effective Date: August 8, 2001, if no referendum petition is filed.

Concerning notice requirements for persons holding title to property in a representative capacity.

The bill amends 38-30-108, C.R.S., adds 38-30-108.5, C.R.S., repeals 38-30-109, C.R.S., and modifies 30-30-166, C.R.S.

A trust can now take, hold, and convey title to real property in the trust name. In order to evidence the existence of a trust and the authority of one or more trustees to act on behalf of the trust with respect to an interest in real property held in the name of the trust, any trustee of the trust may execute and record with the county clerk and recorder of the county in which the real property is located, a statement of authority pursuant to section 38-30-172(2), C.R.S. The Trust Affidavit required under previous law (38-30-166), C.R.S., is no longer required.

The common law is not superceded and a trust can still take title in the trustees' names. When title to trust property is taken in the trustees' names, the representative capacity of the trustees must be described in one of the following ways:

- Naming the person represented, e.g., "John Jones as Trustee for Mary Smith"
- Identifying the statute, trust or other agreement or court appointment under which the trustee is acting, e.g., "John Jones, Trustee of the Jones Intervivos Revocable Trust dated July 14, 1997" or "John Jones Trustee under C.R.S. 15-14-207"
- Referring, by recording information, to a document recorded in the office of the clerk and recorder of the county in which the property is located, which creates the representative capacity, e.g., "John Jones, Trustee under Trust Agreement recorded May 25, 2001 in Book 1791 at Page 485 of the records of Adams County, Colorado")

If one of the three methods is not used to describe the representative capacity, the person is presumed to take title as an individual and not in any representative capacity.

If the person is, in fact, taking title in a representative capacity such as trustee but this capacity was not properly described using one of the three methods described above, the deficiency can be cured by the person signing and recording an affidavit which refers to the document by which the person took title and describes the representative capacity. From the time of recording the affidavit, the person is deemed to hold title in the representative capacity and not as an individual. The authority of the trustee to act for the trust in conveying, mortgaging, leasing or otherwise dealing with real property can be shown of record by the trustee signing and recording a Statement of Authority under 38-30-172, C.R.S.

39-3.5-119(2), C.R.S., states that individuals will not be prohibited from examining recorded documents in the clerk and recorder's office nor shall it be construed to prohibit the disclosure of information:

- Required in connection with granting or denying a claim for deferral,
- Required in connection with an administrative, judicial, or other legal proceeding,
- Required in connection with the conveyance, sale, or encumbrance of a specific property,
- When the information is contained in a statistical compilation or other informational summary that does not disclose individual identifying information, or

- When the individual claiming the exemption has agreed to the disclosure

SB 01-144

Concerning the promotion of energy efficiency.

The bill amends 39-4-102(1), C.R.S., by the addition of a new paragraph. In valuing a renewable energy facility that primarily generates electricity, it directs the Property Tax Administrator to not consider the additional incremental cost of building a renewable energy facility over that of a comparable nonrenewable energy facility.

Section 2 of the bill amends 40-2-122, C.R.S., by the addition of a new subsection. This subsection directs the Public Utilities Commission to investigate natural gas public utilities' supply practices. Based on the findings, the Commission may provide recommendations as to how natural gas portfolios might be structured in the future to provide for greater long-term natural gas price stability for consumers. A report is to be submitted to the transportation legislation review committee on or before February 1, 2004, and biennially on or before every other February 1 thereafter. The report will reflect the status of the coal syngas component of natural gas public utilities portfolios.

Section 3 requires the governor's office of energy management and conservation to file a report with the general assembly within six months after the effective date of this act. The report will include a review of new federal programs resulting from the passage of any federal energy policy legislation, which identifies opportunities to construct new renewable and fossil fuel electricity generating facilities in Colorado with new federal funds that may become available.

Section 4 adds 40-2-123, C.R.S., which directs the commission to give the fullest possible consideration to the cost-effective implementation of new clean energy and energy-efficient technologies in its consideration of generation acquisitions for electric utilities.

- That there is a substantial likelihood that a third party holds some or all interest in oil, gas, other minerals, or geothermal energy in the property. AND
- That the mineral estate may include the right to enter and use the property without the surface owner's permission.

A title insurance agent or title insurance company:

- May rely on recorded documents that impart constructive notice in the county clerk and recorder's office, and shall not be liable for any errors or omissions in such records.
- May rely on any document purporting to sever mineral interests to act as notice of such severance when the document is recorded with the clerk and recorder's office.

Section 2 adds a new article to Title 24, 65.5-101 thru 104, which creates a "streamlined procedure" for providing notice to mineral owners of impending surface development. The legislative declaration states that it is the intent of the General Assembly "to include local governments in the notification process without creating additional liabilities for local governments."

Sections 3, 4, and 5 amend 24-67-107, 30-28-133, and 31-23-215, C.R.S., respectively, to reflect the existence and requirements of the new Article, 65.5.

The notice must also be provided to the local government if the local government has registered with the Oil and Gas Conservation Commission for receipt of the notice. Unless excepted by the Oil and Gas Conservation Commission due to exigent circumstances or waived by the surface owner, the notice of drilling must be mailed or delivered not less than 30 days prior to the date of the estimated commencement of operations with heavy equipment.

 - ◆ The name and social security number of each individual who also occupies, as his or her primary residence, the residential property for which an exemption is claimed;
 - ◆ The names of the maker of the trust, the trustee, and the beneficiaries of the trust, if a trust is the owner of record of the residential property for which an exemption is claimed;
 - ◆ The names of the principals of the corporate partnership or other legal entity, if a corporate partnership or other legal entity is the owner of record of the residential property for which an exemption is claimed;
 - ◆ An affirmation that the applicant believes, under penalty of perjury in the second degree, as defined in 18-8-503, C.R.S., that all information provided by the applicant is correct; AND
 - ◆ Any other information that may reasonably be required as necessary for administration of the exemption;
 - ◆ The application shall also contain a statement that an applicant, or in the case of residential property for which the owner of record is a trust, the trustee, has a legal obligation to inform the assessor within 60 days of any change in the ownership or occupancy of property for which an exemption has been applied for, or allowed, that would prevent an exemption from being allowed for the property.

In addition to any penalties prescribed by law for perjury in the second degree, an applicant who knowingly provides false information on an exemption or files more than one exemption application in any tax year:

- Shall not be entitled to an exemption,
- Shall be required to pay, to the treasurer of any county in which an exemption was improperly allowed due to the applicant providing false information or filing more than one exemption application, an amount equal to the amount of the property taxes not paid as a result of the exemption being improperly allowed; AND
- Shall, upon conviction of perjury, be required to pay to the treasurer of any county in which an invalid exemption application was filed an additional amount equal to twice the amount of the property taxes that would not have had to be paid had the exemption been valid plus interest. Interest shall be calculated at the annual rate calculated pursuant to 39-21-110.5(2) and (3) from the date the invalid exemption application was filed until the date the applicant makes the payment required.
- If an applicant or a trustee fails to inform the assessor within 60 days of any change in ownership or occupancy of the residential property for which an exemption has been applied for or allowed that would prevent an exemption from being allowed for the property as required:

- ◆ An exemption shall not be allowed with respect to the residential property; AND
- ◆ The applicant or trustee shall be required to pay, to any treasurer of any county in which an exemption was improperly allowed due to the applicant's or trustee's failure to immediately inform the assessor of any change in the ownership or occupancy of residential property, an amount equal to the amount of property taxes not paid as a result of the exemption being improperly allowed plus interest. Interest shall be calculated at the annual rate calculated pursuant to 39-21-110.5(2) and (3) from the date on which the change in the ownership or occupancy occurred until the date the applicant makes the required payment.
- ◆ Any amount required to be paid to a county treasurer shall be deemed part of the lien of general taxes imposed on the person required to pay the amount and shall have the priority specified in 39-1-107(2), C.R.S.

Completed exemption applications shall be kept confidential; except that:

- The assessor may release statistical compilations or informational summaries of any information contained in exemption applications and shall provide a copy of an exemption application to the applicant who returned the application, the treasurer of the same county, the Administrator, the State Treasurer, or the State Auditor upon request.
- The assessor may introduce a copy of an exemption application as evidence in any administrative hearing or legal proceeding in which the accuracy or veracity of the exemption application is at issue so long as the applicant's social security number is not divulged.

- The county treasurer, the Administrator, the State Treasurer, or the State Auditor shall keep confidential each individual exemption application that it may receive from an assessor but may release statistical compilations or informational summaries of any information contained in exemption applications and may introduce a copy of an exemption application as evidence in any administrative hearing or legal proceeding in which the accuracy or veracity of the exemption application is at issue so long as the applicant's social security number is not divulged.
- The assessor, county treasurer, the Administrator, the State Treasurer, or the State Auditor shall not give any other person any listing of individuals who have applied for an exemption or any other information that would enable a person to easily assemble a mailing list of individuals who have applied for an exemption.

39-3-206, C.R.S.: Incomplete or nonqualifying exemption applications - denial of exemption - administrative remedies.

- The assessor shall only grant an exemption to an applicant who has timely returned an exemption application that established that the applicant is entitled to the exemption.
- If the information provided on or with an exemption application indicates that the applicant is not entitled to the exemption, or is insufficient to allow the assessor to determine whether or not the applicant is entitled to the exemption, the assessor shall deny the application and mail to the applicant a statement providing the reasons for the denial and informing the applicant of the applicant's right to contest the denial. The assessor shall mail the statement no later than August 15 of the property tax year for which the exemption application was filed.

- An applicant whose exemption application has been denied may contest the denial by requesting a hearing before the county commissioners sitting as the county board of equalization. The hearing shall be held on or after September 1 and no later than October 1 of the property tax year for which the exemption application was filed and the decision of the county board of equalization shall not be subject to further administrative appeal by either the applicant or the assessor.

39-3-207, C.R.S.: Reporting of exemptions - reimbursement to local governmental entities.

No later than October 5, 2002, and no later than each October 5 thereafter, each assessor shall forward to the Administrator a report on the exemptions allowed in his or her county for the current property tax year. The report shall include:

- A statement of the total amount of actual value of the residential property that is exempted; AND
- With respect to each unit of residential property for which an exemption is allowed:
 - ◆ The legal description of the property;
 - ◆ The schedule or parcel number for the property;
 - ◆ The name and social security number of the applicant who claimed the exemption for the property and each additional person who occupies the property; AND
 - ◆ A statement of the taxable and tax-exempt value of the property.

The Property Tax Administrator shall examine the reports sent by each assessor to ensure that no applicant has claimed more than one exemption. No later than November 1, 2002, and no later than each November 1 thereafter, if the Administrator determines that an applicant has claimed more than one exemption, the Administrator shall provide written notice to the applicant that the applicant has claimed more than one exemption and is therefore not entitled to any exemption. The notice shall also include a statement specifying the deadline and procedures for protesting the denial of the exemptions claimed.

An applicant whose claims for exemption are denied by the Administrator may file a written protest with the Administrator no later than November 15 of the year in which the exemptions were denied. The sole ground for a protest shall be that the applicant filed only one claim for an exemption and the protest shall specify the residential property or properties identified by the administrator in the notice denying exemptions for which no exemption was claimed. The Administrator shall request that any appropriate assessor check the assessor's records of exemption applications to determine whether the applicant filed a disputed exemption application and shall decide the protest accordingly. If a protest is denied, the Administrator shall mail the applicant a written statement of the basis for the denial and a copy of each exemption application filed with an assessor that the applicant claimed had not been filed.

No later than December 1, 2002, and no later than each December 1 thereafter, after examining the reports sent by each assessor, denying claims for exemptions, and deciding protests, the Administrator shall provide written notice to the assessor of each county in which an exemption application has been denied because the applicant filed multiple exemption applications with the identity of the applicant who filed multiple exemption applications and the denial of the exemption.

No later than April 1, 2003, and no later than each April 1 thereafter, to enable the State Treasurer to issue a reimbursement warrant to each county treasurer, each county treasurer shall forward to the State Treasurer a report on the exemptions allowed in his or her county for the previous property tax year. The report shall include:

- A statement of the total amount of actual value of residential property within the county that was exempted from taxation and the total amount of property tax revenues lost by local governmental entities within the county as a result of the exemption that must be reimbursed by the state; AND
- With respect to each unit of residential property for which an exemption was allowed:
 - ◇ The legal description of the property;
 - ◇ The schedule or parcel number for the property;
 - ◇ The name and social security number of the applicant who claimed an exemption for the property and each additional person who occupies the property; and
 - ◇ A statement of the taxable and tax-exempt value of the property and the amount of taxes due on the property.

No later than April 15, 2003, and each April 15 thereafter, the State Treasurer shall issue a warrant to each county treasurer for the amount needed to fully reimburse all local governmental entities for the amount of property tax revenues lost as a result of the senior property tax exemption. Reimbursement shall be paid from the state general fund and shall not be subject to the statutory limitation on state general fund appropriations set forth in section 24-75-201.1, C.R.S.

Each county treasurer shall distribute the amount received from the State Treasurer to the local governmental entities as if the lost tax revenues had been regularly paid. When a county treasurer distributes said amount, the treasurer shall provide each local governmental entity with a statement of the amount distributed to the local governmental entity that represents reimbursement received from the state for property tax revenue lost as a result of the exemption. In accordance with Section 3.5 of Article X of the State Constitution, moneys distributed to a local governmental entity as reimbursement for property tax revenues lost as a result of the exemption shall not be included in the local governmental entity's fiscal year spending for purposes of Section 20 of Article X of the State Constitution.

The reports required by this section and the contents thereof shall be kept confidential by an assessor, a county treasurer, the Administrator, the State Treasurer, or the State Auditor; except said persons may provide the reports to each other as required or authorized by law.

39-3-208, C.R.S.: Auditing of property tax exemption program.

The State Auditor shall periodically audit the property tax exemption program. In connection with an audit, the State Auditor may suggest means of improving the administration of the program. Upon request, the assessor, county treasurer, the Administrator, or the State Treasurer shall provide the State Auditor with any exemption applications, reports, or other documents relevant to the administration of the program.

Section 2 amends 39-8-104(2) by adding (b):

Prior to September 1, 2002, and prior to each September 1 thereafter, the county clerk and recorder shall give notice in at least one issue of a newspaper published in his or her county of any date or dates between September 1 and October 1 on which the county commissioners, sitting as the county board of equalization, shall hear contests of property tax exemption denials as required by section 39-3-206(2).

HB 01-1239

Concerning the location in a county in which county officials may conduct business.

Section 1 of the bill adds two new paragraphs to 30-10-101, C.R.S., allowing the sheriff, county clerk and recorder, and county treasurer to keep one or more offices outside the county seat.

Section 2 of the bill adds subsection (2) to 30-10-803, C.R.S., which allows the assessor to keep one or more offices outside the county seat. The office shall be in addition to his or her respective office kept pursuant to subsection (1) and shall be within the same county. The additional office may be kept only if the board of county commissioners makes office space or funding available.

Concerning a requirement for notice to owners of land directly affected by water rights adjudication applications.

The bill amends 37-92-302(3)(c)(I), C.R.S., requiring the water clerk to mail notices of adjudication application to each person whom the clerk believes is affected including at a minimum the persons listed in the application as owner or reputed owner of the land and to each person who has requested a copy of the application by submitting his or her name and address to the water clerk.

Effective Date: August 8, 2001, if no referendum petition is filed.

HB 01-1281Concerning master form instruments for real estate.

The bill adds a new subsection (1.5)(a) to 38-35-109, C.R.S., which allows individuals to incorporate the provisions of a "master form instrument" by reference in any mortgage or deed of trust for real estate for recording by the clerk. It also allows such master form instruments to be recorded independently of any particular property transaction. The effect of the bill is to allow an individual who is recording a mortgage or deed of trust to avoid paying for recording a master document that may run for many pages and instead simply reference the master document previously recorded. The amount the clerk collects for recording fees will be reduced, but is a benefit to citizens who can avoid the cost of recording a previously recorded master document.

The bill increases the portion of business personal property tax paid to be refunded from $500 plus 13.37 percent of the remaining tax to $700 plus 16.0 percent of the remaining tax. The bill also creates an appeals procedure for any qualified taxpayer who did not receive a credit or believes that the amount of the credit received was less than the amount to which the qualified taxpayer was entitled.

- No later than October 1, each county assessor must provide the information below to the Department of Revenue. The assessor and treasurer can mutually agree that the treasurer will provide the information to Revenue.

- No later than November 15, the state will refund to each qualified taxpayer the full amount allowed. If the Department of Revenue does not have sufficient information, the Department will withhold the lesser of $588 or 84 percent of the property taxes paid. A form will be included with the refund that describes the information needed. If there are unavoidable delays, the deadline will be November 30.
- No later than October 1, the Department of Revenue must review and adjust the refund amount based on the rate of growth of Colorado personal income.
- If a qualified taxpayer did not receive a refund or believes the amount was less than expected, the taxpayer may request a hearing by application to the Department of Revenue no later than June 30 of any state fiscal year in which credits were refunded.

The Department will notify the taxpayer in writing of the time and place for a hearing not less than 30 days before the hearing. In all cases where the claim exceeds $200, the hearing will be in Denver. If the claim is less than $200, the hearing may be held, at the election of the taxpayer, in the nearest district office of the Department of Revenue to the taxpayer. In lieu of a request for a hearing, a taxpayer may elect to file a written brief and other documents to claim a credit without a hearing. The deadline dates are the same as the hearing dates.

- The Department of Revenue shall refund the disputed claim plus interest to the taxpayer from the date the credit should have been refunded to the date a warrant for a refund is issued.
