COLORADO PROPERTY TAX

OVERVIEW

In Colorado, the authority for property taxation is both constitutional and statutory. Article X of the Colorado Constitution provides that all property is taxable unless declared exempt by the Constitution, and that the actual value of taxable property shall be determined under the general laws to secure just and equalized valuations. The specific statutes pertaining to property taxation are found in articles 1 through 14 of title 39 of the Colorado Revised Statutes.

Under the general laws of Colorado, county assessors are required to value all taxable property within their county boundaries except for those properties that are state assessed. The State Board of Equalization (state board) has supervision over the administration of all laws concerning the valuation and assessment of taxable property and the levying of property taxes. The Division of Property Taxation (Division), under direction of the Property Tax Administrator (Administrator), coordinates the implementation of property tax law throughout Colorado's sixty-four counties.

The Colorado property tax system provides revenue exclusively for local government services. The largest share of property tax revenue (50.4%) goes to support the state's public schools. County governments claim the next largest share (25.1%), followed by special districts (18.4%), municipal governments (4.9%), and junior colleges (1.2%).

Table 1 lists the percentage change in property tax revenue between taxes payable in 2012 and taxes payable in 2013.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

The State Board of Equalization consists of the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, or their designees, and two members appointed by the Governor with consent of the Senate. Each appointed member must be a qualified appraiser, a former assessor, or a person who has knowledge and experience in property taxation. Charles Brown is Chairman of the Board. The Vice-chairperson for 2012 was Sandra M. Adams, appointee of the Governor. The remaining state board members for 2012 were Kevin Patterson, designee of Governor John Hickenlooper; Wally Grant, designee of Brandon Shaffer, President of the Senate; and Nikki Hoy, designee of Frank McNulty, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Duties and Responsibilities

The state board supervises the administration of property tax laws and the equalization of the values of classes and subclasses of taxable property. Duties of the state board are found primarily in article X, sections 3 and 15 of the Colorado Constitution and title 39, articles 1 and 9 of the Colorado Revised Statutes.

Among its duties, the state board reviews the findings and conclusions of the annual study contractor and orders reappraisals in counties found not in compliance. The annual study was initiated by a 1982 amendment to the Colorado Constitution to ensure that all assessors value property at the same level of value using standardized procedures and statistical measurements. The study is conducted by an independent auditing firm contracted by the Director of Research, Colorado Legislative Council, § 39-1-104(16), C.R.S. The study and the resulting orders of reappraisal are the primary means of achieving statewide equalization.

The importance of the state board's equalization function is due in part to the relationship that exists between assessed values and state aid to schools. Generally, if the property in a school district is undervalued, it is likely that the district will receive more state revenue than it is entitled. When the results of a reappraisal order indicate that the affected school district(s) received too much state revenue, the state board will order the county (not the school district) to pay back the excess funding. During the 1980s and early 1990s, this occasionally required the repayment of substantial revenue to the state. In more recent years however, significant improvements in the quality of county assessments have resulted in far fewer reappraisal orders and smaller repayments of excess state aid to schools.

The state board also reviews county Abstracts of Assessment, decisions of county boards of equalization (county boards) and the policies and recommendations of the Property Tax Administrator.

STATE BOARD ENFORCEMENT

The following is a brief history of recent enforcement actions by the State Board of Equalization.

2012 Enforcement and Repayment

The state board met on October 25, 2012, to review the findings and conclusions of Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., annual study contractor for Legislative Council.

Shortly after the meeting was called to order, the Board unanimously agreed to go into executive session with the Colorado Deputy Attorney General, to discuss the reappraisal orders issued to both Adams and Saguache Counties in 2011.

The state board order for Adams County was based on complaints filed pursuant to §39-2-111, C.R.S. In 2011, the Property Tax Administrator received two complaints concerning Adams County: one directly from the Adams County Assessor, the other from a group of taxpayers. Both asked for an investigation to determine whether the property values were properly set for tax year 2011. The investigative report and recommendations were submitted to the state board in August 2011. The state board ordered a reappraisal of commercial warehouse properties for the 2012 tax year. The reappraisal resulted in a total increase of $19,000,000 in assessed value for the subclass. After review of the final report and supporting testimony, the state board approved the Adams County Report.

Saguache County's 2011 reappraisal order for residential property was issued based on §39-1-105.5, C.R.S., and was the result of non-compliance with the state board's statistical requirements. Also in 2011, there were two complaints filed with the Property Tax Administrator concerning property that had been omitted from the tax roll. It was determined that the investigation of the complaints could be coterminous with the Division of Property Taxation's supervision of the reappraisal order. The investigation confirmed that there were many improvements that had been omitted from the tax roll for a number of years. Division staff also found sales that had been improperly coded and disqualified, and land values had not been brought to current value. Although the Saguache County Assessor's office hired seven temporary employees to help bring their inventories up-to-date, they were all part-time employees and ultimately did not have enough time to devote to the project.

Division staff attempted to assist the county in the completion of the reappraisal, but because offers of assistance were refused until it was too late, the end result was that the 2011 reappraisal order for residential property in Saguache County was not completed. After consulting with the Colorado Deputy Attorney General, the state board continued the reappraisal order for 2012.

Next, the state board addressed the 2009, 2010 and 2011 reappraisal orders issued to Montezuma County regarding usage of the correct Basic Equipment Lists (BELs) in determining the valuation for assessment of oil and gas personal property. After the reappraisal order was issued in 2009, Montezuma County immediately appealed to the Denver District Court. Reappraisal orders were subsequently issued to Montezuma County for 2010 and 2011 for the same issue. However, because the Denver District Court had not issued a decision on the 2009 appeal, all subsequent reappraisal orders were held in abeyance and consolidated in Montezuma's appeal. On April 1, 2012, the Denver District Court issued its ruling on the consolidated cases from 2009, 2010 and 2011, and confirmed that the State Board orders were appropriate. In response to the ruling, Montezuma County performed the recalculations using the BELs. The final total payback amount for excess state aid to schools, with interest calculated at 3% because of the county's timely payment, was $3,966.30.

The state board then heard testimony on the auditor's findings for 2012. Final reports were submitted to the board for 62 of the 64 Colorado counties. The final reports from the remaining two counties, Adams and Saguache, were not completed as each county was in the process of completing the 2011 reappraisal orders.

Wildrose Appraisal, Inc. recommended an order for reappraisal for Park County for 2012. The recommendation was based on the county's failure to implement HB 11-1146, § 39-1-102(1.6), C.R.S., regarding residences on agricultural parcels that were not an integral part of the agricultural operation. The Park County Assessor testified that he actually did implement the statute. He did not follow the procedures recommended by the Division of Property Taxation in the Assessors' Reference Library, Volume 3 to determine if a residence was integral to an agricultural operation. Instead, he exercised what he believed was his authority as assessor to make an alternative determination as to the integral nature of a residence on land classified as agricultural. He testified that he has extensive experience with water law, and he believed the drought conditions in his county caused any residence with a domestic well to be integral to a grazing or farming operation. Therefore, he did not classify any residences on agricultural parcels as non-integral. There was a motion to issue an order for reappraisal of residences on agricultural land for Park County, but it failed for lack of a second.

The next order of business was to review the 2012 Abstracts of Assessment. The Property Tax Administrator requested the acceptance of 62 county Abstracts of Assessment. The remaining two abstracts from Adams and Saguache Counties had been received, but were not included in this submission, as the reports did not include reappraisal information and were still under consideration. The final abstracts of assessment for both Adams and Saguache were to be submitted to the board by November 21, 2012. All 62 Abstracts of Assessment submitted were accepted by the board.

The final topic of the meeting dealt with requests from certain otherwise exempt organizations for the board to waive the filing deadline for their Annual Report for Exempt Properties as permitted in § 39-9-109(5), C.R.S.

The manager of the Exemptions Section submitted a list of those exempt organizations requesting their deadline be waived. He indicated the Division of Property Taxation had no objection to any of the waiver requests, but did outline for the board the filing history of several of the organizations

The October 25, 2012, meeting was concluded by hearing testimony from exempt organizations present at this meeting requesting a waiver of the filing deadline. In contrast to actions taken by the board in previous years, the board denied, either in whole or in part, several requests to waive the filing deadline.

The state board reconvened on November 15, 2012, to review issues not discussed or concluded in the October meeting. Three exempt organizations that had not been in attendance at the October meeting asked for reconsideration by the board for the waiver of the exempt property filing deadline. The board agreed to reconsider the denials for all three organizations and rescinded the action taken during the October meeting.

The board received six new requests to waive the filing deadline during the November 15, 2012, meeting. One of those requests was denied. The board imposed a 30-day deadline for the return of the Annual Report for Exempt Properties for those organizations that had been granted a waiver.

NOTE: A total of 104 petitions were heard between the two meetings, four of which were denied or continued at the conclusion of the first hearing. Ultimately, the state board granted a waiver of filing deadline to 102 of 104 organizations and denied the remaining two petitions. When issuing their decisions, the state board stressed the importance of timely filing to avoid a similar problem in the future.

The state board then finalized the issues facing both Saguache and Park Counties.

After hearing testimony summarizing the findings of the investigation of the complaints, the board issued a reappraisal order to Saguache County for each property class that had omitted property for 2013. In order to ensure compliance with these orders, the board directed the Saguache County Assessor to allow the Division full access to all systems and information used by the assessor. The Property Tax Administrator informed the board that a reappraisal order issued under § 39-2-114, C.R.S., would not cause payback from the county for the Division's supervision nor would it cause payback for excess state aid to schools. As such, there would be no reimbursement to the state for the reappraisal. The board also directed the Saguache County Assessor to send out Special Notices of Value on all omitted property as far back as statute allowed.

The final issue brought before the board regarding Saguache County was a request of the property tax administrator to issue a Finding of Dereliction of Duty on the part of the assessor. After consideration of the evidence, the board issued a Finding of Dereliction of Duty.

The board then finalized the open issue regarding the auditor's recommendation for reappraisal to Park County for non-compliance with HB 11-1146. After accepting additional testimony from the Park County Assessor, the board ultimately chose not to issue an order of reappraisal to Park County for the 2012 assessment year.

2011 Enforcement and Repayment

On August 16, 2011, the state board met to consider the report and recommendations of the Property Tax Administrator concerning a complaint filed pursuant to § 39-2-111, C.R.S. The Adams County Assessor and, subsequently, a group of Adams County taxpayers, had requested an investigation as to whether the property tax laws had in any manner been evaded or violated. More specifically, whether properties owned by certain persons were intentionally valued at a level below that required by the property tax laws of the State of Colorado. Based on the findings and conclusions in the report, the state board ordered a reappraisal of the commercial warehouse property class for the 2012 tax year. There is no repayment provision for a reappraisal ordered under this statute

On October 5, 2011, the state board met to review the findings and conclusions of Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., annual study contractor for Legislative Council. Based on the findings, the state board recommended an order of reappraisal for the residential class of property in Saguache County as well as Montezuma County's oil and gas production equipment.

JoAnn Groff, Property Tax Administrator, informed the board that Montezuma County asked that a new order not be issued for 2011, since they previously received orders to reappraise oil and gas personal property using the Basic Equipment Lists (BELs) and valuation grids published by the Division of Property Taxation for the prior two years. But, since orders are year specific and not issue specific, that request was denied.

NOTE: The 2011 order was also appealed to the District Court. Any repayment is deferred until the appeal process has been terminated or exhausted.

2010 Enforcement and Repayment

On October 5, 2010, the state board met to review the findings and conclusions of Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., annual study contractor for Legislative Council. Based on the findings, the state board issued a second order to Montezuma County to reappraise oil and gas personal property utilizing the methodology prescribed in the Basic Equipment Lists (BELs) and valuation grids published by the Division of Property Taxation in the Assessor's Reference Library, Volume 5. The board also met in executive session to discuss the pending District Court case resulting from a similar order that the board had issued to Montezuma County in 2009.

NOTE: The 2010 order was also appealed to the District Court. The District Court issued an order holding the 2010 appeal in abeyance until the decision of the 2009 case has been delivered.

2009 Enforcement and Repayment

On October 27, 2009, the state board met to review the findings and conclusions of Wildrose Appraisal, Inc., annual study contractor for Legislative Council. Based on the findings, the state board issued a reappraisal order for oil and gas personal property in Montezuma County.

NOTE: This order was appealed to the District Court.

The board also reviewed the status of its 2005 recommendation that Jackson County implement a five-year cycle for physical inspections of rural outbuildings. The Jackson County Assessor indicated that she had completed the physical inspections of all rural outbuildings in Jackson County.

2008 Enforcement and Repayment

On October 8, 2008, the state board met to review the findings and conclusions of Rocky Mountain Valuation Specialists, Inc., annual study contractor for Legislative Council. Based on these findings, the state board issued no orders of reappraisal.

The board also reviewed the status of its 2005 recommendation for Jackson County. The 2005 recommendation asked Jackson County to implement a five-year cycle for physical inspections of rural outbuildings. The Jackson County Assessor indicated that she only had four physical inspections left to complete the project.

DIVISION OF PROPERTY TAXATION

Under the general laws of Colorado, the Property Tax Administrator (Administrator) directs the Division of Property Taxation. The Administrator is appointed by the State Board of Equalization to serve a five-year term, and until a successor is appointed and qualified.

A primary responsibility of the Division is to administer the implementation of property tax law throughout the 64 counties so that valuations are fair, uniform, and defensible, thereby ensuring that each property class contributes only its fair share of the total property tax revenue. In other words, the Division's goal is equalization of valuation and proper distribution of property taxes throughout the state.

The Division is comprised of four sections: Administrative Resources, Appraisal Standards, Exempt Properties, and State Assessed Properties.

Administrative Resources

Administrative Resources prepares and publishes administrative manuals, procedures and instructions. It conducts schools and seminars regarding the administrative functions of the assessors' offices. It conducts field studies and provides statewide assistance in tax increment financing, manufactured housing, title conveyance, mapping, abstracting valuations, certification of values to taxing entities, and workforce analysis studies. The section also investigates taxpayer or taxing entity complaints. It is responsible for various studies and reports such as the residential assessment rate study and the Property Tax Administrator's Annual Report to the Governor and the General Assembly. It also coordinates with agencies having an interest in property taxation. In addition, the field staff works closely with assessors in all areas of property taxation.

Appraisal Standards

Appraisal Standards prepares and publishes appraisal manuals, procedures and instructions. It holds schools and seminars regarding all areas of appraisal. It conducts field studies and provides statewide assistance in agricultural land classification, natural resources and personal property valuation, as well as assistance in the valuation of residential, commercial and industrial properties. The section assists in reappraisal efforts, reviews internal appraisal forms used by assessors, and investigates and responds to taxpayer complaints.

Exempt Properties

The Exemptions Section is responsible for determining qualification for exemption from property taxation for properties that are owned and used for religious, charitable and private school purposes. Exempt property owners are required to file annual reports with the Division to continue exemption. The section provides assistance to counties and taxpayers with inquiries about exempt properties, conducts hearings on denied exemption applications and revocations of exemption, and defends appeals of such denials and revocations.

State Assessed Properties

The State Assessed Section values all public utilities, rail transportation companies, and airlines doing business in Colorado. The company valuations are then apportioned to the counties for collection of local property tax. The section conducts research projects in connection with state assessed companies; assists counties and taxpayers with inquiries on the assessment of public utilities, rail transportation companies, and airlines; hears protests of the assigned values and defends appeals of such valuations.

2012 VALUE INFORMATION

Taxable real property classified as residential, commercial, industrial, agricultural, and vacant land, is subject to revaluation by county assessors every two years. Assessment year 2012 was a non-appraisal year, and for most properties, the actual values remained the same as they were for assessment year 2011.

Taxable property not subject to the biennial reassessment cycle is valued every year. This includes all property classified as state assessed; land and leaseholds classified as oil and gas, natural resources, and producing mines; and all subclasses of personal property.

For 2012, Colorado assessed values increased by more than $1.5 billion, representing a 1.8 percent increase from the prior year. The statewide increase was primarily attributable to the increase in the value of the producing mines, oil and gas, and state assessed (utility) classes of property.

Table 2 displays the percent changes to the total value of each property class.

Residential, Commercial, Industrial, and Vacant Land

The Colorado Constitution and statutes specify that real property classified as commercial, industrial and vacant land is valued by county assessors through consideration of the market, cost and income approaches to value. Residential property is valued solely by the market approach. For tax years 2011 and 2012, the actual values established for these properties represent market value as of June 30, 2010.

Although 2012 was a non-appraisal year, the values of some parcels were subject to changes as a result of an appeal or abatement petition, the discovery of omitted property or the occurrence of an “unusual condition.” Colorado statute identifies a limited set of unusual conditions that necessitate a revaluation of the property during a non-reappraisal year. Examples include new construction, destroyed property, and changes to the property’s use. The new values also reflect the appraisal date of June 30, 2010.

A portion of the commercial and industrial classes is comprised of personal property that is subject to revaluation every year. Personal property accounts for 14.0 percent of the value of the commercial class and 52.0 percent of the value of the industrial class.

Table 3 provides a by-county comparison of 2012 to 2011 values for the residential, commercial, and vacant land classes.

Oil and Gas

There were 50,067 producing natural gas and oil wells in Colorado as of the close of 2012. Over half of the wells are concentrated in Weld (39.5%) and Garfield (20.2%) Counties. Six counties house 86.1 percent of the total number of wells: Weld, Garfield, Yuma, La Plata, Las Animas and Rio Blanco. The taxable value of real property associated with oil and gas wells is calculated as a percentage of the revenue obtained for the product at the wellhead during the prior year. This makes oil and gas among the most volatile of property classes because the market prices of natural gas and crude oil can change considerably from year to year.

Colorado has experienced a 13.6 percent increase in the total assessed value of the oil and gas class during 2012. Among the classes of taxable property, oil and gas contains the third highest total assessed value for 2012. The 2012 total assessed value for the oil and gas class is $9,746,582,769, which is 10.9 percent of the state's total taxable value. A recent history of statewide assessed values for the oil and gas class is shown in Table 4.

Other Production Classes

As with oil and gas, most of the value of real property classified as natural resources and producing mines is calculated as a percentage of the money obtained from selling the product. The natural resources class includes properties that produce coal, sand, and gravel, and it also includes non-producing mining claims and severed mineral interests. All counties, except the City and County of Denver, have natural resource property, but the class comprises only 0.4 percent of the state's total assessed value.

Although similar in total value, the great majority of the producing mines value is associated with only two mines located in three counties. The Henderson mine, located on the Continental Divide in the counties of Clear Creek and Grand, is the world's largest primary producer of molybdenum. The Henderson mine is located approximately 42 miles west of Denver, Colorado. The mine and the mill are connected by the world's longest conveyor of its kind; a fifteen-mile elevated belt that passes underneath the Continental Divide through an old train tunnel and then above ground to the mill. Since 1976, the Henderson Mine has produced more than 160 million tons of ore and 770 million pounds of molybdenum.

Colorado ranks 4th in the U.S. in gold production; most of which is produced in Teller County. The county's primary mine, the Cresson Mine, is located between the towns of Victor and Cripple Creek.

The value of mining operations in Colorado is sensitive to changes in commodity prices, owners' business choices and decisions rendered on property tax appeals. According to the United States Geological Survey, domestic gold mine production in 2012 decreased slightly from 2011. The average price of gold increased by approximately 8 percent for 2012 to $1,700 per troy ounce, up from $1,572 per ounce listed the prior year.

Agricultural Property

The value established for agricultural land is based on a 10-year average of the earning or productive capacity of the land regardless of the property's market value or its highest and best use. As a result, the actual values of agricultural property are often much lower than their market values, and they tend to be relatively stable from year to year.

State Assessed Property

Unlike most other classes, property classified as state assessed is valued annually by the Division of Property Taxation using unitary valuation procedures. The state assessed property class is comprised of real and personal property owned by public utilities, airlines and railroads. By far the largest portion of this value is attributable to personal property. The State Assessed Section of the Division values each company and allocates a portion of the value to Colorado. That value is then apportioned to the appropriate counties based on the location of the company's operating property or business activity. The county assessor then distributes the value to the appropriate locations throughout the county.

Information obtained from the State Assessed Section within the Division of Property Taxation indicated an increase in assessed value of 4.6 percent in 2012. The four electric industry segments were the only solid basis for the increase. Public Utility Commission rate increases and the build-out of new gas fired power plants provided timely support as the delayed effects of the recession, competition, and various market forces took hold in most of the other industries.

Personal Property in 2012

In 2012, personal property accounted for 14.1 percent of Colorado's property tax base, but that percentage varied substantially from county to county. Approximately 41.4 percent of personal property is classified as state assessed while the remainder is valued at the local level. In 2012, 87.2 percent of the state assessed property value was for personal property. All taxable personal property is assessed at 29 percent of its actual value.

Under the Colorado Constitution and statutes, certain categories of business personal property are exempt from taxation, including equipment used for agricultural purposes, inventory, and supplies held for consumption.

Prior to January 1, 2009, business personal property under common ownership with a total actual value of no more than $2,500 per county was also exempt. However, with the passage of HB 08-1225, the amount of actual value subject to the exemption increased or is scheduled to increase according to the following schedule:

- Five thousand five hundred dollars ($5,500) for property tax years 2011 and 2012.
- Seven thousand dollars ($7,000) for property tax years 2013 and 2014.
- Subsequent adjustments will occur biennially to account for inflation since the amount of the exemption last changed.

HB 08-1225 directs the Property Tax Administrator to calculate the amount of the exemption for the next two-year cycle and in every even numbered year thereafter.

In addition, a provision found in the Colorado Constitution allows any taxing entity to "enact cumulative uniform exemptions and credits to reduce or end business personal property taxes," § 20(8)(b), art. X, COLO. CONST.

Table 6 lists the state assessed, locally assessed and total taxable personal property by county and the percentage of taxable value consisting of personal property.

RESIDENTIAL ASSESSMENT RATE

In 1982, the electorate passed sweeping changes to the portion of the Colorado Constitution that governs the property tax system. One of these changes was the enactment of a provision known as the “Gallagher Amendment,” found in § 3(1)(b), art. X, COLO. CONST.

The purpose of the Gallagher Amendment is to stabilize residential real property’s share of the statewide property tax base. From 1958 to 1982, the percentage of total assessed value consisting of residential property increased from 29 to 44 percent. This occurred primarily because market value increases to residential property greatly outpaced market value increases to non-residential property.

To counter this trend, the Gallagher Amendment requires a review and potential adjustment of the residential assessment rate each time there is a year of general reassessment. This adjustment is meant to ensure that the rate of change to the state’s total assessed value of residential property remains essentially the same as it is for non-residential property. The current residential assessment rate is 7.96 percent of assessed value. In contrast, the assessment rate for most classes of non-residential property is fixed at 29 percent. A history of changes to the residential assessment rate is shown in Table 7.

During years of general reassessment (odd numbered years), § 39-1-104.2(5)(c), C.R.S., requires the Property Tax Administrator to complete a documented study that is used by the General Assembly to enact a new residential assessment rate into law. The 2011 preliminary and final residential assessment rate study reports are accessible on the Division’s web site at www.dola.colorado.gov/dpt/publications/index.htm.

* The studies conducted in 1999, 2005, 2007, 2009 and 2011 resulted in a determination that the residential assessment rate should be adjusted above the rate that had been enacted for the previous two-year cycle. However, § 20(4)(a), art. X, COLO. CONST. (TABOR) prohibits the General Assembly from increasing an assessment rate without statewide voter approval. For these years, the General Assembly chose to reenact the rate that was effective during the prior two years.

Assessment Rate and Tax Burden

Table 8 calculates the savings to residential taxpayers from the inception of the Gallagher Amendment through 2012. It does so by comparing the taxes paid by residential property owners to an estimate of the taxes they would have paid had the Gallagher Amendment not been enacted. The estimated savings to residential property owners is $20,697,153,870. The table begins with 1987, because the residential assessment rate remained at 21 percent until 1987. The contents of each column in the table are described below.

- 1 Tax year
- 2 Hypothetical residential assessment rate of 21 percent
- 3 Enacted residential assessment rate for each tax year
- 4 Savings to residential taxpayers

Table 9 illustrates the effect of Gallagher on the statewide assessed value of residential property since 1983. The percentage of actual value attributable to residential property has increased dramatically since Gallagher's inception, from 53.2 percent in 1983 to nearly 77 percent in 2012. At the same time, the adjustment of the residential assessment rate caused the percentage of total assessed value consisting of residential property to remain essentially stable.

PROTESTS, APPEALS, AND ABATEMENTS

Protests and Appeals

Colorado statutes mandate a process that allows taxpayers the opportunity to challenge the actual value established for their property. The process begins with the taxpayer's protest to the assessor. Upon receiving a protest, the assessor reviews the issues raised, and either adjusts or maintains the actual value for the property. Taxpayers who disagree with the assessor's decision can appeal to the county board of equalization. Taxpayers who disagree with the county board's decision have three choices for further appeal. They can appeal to the State Board of Assessment Appeals (BAA), district court, or binding arbitration. Decisions of the BAA and district court can be appealed to the Colorado Court of Appeals and ultimately to the Colorado Supreme Court. Decisions of an arbitrator are final.

Taxpayers can protest and appeal in either year of the reassessment cycle; the first year or odd numbered year or the intervening year or even numbered year. However, the number of protests and appeals are typically higher during the first year of the reassessment cycle.

The number of protests and appeals vary greatly from county to county. In 2011, Larimer County received the greatest number of protests with 11,433 while Kiowa County received none. For many counties, the protest process places a significant strain on the resources of the assessor's office.

Table 10 lists the protests and county board appeals for each county during the first year of the last three reassessment cycles, organized according to the county officer pay categories established in § 30-2-102, C.R.S. For the purpose of this table, the Cities and Counties of Denver and Broomfield are placed in category one.

Table 11 provides a statistical summary of protests and appeals.

Abatements

An abatement of tax is a cancellation or reduction in the amount of tax owed by the taxpayer. Abatements may be granted after the tax roll has been printed for an "erroneous valuation for assessment, irregularity in levying, clerical error, or overvaluation," § 39-10-114(1)(a)(I)(A), C.R.S. Abatement petitions may be approved only if they are filed within two years after January 1 of the year following the year in which the taxes were levied. Because abatement petitions are filed on taxes already levied, the abated or refunded taxes constitute lost revenue to the affected local governments. However, § 39-10-114(1)(a)(I)(B), C.R.S., and case law, allow local governments to recover abated taxes through an increase in mill levies. Table 12 displays the taxes abated during 2010, 2011, and 2012.

SENIOR CITIZEN AND DISABLED VETERAN EXEMPTION

In 2000, voters enacted section 3.5, article X of the Colorado Constitution, creating a property tax exemption for qualifying senior citizens and their surviving spouses. Voters expanded the program in 2006 to include qualifying disabled veterans. For both groups, the exemptions as enacted reduce the taxable actual value of a residential property by 50 percent, up to a maximum reduction of $100,000. The reduction in property tax revenue is backfilled by the State of Colorado.

The Colorado Constitution grants the Colorado General Assembly the authority to increase or decrease the amount of the senior and disabled veteran exemptions. For tax years 2003, 2004, 2005, 2009, 2010, and 2011, the General Assembly enacted legislation to reduce the amount of the senior exemption to 50 percent of $0, effectively suspending the senior exemption benefit. The disabled veteran exemptions benefit was not suspended for property tax years 2009, 2010 or 2011.

To qualify for the senior exemption, a senior must be at least 65 years old on January 1 and must have owned and occupied the property for at least 10 consecutive years as his or her primary residence. To qualify for the disabled veteran exemption, a veteran must have sustained a service connected disability that has been rated by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs as 100 percent "permanent and total"; and must have owned and occupied the property since January 1 of the year the application is filed.

Applications for the senior citizen exemption are filed with the county assessor no later than July 15, and applications for the disabled veteran exemption are filed with the Colorado Division of Veterans Affairs, Department of Military and Veterans Affairs (DMVA), no later than July 1. If approved by the DMVA, the veteran's application is forwarded to the county assessor for further processing and approval. Once approved, the senior citizen or disabled veteran exemption remains in effect from year to year until a change in ownership or occupancy triggers its removal. Each year, the assessor is required to mail a notice to all residential property owners explaining the exemption programs.

No later than October 10, the assessor is required to send the Division of Property Taxation an electronic list of the exemptions granted, including the names and social security numbers of each person occupying the property. The Division uses the data to identify individuals who were granted an exemption on more than one property in the state, and denies the exemptions on each property. In 2012, the Division denied exemptions on 56 properties owned by 36 applicants. In 2012, 182,908 properties were approved for the senior citizen exemption, and 3,649 received the disabled veteran exemption.

The senior and disabled veteran exemption programs do not result in a loss of revenue to local governments. Instead, the state reimburses the local governments for the tax revenue exempted. No later than April 1, county treasurers send the State Treasurer an itemized list of the exemptions granted and taxes exempted. No later than April 15, the State Treasurer reimburses the local governments for the lost revenue. In April 2013, the State Treasurer reimbursed local governments $100,821,732 for senior citizen property tax exemptions granted for tax year 2012 and $1,906,309 for disabled veteran exemptions granted for tax year 2012.

POSSESSORY INTERESTS

In 2001, the Colorado Supreme Court ruled that certain possessory interests are subject to ad valorem taxation in Colorado. A possessory interest is defined as a private property interest in government-owned property or the right to the occupancy and use of any benefit in government-owned property that has been granted under lease, permit, license, concession, contract or other agreement. The use of the property must be in connection with a business conducted for profit.

Taxable possessory interests may include but are not limited to:

1. Private concessionaires utilizing government owned land, improvements, or personal property unless operating pursuant to a management contract.
2. Government land and improvements used in the operation of a farm or ranch.

3. Government land, improvements, and/or personal property used in the operation of ski or recreational areas.
4. Land underlying privately owned cabins or other residential property located on government land that is rented commercially.
5. Recreational use of lakes, reservoirs, and rivers in a revenue-generating capacity.
6. Land, improvements, and personal property at a tax-exempt airport.
7. Other government property leased to private parties. However, the property may be otherwise exempt pursuant to Colorado Revised Statutes.

HB 12-1070

Concerning the modification of statutory provisions governing the ethical conduct of persons involved in government for the purpose of harmonizing such provisions with section 3 (5) of article XXIX of the state constitution.

Section 1 of the bill makes modifications to § 24-6-203, C.R.S. concerning the reporting of gifts and honoraria, lobbyist disclosure, the statutory rules of conduct for governmental officials and employees, and campaign contributions to members of the general assembly and the governor during the regular legislative session to harmonize those provisions with the requirements of article XXIX of the state constitution, also known and referred to as "Amendment 41".

"Public office" was previously defined as "any office voted for in this state at any election."

The bill adds specific language to that definition: "Public Office" includes, without limitation, the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, and state treasurer; a member of the general assembly or the state board of education; a regent of the University of Colorado; a judge on the Colorado Court of Appeals or the Colorado Supreme Court; a district attorney; or an officer of a county, municipality, city and county, school district, or any elective office with a special district for which the annual compensation exceeds sixteen hundred dollars.

The bill also extended the reporting for January 15th of each year to an incumbent leaving public office between October 15th and January 15th, and requires candidates who have been elected but not yet sworn in to report money, monetary loans, loans of personal property, or sports tickets with a value of more than fifty-three dollars.

The other provisions added language from the Constitutional Amendment and defined what is not considered gifts of substantial value. Finally, the bill put in place a provision that the threshold amount be adjusted for inflation contemporaneously with any adjustment of the constitutional gift limit in Section 3(6) of Article XXIX.

Concerning wind energy property rights.

Section 1 of the bill adds article 30.7 to title 38.

The bill establishes that wind energy rights are an interest in real property appurtenant to the surface estate. Such wind energy rights are not severable from the surface estate.

Wind energy agreements are an interest in real property. An owner of the surface estate may enter an agreement with a wind energy developer. A wind energy agreement or other notice evidencing the wind energy agreement shall be recorded with the county clerk and recorder. The bill establishes parameters for such wind energy agreements and their termination.

Nothing in the bill invalidates wind energy agreements entered into prior to July 1, 2012, so long as the agreement is recorded with the county clerk and recorder by September 1, 2012. Nothing in the article restricts the transfer of wind energy agreements including the right of the surface estate owner to receive payment.

The bill also states that, unless the parties agree otherwise, all easement interests for the purpose of producing wind energy revert to the owner of the surface estate if wind energy production has ceased for fifteen years or if electricity has not been generated by turbine for fifteen years.

An affidavit stating that generation of electricity by turbine has commenced must be recorded with the county clerk and recorder. Parameters for the recording of this affidavit are contained in the bill.

Pursuant to § 39-3-118.5, C.R.S., equipment used in the development of wind energy is exempt from the levy and collection of personal property tax until such equipment is first used.

Concerning the regulation of appraisal management companies.

The bill authorizes the Board of Real Estate Appraisers in the Division of Real Estate in the Department of Regulatory Agencies to regulate appraisal management companies. Necessary terminology is defined and the registration of appraisal management companies is required.

The bill amends the section creating the Board of Real Estate Appraisers by adding a member who is an officer or employee of an appraisal management company and subtracting one public member.

Requirements for owners and controlling persons of appraisal management companies are established, including a requirement that certain persons submit information, including fingerprints, for criminal history record checks.

The bill sets forth prohibited activities and grounds for disciplinary action against appraisal management companies and owners and controlling persons. Administrative and criminal penalties for violations are established, and the Board of Real Estate appraisers is granted the power to administer the provisions of the bill.

The bill requires real estate fee appraisers to maintain errors and omissions insurance but exempts state and county appraisers.

The bill makes conforming amendments to existing statutes to make them consistent with the changes made in the bill.

HB 12-1209
Concerning Uniform Electronic Legal Material Act

Section 1 of this bill adds article 71.5 to title 24 of Colorado Revised Statutes, cited as the "Uniform Electronic Legal Material Act" that was drafted by the national conference of commissioners on uniform state laws. Definitions include: "Electronic" means relating to technology having electrical, digital, magnetic, wireless, optical, electromagnetic or similar capabilities. "Legal material" means the constitution of this state, the session laws of Colorado, the Colorado Revised Statutes, and a state agency rule. "Official publisher" is the General Assembly or Secretary of State. "Publish" means to display, present, or release to the public by the official publisher. If legal material is only published electronically, the official publisher is required to designate the record as official, but if it is published in another format, the publisher may make such designation. In either case, if electronic legal material is designated as official, the publisher is required to meet requirements related to the authentication and preservation of the electronic record and the availability of the preserved electronic record.

Electronic legal material in an electronic record that is authenticated by the official publisher is presumed to be an accurate copy of the legal material. This presumption applies to electronic legal material from states that have adopted a law that is substantially similar to the act.

Section 2 of the bill requires the official comments issued by the commissioners to be published with the act.

Concerning publication requirements for a newspaper in which a legal notice or advertisement is printed

Section 1 of this bill adds (4) to § 24-70-101, C.R.S. which defines the term "published" as follows:

(4) "Published" means a newspaper maintains an office in the county to gather news, sell, advertising, or conduct the general business of newspaper publications.

Section 2 of the bill amends § 24-70-103 (3), C.R.S. that provides an option to counties that do not have a local newspaper in which to publish required advertisements and notices.

If any county in this state has not published a newspaper for the prescribed period when the publishing of a notice or advertisement is required, a notice or advertisement may be published, in whole or in part, in an adjoining county that has a general circulation, in whole or in part, in the county that has not published a newspaper during the prescribed period. If there is no newspaper in any adjoining county that has been published for the prescribed period at the time when any such notice or advertisement is required to be published, a required notice or advertisement may be published in a newspaper having general circulation within the county.

New language in §39-2-125(1.5), C.R.S., states: ...notwithstanding any other law, "Taxpayer pro se" includes the trustee of a trust. The bill also added new language to §39-2-127(4), C.R.S., wherein it addresses representation before the board: "A trust may be represented by an attorney admitted to practice law in this state, by the trustee of the trust, or by the trustee's designee."
