Mitigation and Recovery Program Report

February 9, 2016

DHSEM is working with governments, private-nonprofit organizations, and other critical partners on the following mitigation and recovery efforts.

Fall River Hydroplant and Upper Fish Hatchery Reaches Stabilization in Estes Park, Colo.

Estes Park began the first phase of stream bank stabilization on the Fall River the week of February 1, 2016. This project is receiving Colorado CDBG-DR Round One infrastructure funding to perform stream bank stabilization and channel restoration for a continuous 3,250 feet of the Fall River within Estes Park with a priority at the historic F.O. Stanley Hydroplant Museum. The Fall River project reach extends from 550 feet downstream of the Upper Fish Hatchery Road Bridge, upstream through the Hydroplant Museum property and to the border of Rocky Mountain National Park. The Town of Estes Park owns the entirety of the Project reach of Fall River, including the structures (e.g., Hydroplant Museum) located on the lands adjacent to the river. Once completed, the stabilization effort will also protect downstream water quality and enhance the surrounding habitats.

Disaster Case Management Program (DCMP) February 9, 2016

- The Disaster Case Management Program (DCMP) grant from FEMA ends March 11, 2016, and the closing process set forth in the State’s Demobilization Plan is proceeding as planned. In late January, the DCM Program Manager Chuck Sullivan and Finance Specialist Mercedes Schwall met with the sub-recipient finance teams at Catholic Charities and Lutheran Family Services to review the program financial status and confirm the process and timeline for the final grant billings, payments and closeout.
- The State and sub-recipient DCMP management teams are also carefully monitoring progress to ensure an effective demobilization and transition of the program’s remaining open cases to ongoing service providers. This effort includes the transfer of open Boulder County Community Development Block Grant- Disaster Relief (CDBG-DR) cases to the county office processing their applications. All other clients will continue to receive ongoing services from the two DCMP grant sub-recipients, Catholic Charities and Lutheran Family Services that have served them well under the DCMP.
- The number of open cases remains at 658.
