Program Update

The Southern Baptist Convention Disaster Relief (coalitions of churches) came to Colorado a year ago to scope out the size of the floods. In the last 12 months, we have seen the Baptists from the states of Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Kentucky, Georgia, Virginia and Alabama, to name a few, who came here to help. On September 18 they held an "End of Project" celebration at the Baptist Estes Park Church. Awards were given, speeches were made and testimonials were given from Estes Valley about how much the Baptists have given to Colorado. Now the transition will be to the Colorado Baptist General Convention, under the leadership of Dennis Belz and Dr. Mark Edlund.

There were a total of:

- 45 teams
- 449 volunteers
- 29,533 volunteer hours
- 23 states
- 180 jobs completed

The State of Colorado VAL works to integrate volunteer faith based organizations that have a disaster mission into local communities. The Colorado Baptists General Convention is a member of the Colorado Voluntary Organizations Active In Disaster (COVOAD) and the Southern Baptists Convention (SBC) are a part of the National VOAD.
