As of July 2025, printing Colorado Parks and Wildlife hunting regulation brochures has offset 205,710 pounds of paper consumption by reforesting 2,475 trees as part of PrintReleaf Exchange. PrintReleaf helps organizations meet their sustainability goals by automatically reforesting the equivalence of their paper consumption and offsetting the carbon emissions associated with their paper and packaging products.

Nearly 300 campsites are ADA accessible. If a campsite has an “HD” (handicap designated) after the site number, it is reserved for individuals with handicap placards/plates only. Yurts and cabins offer comfortable, year-round alternatives to traditional camping in a tent.

For campsites, yurts and cabins:

- ▶ All state parks now require camping/cabin/yurt reservations.
- ▶ Campers can make reservations, 24/7 by phone (1-800-244-5613) or online, from six months in advance through when they arrive at the park. Park entrance fees also apply at all state parks, in addition to camping fees.

State Wildlife Areas

Don't litter! Pack your trash out.

What is a State Wildlife Area?

State wildlife areas (SWAs) are state- or privately owned lands that offer state-managed, wildlife-related recreation to the public.

While most activities focus on hunting and fishing, each SWA has different allowed activities based on location and available resources. These parcels of SWA land are paid for by sportspersons and managed under state law by CPW employees for the benefit of wildlife. CPW manages about 350 SWA lands around the state.

Read on for information about each SWA, pages 4–30, and get ready to plan your next adventure.

Rules for E-Bikes on SWAs:

E-bikes (electrical-assisted bicycles) are vehicles with two or three wheels, fully operable pedals and an electric motor that doesn't go over 750 watts. There are three classes:

Aquatic Nuisance Species

All vessels and floating devices, their contents, motors, trailers and equipment are subject to inspection by CPW before being launched, operated on or leaving waters on SWAs. Any aquatic nuisance species found during inspection must be removed and disposed of according to CPW procedures before vessels are allowed to be launched, operate on or leave the water.

State Trust Lands

What are Trust Lands? What is the State Trust Lands Hunting and Fishing Access Program?

- The Colorado State Board of Land Commissioners (the State Land Board) is a constitutionally created agency that manages a $4 billion endowment of assets for the intergenerational benefit of Colorado's K-12 schoolchildren and public institutions. They are the second-largest landowner in Colorado, and generate revenue on behalf of beneficiaries by leasing nearly 3 million surface acres and 4 million subsurface acres for agriculture, grazing, recreation, commercial real estate, rights-of-way, renewable energy, oil, gas and solid minerals. The State Land Board is entirely self-funded and receives no tax dollars.
- The State Trust Lands Hunting and Fishing Access Program (formerly called the Public Access Program) includes 966,000 acres of land that is leased to Colorado Parks and Wildlife to increase seasonal public hunting and fishing opportunities. The signs on each property will inform you of what is allowed at each location. Only trust lands listed in this brochure that are part of the STL Hunting and Fishing Access Program are open for public access.
- Leases on state trust land generate more than $100 million annually to help support eight trust beneficiaries, primarily K-12 schoolchildren in Colorado. They help fund the Building Excellent Schools Today (BEST) program, which provides competitive grants to school districts for the construction of new schools or the renovation of existing facilities. Nearly 225,000 schoolchildren are enrolled in schools that received a BEST grant. The majority of BEST grant recipients are located in rural areas of the state, and the construction projects have generated approx. 37,000 jobs in those communities.

State Trust Lands FAQs

► What can I do on lands in this program?

Lands enrolled in the STL Hunting and Fishing Access Program are open seasonally to hunting and fishing only. General recreation such as hiking, horseback riding and dog walking are not allowed under the program. Refer to the listings on the following pages for site-specific rules and timeframes for use. Most lands are not accessible by vehicle, OHVs or snowmobiles, and there may be additional restrictions on camping, parking and off-road driving. Unauthorized use or activity on these lands may be subject to enforcement from CPW officers or local authorities.

► When are they open?

Most properties are open for hunting and fishing from Sept. 1 through the end of Feb., unless listed otherwise in this brochure. Enrolled lands are closed to public access all other times of the year. Unauthorized use or entry during closed periods is considered trespassing and may be subject to prosecution.

► Where are they?

Lands that are part of the State Trust Lands Hunting and Fishing Access Program are located throughout Colorado. Please see the index, descriptions and map of parcels included in this brochure. Find maps online, too: cpw.state.co.us/stl-finder

State Trust Lands Hunting and Fishing Access Program Rules

Everyone age 16 years or older must have a valid hunting or fishing license to be on any part of a state trust land (STL).

See pages 1 and 3 for the requirements to access state wildlife areas (SWAs).

Note that one- or five-day licenses are only valid for the date(s) on the license.

Rules for e-bikes on STLs:

E-bikes (electrical-assisted bicycles) are vehicles with 2 or 3 wheels, fully operable pedals and an electric motor that doesn't go over 750 watts.

See page 3, "State Wildlife Areas," for descriptions of the 3 classes of e-bike.

Public access on state trust lands is restricted to hunting and fishing activities only. E-bikes are only allowed for use on designated roads when being used for these activities.

Recreate Responsibly

Only state trust lands listed in this brochure are open for public access. Hunters and anglers are reminded to respect the rights of other visitors and the owners or permit holders of state trust lands. Abide by state rules so the lands can remain open for future wildlife recreation. (Permission is required from the State Land Board to access any state trust lands not listed in this brochure.)

State Parks

More About State Parks

Wherever you go in Colorado, there's a state park waiting to welcome you. Mountains or prairies, rivers or forests, out in the country or next to the city: Colorado's state parks are as diverse as the state itself, and they offer something for everyone. Enjoy more than 700 miles of trails, water sports, rock climbing and more than 4,000 campsites and 70 cabins and yurts. For information about hunting, fishing and other recreational opportunities at state parks, call 303-297-1192, or visit any state park or CPW office. For more, go to: cpw.state.co.us/state-parks

Pearl Lake State Park ►

The park's main attraction is the 167-surface-acre lake. Nestled in the mountains north of Steamboat Springs, this peaceful park sits in a serene lakeside setting. Excellent fly and lure fishing for native cutthroat trout can be found. Paddleboarders, kayakers and sailors clamor for a chance to launch on Pearl's expansive and still waters.

State Park General Information

The following information applies to all Colorado state parks. Additional property-specific information is listed on the pages that follow.

Park Hours

- Most parks are open every day of the year, weather permitting, but please see individual park listings for exceptions. Park office and visitor center hours vary.
- Day-use areas generally are open 5 a.m.–10 p.m. Some day-use parks close earlier (sunset or dusk) and have gates to prevent access outside of operating hours; contact the park for hours of operation. Check our website for seasonal or maintenance closures: cpw.state.co.us

Note: State parks on the front range tend to be very busy on weekends and holidays from May to Sept., so visit on a weekday, or arrive early in the morning or later in the afternoon to help ensure you can access your favorite park.

Camping & Reservations

- All state parks now require camping/cabin/yurt reservations. Campers can make reservations the day they plan to arrive at the park or up to six months in advance, 24/7 online (go to cpw.state.co.us and choose "Make a Reservation" under "Camping in Colorado" to get started) or by phone (1-800-244-5613). Lodging taxes are charged on all cabin, yurt, full hookup and electric site reservations.
- The online camping reservation, vehicle park pass and licensing system is a one-stop shop for all items that can be purchased from CPW. While you can make reservations for Colorado state parks through the Reserve America website, we highly recommend using the CPWshop website to access all of CPW's products and use all of the website features. All customers who wish to purchase products or make reservations online will need to look up and update their old account or set up a new online account. Go to cpw.state.co.us and choose "Make a Reservation" under "Camping in Colorado" to get started.
- Entrance fees apply at all parks in addition to camping fees.
- Customers can cancel their camping reservations prior to day of arrival or the reservation is checked in, whichever comes first, online at cpw.state.co.us/camping (choose "Canceling a Campsite" under "Know Before You Go") or by phone: 1-800-244-5613.
- Reservation change or cancellation fees are nonrefundable. It is your responsibility to know the check-in, cancellation and change policies for CPW, as they can change year to year. Go to cpw.state.co.us/camping and click "Campsite Changes" under "Know Before You Go" at the bottom of the page.
- Exceptions to the refund policy are not offered for water levels, fire restrictions, bugs or equipment malfunction.

Fishing on State Parks

- All but four state parks offer fishing, and licenses are required. Daily, multiple-day, annual or combo small game/fishing licenses are available: Go to cpw.state.co.us/state-parks for more information.

Hunting on State Parks

- Hunting is allowed only on some state parks. If it is allowed, it will be listed under "Recreation" in the park information that starts on page 59.
- See "Reservations: Hunting" on page 1 and go to cpw.state.co.us/hunting-reservations for more information.

State Park Fees & Passes

Daily Fees & Entrance Passes

- Entrance fees are charged at all state parks. They help offset operating costs.
- Daily passes are $10 per vehicle, or $4 for an individual pass to walk or bike in, depending on which park you visit.
- Daily passes are available at the park and are valid until noon the day after purchase. The fee for a daily pass covers all occupants of a vehicle. Some parks may charge a per-person fee to walk or bike in for those 16 years of age or older. Additional state park daily vehicle pass fees:
 - New Chatfield State Park daily vehicle passes are subject to an additional $2 Chatfield Water Basin fee.
 - New Golden Gate State Park and State Forest State Park daily vehicle passes are subject to an additional $2 local access fee.
 - Cherry Creek State Park is subject to an additional fee for the Cherry Creek Basin Water Quality Authority: $1/day or $3/annual.
- Annual passes purchased at self-serve kiosks (or "iron rangers") must be redeemed within 30 days. Note that the receipt is not replaceable.

Annual Pass Fees

- $29 for a Keep Colorado Wild Pass (Colorado residents only). The Keep Colorado Wild Pass pass is added to annual vehicle registration through the Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV). The $29 pass fee is included automatically unless you choose to opt out. This annual pass gives all Coloradans access to state parks and the added benefit of supporting our great outdoors and wildlife in a meaningful way. For more information: cpw.state.co.us/keep-colorado-wild-pass
- All annual passes allow you access to all state parks for 12 months from the month of purchase. Available online at cpw.state.co.us, by phone at 1-800-244-5613, at any CPW location or through any sales agent.
- An annual park pass is used in lieu of a daily entrance pass (see above).
- $80 for an annual affixed vehicle pass.
- $120 for a family annual pass. This transferrable pass is issued to an individual, not a vehicle. Anyone living at the same address as the pass holder can use the pass in their vehicle as long as the same address on their legal form of ID matches the pass holder.
- $40 for an additional annual affixed vehicle pass. You must possess a valid annual affixed or annual family pass to qualify to purchase this pass.
- Discounted annual passes are available to Colorado residents who are 64 years and older, disabled or eligible because of income: dnr.colorado.gov/accessibility

Military Passes

- Active duty, veterans and National Guard members are admitted free to state parks for the month of Aug. and on Veteran's Day.
- The military member or veteran must show proof of military service and obtain the free Aug. pass from any Colorado state park or CPW office. The military member or veteran must be in the vehicle using the pass. Go to cpw.state.co.us/military-passes for a list of acceptable military IDs.
- Resident disabled veteran and Purple Heart license plates also allow free park entry. (Available from the Division of Motor Vehicles.)

Gold Standard Sites

The Leave No Trace Center for Outdoor Ethics has 7 principles that provide an easily understood framework of minimum impact practices for anyone visiting the outdoors. The principles have been adapted so that they can be applied anywhere — from remote wilderness areas, to local parks and even in your own backyard. See the back cover of this brochure to read about them!

Five of our state parks have received the highest Leave No Trace standard of recognition as Gold Standard Sites: Barr Lake, Castlewood Canyon, New Cheyenne Mountain, Golden Gate Canyon, Highline Lake and Roxborough. Gold Standard Sites become exemplary models, encouraging other public lands to ensure that Leave No Trace education is part of everyone's experience when spending time outdoors.
