Welcome to the Arkansas Headwaters Recreation Area’s (AHRA) Annual Report for 2017. This annual report covers the activities of the AHRA from January 1, 2017 through December 31, 2017.

An above average snowpack and the resulting run-off, an improved economy and stable fuel prices helped fuel summer vacation travel in 2017. Despite the favorable water and economic conditions, commercial boating visitation decreased by 0.11%, primarily due to too high of flows (high water advisories). High water helped increase private boater activity; private boating increased 3.1% in 2017 as compared to 2016.

The Citizens Task Force (CTF) continues to be an instrumental force behind the success of the AHRA. This advisory committee meets up to five times a year and provides recommendations to the management team on many critical and diverse issues facing the recreation area. In addition, since the AHRA management plan revision process continued in 2017, the CTF played an important role in providing management plan feedback to Colorado Parks and Wildlife. In 2017 the Citizens Task Force was composed of two representative members from each of the following AHRA constituency groups:

- | | |
|-----------------------|-----------------------------|
| Anglers | Private Boaters |
| Commercial Permittees | Local Governments |
| Environmentalists | River Front Property Owners |
| Water Users | |

For the purpose of daily operation, AHRA is organized into work “sections”. Each of these sections has specific responsibilities and is staffed by both full-time and temporary employees with specific job assignments. The many dedicated temporary employees at AHRA accomplish the visible fieldwork. In a typical season, AHRA employs approximately 30 temporary staff members. In 2017, AHRA employed 24 temporary staff members. The following full-time staff members supervised the work sections noted below:

AHRA Sections and Supervisors

- | | |
|------------------------|--|
| Maintenance: | John Fell and Ken Lindbloom (CPW) |
| Rangers: | Stew Pappenfort, Glenn Cottone and Andrew Maddox (CPW) |
| Administration: | Rose Bayless (CPW) |
| Commercial Agreements: | John Kreski (CPW) |
| Management: | Rob White, Tom Waters (CPW) and John Nahomenuk (BLM) |

In 2017 there were no Colorado Parks and Wildlife (CPW) full-time staff changes. John Nohomenuk retired from the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and the BLM River Manager position will most likely be modified in several capacities for 2018.

AHRA Administrative Section

The Administrative section for 2017 was staffed by one full-time CPW Program Assistant, Rose Bayless; two temporary Customer Service Representatives, Mari Griffin and Jamie Tackel; and one temporary summer GOCO Naturalist/Volunteer Coordinator, Kerry Dietterich.

The Administrative Section staff meet and greet visitors to the AHRA Visitor Center, deal with tens of thousands of phone calls and provide a full range of information services on the Upper Arkansas River Valley and recreational activities including camping, boating, fishing, gold panning, hiking, biking, etc. They handle sales and recordkeeping for all AHRA revenues from Commercial Special Use Agreements, notices of violation, special activity/event agreements, park passes, camping permits, off-highway vehicle, snowmobile and boat registrations, fish and game licenses, and also sell guide books, maps and other items provided by the Greater Arkansas River Nature Association (GARNA). AHRA administrative staff also sells BLM fuel wood permits, Christmas tree cutting permits, and placer area notifications.

Program Assistant Rose Bayless also records meeting minutes for the AHRA Citizen Task Force (CTF) and manages communications with the CTF concerning meetings, speakers, reports and other relative information. In addition, the Administrative Section is responsible for reporting and reconciling all revenues received by AHRA from many different sources, as well as maintaining records and reports for budgets and expenditures from a number of funds, including grants.

Administrative personnel function as the AHRA base radio dispatchers to field staff, provide administrative support to AHRA and BLM employees, and maintain current CPW website information for AHRA. The Administrative section also coordinates AHRA special events, such as Earth Day and the Annual Arkansas River Cleanup/Greenup; “Junior Rangers”, “TOT’s on Tuesdays” and other youth activities; campground and environmental education programs; administers the AHRA Volunteer Program; and organizes a variety of meetings and events throughout the year.

Administrative Section Visitor Contacts for 2017

Of People	Type of Activity	Compared to 2016
34,610	Visitor Center	+1.7%
1,891	Personal Interpretation/Events	+1.67%
15,255	Non-Personal Interpretation/Media/Events	+1.7%
2,850	Environmental Education	+1.8%

Volunteer Hours for 2017

of Hours	Type of Activity	Compared to 2016
4,037 hrs	All Volunteers (groups or individuals)	-3.7%
136.50 hrs	AHRA Advisory Groups - RAAC	-62%
557 hrs	AHRA Advisory Group - CTF	-20%

* Total Volunteer Mileage was 6,444 in 2017

AHRA’s Volunteer Program hours were consistent with 2016 hours, the Citizen Task Force (CTF) and Rationing and Agreement Advisory Committee (RAAC) contributed more hours than in 2016 as AHRA continued to work on revisions to the Arkansas River Recreation Management Plan. Volunteers at the annual Arkansas River

Cleanup/Greenup events contributed over 1,000 hours; campground hosts contributed 600 hours; and Court Ordered volunteers contributed 430 hours.

A variety of Interpretive and Environmental Education programs, hikes and events were presented to the public throughout 2017. GOCO Naturalist Kerry Dietterich captivated Junior Rangers ages 5-10 in Salida, Buena Vista and Leadville with programs and activities such as “Eye See You”, “Camouflage Craze” and “Survivor Showdown”. The grand finale was the Junior Ranger raft trip on August 10, with 32 participants. It was the first time on the river for many of the children, and although the stretch of river from Johnson’s Village to Fisherman’s Bridge is a gentle one, the kids were thrilled and had the time of their lives!

Little children ages 2-4 eagerly participated in “TOTS on Tuesday” each week in Salida. Their rapt attention was matched with that of their accompanying parents, as Kerry revealed nature’s secrets with crafts and nature walks.

AHRA continued to be very active in 2017 with area schools, local recreation programs and other youth groups to provide environmental education that is consistent with their own curriculum. AHRA participated in GOCO-sponsored environmental education initiatives SOLE (Schools and Outdoor Learning Environment) for 4th graders in Salida; and INSPIRE youth/community programs in Lake (GOL! - GO Leadville!) and Chaffee (ICC - Inspire Chaffee County) counties. The objective of INSPIRE is to connect youth and their families with the outdoors to learn and have fun.

AHRA teamed up with Trout Unlimited for “Fourth Friday Fishing” to teach youth how to fish. AHRA and CPW staff, as well as GARNA, recruited volunteers to monitor bluebird houses at AHRA recreation sites for the National Bluebird Monitoring Project.

We were also very fortunate to have some faithful volunteers who continue to staff the Poncha Springs’ Crossroads of the Rockies Visitor Center, assist with our 26th annual Arkansas River Cleanup/Greenup on May 20th, and help out with a variety of special projects, events and programs. Volunteer Naturalist, Bob Hickey, continues to be instrumental in leading many hikes and an auto tours of the AHRA, as well as assisting with the “Gathering of the Guides” workshop and other programs. Bob’s love and knowledge of local geology has built up a region-wide following who participate in his talks and hikes year-round.

AHRA Ranger Section

The Ranger Section patrols all portions, both land and river, of the AHRA throughout the year. The rangers are put into three sections, Land, River and Off Road Vehicle. This year the AHRA Temporary Work Program (TWP) budget allowed for eight, 40 hour per week temporary rangers for the 2017 summer season. In addition, in 2017 funding from the Youth Internship Program (YIP) grants allowed one additional summer temporary ranger position to be filled. Distribution of these temporary ranger positions were as follows: The river section had four, 40 hour per week temporary rangers assigned to it. The land section had five, 40 hour per week temporary rangers assigned to it. In addition to these nine TWP or YIP funded rangers there were two TWP Off-Highway Vehicle (OHV) Rangers. These positions were funded by an OHV grant and were supervised by the Land Ranger Supervisor. The CPW/AHRA OHV Rangers worked with two OHV Rangers assigned to the U.S. Forest Service funded by a similar grant.

The 5 temporary rangers assigned to land-based operations are responsible for managing visitor use in the busy recreation sites and campgrounds and for collecting field revenue critical to AHRA operations. These vital field staff members are the primary personnel our visitors come into contact with during the summer months. Night shifts occurred on Friday, Saturday and holiday evenings and were staffed by one temporary ranger and one full-time ranger.

Four of the AHRA temporary rangers specialize in whitewater boating activities on the river. Known as river rangers, they patrol whitewater sections of the Arkansas River otherwise inaccessible to AHRA staff. These rangers actively monitor river flows, mitigate hazards, provide whitewater search and rescue support, inspect commercial and private boat trips for adequate safety equipment and operations, investigate boat accidents and provide expert river education to AHRA visitors in the field. The 2017 boating season saw excellent river flows. With average to slightly above average flows, the dedication and cooperation of commercial outfitters and private boaters helped the number of serious accidents stay below average for the conditions.

Since the Arkansas River is one of, if not the most commercially rafted rivers in the United States, much of the river rangers' time is spent administering the State River Outfitter Licensing Program. Removing tree hazards from the river when a public safety concern is present, also occupied a significant amount of river ranger time. River rangers also make many private boater contacts informing boating visitors of current conditions and ensuring they understand the challenges of the section of river they are attempting to boat. In addition, river rangers also undertake a variety of resource related projects such as monitoring of river camp and picnic sites and the monitoring of invasive plant species in remote sections of the recreation area.

The OHV rangers are part of a four-person multi-agency trail crew working in the Upper Arkansas River Valley. The trail crew members represent Colorado Parks and Wildlife and the U.S. Forest Service. Funding for this collaborative effort comes from an OHV grant funded by OHV registrations. The trail crew maintains trails and OHV routes, provides input on new OHV routes, and enforces OHV registration and equipment requirements in the San Isabel National Forest as well as at the Big Bend OHV Track. The trail crew promotes motorized recreation by encouraging safe riding practices and Stay the Trail and Tread Lightly guidelines. The trail crew also works with local OHV riding clubs to promote volunteer opportunities by means of the U.S. Forest Service Adopt a Trail program.

The three full-time park rangers, the state park manager, and the operations manager are all certified Level I Colorado Peace Officers. Additionally, all AHRA temporary law enforcement rangers have limited commissions. These Title 33 officers only enforce Colorado Parks and Wildlife laws and regulations. When necessary, all rangers can take the appropriate law enforcement action necessary to protect our visitors, preserve the resource and ensure compliance with other administrative regulations. While law enforcement may not be the primary function of any ranger's job, it is an important and necessary responsibility of all rangers. It should also be noted that AHRA rangers work closely with other local, state and federal peace officers and resource managers in the performance of their duties.

In the winter the full-time rangers continue to patrol AHRA sites along the river corridor. Winter search and rescue activities usually amount to assisting other agencies with motorists that end up in the river. Full time rangers also conduct snowmobile patrols as well as avalanche rescue activities. Additionally, AHRA rangers manage three snowmobile trail-grooming contracts and patrol snowmobile trails on Bureau of Land Management, National Forest and other public lands in Chaffee, Lake, Gunnison and Saguache counties as part of the Colorado Parks and Wildlife Snowmobile Program responsibilities. Winter is also the ideal time for rangers to complete most of their training and re-certifications, to organize and evaluate programs and plan for the up-coming high use season.

AHRA Special Use Agreement Section

The Special Use Agreement Section exists to accurately and efficiently administer AHRA Special Use Agreements as well as administer the Rationing Plan for Commercial Boating on the Arkansas River within the AHRA. AHRA had 58 commercial contractors in 2017. Permitted contractors provided various combinations of activities such as whitewater rafting and kayaking, float fishing, walk & wade fishing, shuttle services, rock climbing, hiking, Mt. biking, food vendor and photo/video imaging to over 226,223 paying clients in 2017. In 2017, overall commercial use at AHRA DECREASED by 0.17% as compared to 2016. Gross revenue received from all commercial operations within the AHRA in 2017 was 2.80% ABOVE revenue received in 2016. This total includes revenue from total gross receipts and does not include administrative and assessment fees. The Arkansas River within the AHRA remains one of, if not the most commercially rafted river in the United States.

This section also administers the AHRA Rationing Plan that regulates commercial boat per day (bpd) carrying capacities on thirteen different river sections. In 2017, river sections had commercial bpd carrying capacities ranging from 360 bpd to 10 bpd with differing section specific boating restrictions.

In addition, this section develops data control methods and commercial use verification for Contractor Special Use Agreement compliance. Assisting in this program is a two person temporary Count Crew responsible for collecting Spot Checks and maintaining an electronic database for Trip Log comparison. This section also has one temporary Rationing Program Assistant, Jennifer Crawford, which is employed during a nine month time frame to assist with annual boat allocations and oversee the Special Use Agreement Application program.

AHRA Bureau of Land Management

The Bureau of Land Management recreation staff continues to see changes over what was reported in the 2016 report. The BLM recreation staff members in 2017 were the River Manager and a seasonal (6 months) administrative position that is responsible for the operation of the front desk of the AHRA Visitor Center.

The BLM River Manager (John P. Nahomenuk), who retired in mid 2017, worked side by side with the Colorado Parks and Wildlife Manager to assure that the decisions within the Arkansas River Recreation Management Plan (ARRMP) are fully implemented, as well as working with a multitude of other agencies, interest groups and organizations unique to this multi-agency partnership. He was also responsible for the maintenance and enhancement, where possible, of the overall health of the public lands along the river corridor. The BLM River Manager is responsible to the Royal Gorge Field Office Manager located at the BLM Royal Gorge Field Office in Canon City, CO. Keith E. Berger is the Royal Gorge Field Office Manager and Tom Heinlein was the District Manager who oversaw the Royal Gorge, Gunnison and San Luis Valley Field offices in 2017.

Jamie Tackel was our Administrative Assistant in 2017. Jamie was funded six months through the BLM and six months through Colorado Parks and Wildlife. Her year-round support to the Administrative section and AHRA provides much needed consistency to our very busy office. Jamie is the first line of contact for visitors in need of information whether in person or on the phone. She also sells Colorado off highway vehicles, boats and snowmobile registrations. Hunting and fishing licenses are also available at the AHRA Visitor Center. Jamie also issues permits for firewood gathering, Christmas trees and recreational mining.

The Royal Gorge Field Office continued to prepare the Eastern Colorado Resource Management Plan (RMP) in 2017. The RMP is the overriding document that will guide the management of BLM lands for the next 20 years. The ARRMP river plan will be adopted into the RMP.

Revisions of the Arkansas River Recreation Management Plan started in late 2015 and continued through 2017. These updates will focus on issues that were not addressed during the first revision that was approved in January 2001.

Browns Canyon National Monument continues to see an increase in visitation and interest. The national monument will have its own management plan prepared and is in the beginning stages of this preparation. The monument will be managed by BLM and the USFS in partnership with CPW.

AHRA Maintenance Section

The Maintenance Section is responsible for year-round daily site cleaning, repair, and improvements for the entire recreation area from the Crystal Lakes Recreation Site near Leadville, to the Pink House Recreation Site in Canon City.

The maintenance section is extensively involved in site maintenance, improvements and modifications suggested by our visitors, outfitters and staff. To assist AHRA in achieving many of its maintenance goals in 2017 the maintenance section utilized the Department of Corrections and CDOT's sign shops. During 2017 the maintenance department accomplished the following:

- Recreation Area and Visitor Center Maintenance.
- Began installation of newly designed pay stations.
- First proto type of all metal three panel sign frames installed at Ruby Mt.
- Worked with CDOT on highway signage for AHRA.
- Sign designing with DOC Sign Shop on signage for AHRA.
- Re-designing park pass metal boxes with DOC metal shop.
- Developed a solar system for illuminating the new metal three panel sign frames for campground sites.

- Installation of amber LED lights at campground vault toilets.
- Providing maintenance for the Brown Canyon National Monument CXT.
- Inputting data for the M5 Maintenance Directive.
- Organize annual fire extinguisher testing and inspection.
- Assisted with annual Green Up Clean Up.

AHRA State Park Management

Park Manager, Rob White, and Operations Manager, Tom Waters oversee and coordinate the daily visitor service and maintenance operations and overall programs and projects for the entire work unit described above. They are the communication link between field staff and the Southeast Region Office in Colorado Springs and Colorado Parks and Wildlife offices in Denver and Littleton. They also work closely with the Bureau of Land Management and the U.S. Forest Service to insure that management plan goals and directives are being met and to implement the Upper Arkansas River Voluntary Flow Management Program (VFMP) each year. Most importantly, they work with the public to provide the many community and resource wide coordination activities and efforts needed throughout the 152-mile river corridor and continue to develop and enhance communication and cooperation among visitors as well as current and potential partners.

This year, as in past years, AHRA rangers, count crew and administrative staff continued to maintain the essential quality of management practices and public services that help conserve the Arkansas River and its unique features for everyone's enjoyment.

During 2017 the AHRA ranger, count crew and administrative staff accomplished the following: (In addition to their regular day to day responsibilities)

- Contacted presenters for the Gathering of the Guides.
- Measured Ruby Mountain for campground site attributes.
- Attended RMS River Ranger Rendezvous.
- Responded to several campsite disputes.
- Continued with researching new fee collection bag.
- Worked with a Restorative Justice Work Crew at Stone Bridge.
- Estimated the percent of river shoreline that is accessible to the public.
- Prepared nominations for CPW Partnership Awards.
- Hosted SE Region snowmobile riding clinic.
- Inspected the Big Bend OHV Track.
- Provided River Rangers support for the Royal Gorge Whitewater Festival.
- Provided River and Land Ranger support for FIBArk.

This concludes the 2017 Arkansas Headwaters Recreation Area Annual Report. If you should have any questions regarding this report please contact Rob White, the AHRA Park Manager at (719) 539-7289 or via e-mail at ahra@state.co.us.
