FOURTH REPORT OF THE COLORADO STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS OF ARCHITECTS

Denver, Colo., September 1, 1919.

To His Excellency, Oliver H. Shoup,
Governor of the State of Colorado:

The Colorado State Board of Examiners of Architects herewith submits for your consideration its report covering the period from December 1, 1915, to September 1, 1919.

The Board is at present constituted as follows:

- Francis W. Cooper, PresidentPueblo
- Thomas F. Walsh, Vice-PresidentDenver
- T. Robert Wieger, Secretary-Treasurer.....Denver
- Frank W. Frewen, Jr.Denver
- Lester L. Jones.....Fort Collins

Mr. Park M. French of Denver, served as Secretary-Treasurer for the Board during 1916 and was retired as a member of the Board during that year, being succeeded in the same office by Mr. Frank W. Frewen, Jr., of Denver, who served during the year 1917.

Mr. T. Robert Wieger of Denver, a new member of the Board, was elected as Secretary-Treasurer on January 21, 1918, and was re-elected on January 20, 1919, for the current year.

The other officers and members of the Board are given in the list above.

In accordance with the Statute, "Providing for the Licensing of Architects and Regulating the Practice of Architecture" in this State, the annual reports of receipts and expenditures of the Board, since January 1, 1916, have been filed with and approved by the Secretary of State and Auditor of State. The books and accounts of the Secretary-Treasurer for the several years have also been annually audited and approved, both by the Board and the Auditor of State.

The financial condition of the Board on January 20, 1919, was as follows:

Feb. 15, 1918—Permanent State University Fund ..	$5,400.00
Jan. 21, 1918—Deposited with State Treasurer	687.14
Jan. 20, 1919—Deposited with State Treasurer	513.13
	$6,600.27
Jan. 20, 1919—Fund in State Treasury	$6,600.27

According to law, this entire fund is to create and provide for an Advanced Course of Architecture in the State University.

The law provides that "Any surplus of fees remaining in the hands of the Treasurer of the Board, after the payment of the expenses of the members of the Board and the salary of the Secretary-Treasurer, as herein provided for, shall be paid annually to the Treasurer of the State of Colorado, and shall only be paid out upon the warrant and authority by requisition of said Board, and the approval of the Governor, and said surplus shall form the nucleus of a fund to provide for an Advanced Course of Architectural Study, to be established in the University of the State of Colorado."

Owing to the uncertain war conditions and a concerted action of the Architects of the State to reduce the annual license fee from $10 to $5, the Board decided on February 17, 1919, not to make the customary annual transfer of surplus money from the Current Fund to the University Fund until it was determined what proportion of the surplus receipts could be so transferred. The Auditor of State was duly notified to this effect. On January 20, 1919, this Current Fund amounted to $1,200.27. Later, after it was demonstrated that the Board could not exist and operate on a $5 annual license fee, it was decided best to retain the old fee of $10.

Resuming these figures, the Board has not only been self sustaining, but has a clear, net fund, over and above all expenses to date of about $7,000.

As business conditions are again approaching the normal the Board will again be able to transfer its surplus funds to the permanent University Fund.

It is evident, however, that this fund is not sufficiently large to establish the desired Course of Architecture in the State University, nor can it be so for a long period of years, with the limited income derived only from license renewal fees.

As the Board and the Architects generally do not wish to divert this fund into other State channels and so lose it, the assistance of the Governor and University Regents is earnestly desired to create such a Course in Architecture, there being no opportunity for education in Architecture in Colorado for citizens in moderate circumstances.

Should this prove impracticable, it has been suggested to use the fund in the purchase of a complete Architectural Library, for the use of the general public, to be kept either in the City Library of Denver, or in the State Library. The objection to such a library is, that only the citizens of Denver would be benefited and Architects throughout the State might have a legitimate objection.

The writer believes that the best disposition of the Fund would be the establishment of two annual scholarships in Architecture, such scholarships being accessible only to citizens of Colorado. In this way, the original intent of the Fund will, in a measure, be carried out. These scholarships could be awarded by examinations through this Board in conjunction with the State University.

Some definite disposition should soon be made of this fund; as it is now, no benefit is derived.

Regarding the effectiveness of the law licensing the practice of Architecture, there is no question but that the very existence of the law has been of great value to the general welfare. It has greatly improved the character and class of buildings and resulted in a higher standard of the Architectural profession.

However, it has been discouraging to this Board and to the licensed Architects, to note that several persons and corporations have endeavored, by circumvention, to defeat the purposes of the law in safeguarding the public.

Section 14 of the Act provides that: "Any person, firm or corporation, who shall be engaged in the planning or supervision of the erection, enlargement or alteration of buildings for others, and to be constructed by persons other than himself, except as hereinafter provided, shall be regarded as an Architect within the provisions of this Act, and shall be held to comply with the same, etc." "But nothing contained in this Act shall be construed to prevent any person, mechanic or builder from making plans and specifications for, or supervising the erection, enlargement or alteration of any building less than three stories in height that is to be constructed."

The evident intent of these excerpts is, first: To define a Licensed Architect as a person building for others, and second: to define what any person may build for himself or others without being a Licensed Architect.

A case in point is: The Gates Rubber Co., of Denver, who have, in the opinion of this Board, violated this Act, in erecting buildings more than three stories in height, without the employment of a Licensed Architect. The Gates Rubber Co. maintain that such buildings being for themselves, there is no violation of the law.

The Board maintains, however, that these buildings will house many employees and persons other than the Gates Rubber Co. and, therefore, such buildings are not for themselves and in order to properly protect and safeguard the public, a Licensed Architect should be required.

As this question is a palpable evasion of the real intent of the Law, and is constantly arising, this Board has taken legal steps to prosecute The Gates Rubber Co. for violation and to establish definitely the legality of the clause.

It is true, that the language of the Act is somewhat inadequate to cover such specific cases and, therefore, the law should be properly amended.

The clauses of the Act as in effect, permitting the erection of any building under three stories by any person, was a compromise in the Legislature to insure the passage of the Act.

The Board wishes to amend the Law so as to necessitate the employment of a licensed architect on any public or semi-public buildings effecting the safety of the public, such as schools, churches, theatres, garages, factories, warehouses and state, county or city public buildings, regardless of their height. Especially should this be the case on schools, churches, theatres, public garages, factories and warehouses, the greater majority of which are erected less than three stories high.

There are at present one hundred and five (105) architects licensed to practice in the State of Colorado, ninety-nine on whom reside in Colorado and sixteen in other states.

Since the last report on December 4, 1915, the deaths of the following Licensed Architects were recorded:

Harold W. Baerresen, Denver, Colorado.
Louis A. Pease, Colorado Springs, Colorado.
Wayne B. Patterson, Greeley, Colorado.
Frank Miles Day, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The Board sincerely regrets the loss of these gentlemen, all of whom were splendid citizens and Architects of ability.

The Board points with pride to the following Architects licensed in Colorado, who gave up their business and served in the United States Army during the World War:

Merle L. Barker, Denver, Colorado.
J. B. Benedict, Denver, Colorado.
George C. Burnett, Waco, Texas.
F. W. Frewen, Jr., Denver, Colorado.
H. C. Nickerson, Colorado Springs, Colorado.
Bernal A. Wells, Denver, Colorado.
Grant A. Wilson, Colorado Springs, Colorado.
D. J. Zimmerman, Detroit, Michigan.

Mr. T. Robert Wieger, of Denver, the present Secretary-Treasurer of the Board, served as Chief Engineer of Construction on the Army Hospital near Denver; Mr. E. F. Redding, another licensed architect of Denver, serving as one of his assistants on this project.

The regular annual examination to license architects to practice architecture in Colorado is held in December of each year under the direction of this Board.

In 1916, there were four candidates, only one of whom qualified.

In 1917, out of five applicants, four were accepted.

In 1918, owing to war conditions and there being no applications, no examination was held.

For the current year, 1919, there are at present, five applications on file. The Board will therefore hold its regular examinations, for four days, beginning December 15, 1919.

During the two year term of the present Secretary, he is pleased to report that the Board has missed no regular meeting and that all members of the Board have been most conscientious in the performance of their duties.

The Secretary is constantly in communication with similarly constituted Boards of other States, Societies of Architects and Architectural Colleges, in an endeavor to further the importance of the proper licensing of architects throughout the United States.

As the work of this Board is rapidly developing in its scope to properly control the practice of architecture toward the best interests of the public, and as it will be necessary to amend the present law, this Board wishes, at the proper time, to consult with the Governor, and determine with him some vital recommendations to be made to the next legislature.

It has come to the notice of this Board that some of the Colorado State buildings were awarded to architects practicing outside of Colorado, as in the case of the State University at Boulder, which was awarded to Day & Klauder of Philadelphia, and the State Normal School at Greeley for which Wm. B. Ittner of St. Louis was selected, neither of whom had been previously licensed in Colorado.

In justice to the Colorado Architects, who must pay an annual license in the State and most of whom are taxpayers and architects of unquestionable ability, it must be said that such awards are not fair to the citizens of this State. The architects of Colorado have requested this Board to bring this matter to the attention of the Governor.

It has constantly been the aim of this Board, since its organization in 1909, to carry out the true intent and spirit of the statute "Licensing Architects and Regulating the Practice of Architecture" in Colorado. Most satisfactory results have been accomplished toward the benefit and best interests of the general public. The strict enforcement of the Law has given the Public more competent and reliable persons in the profession of Architecture who have proven their ability to prepare plans and construct buildings which are safe, sanitary and beautiful.

It is gratifying to the Architectural profession to notice that many other states have adopted similar laws licensing and regulating the practice of Architecture and it is hoped that such laws will soon become general in all states.

The Board respectfully requests the co-operation of the Governor in its work, especially on some of the points heretofore outlined.

Respectfully submitted,

T. ROBERT WIEGER,
Secretary-Treasurer.

FRANCIS W. COOPER,
President.

In the case of a co-partnership of architects, each member must be licensed to practise architecture.

Each person licensed shall cause such license to be recorded in the Secretary of State's office. Failure to have his or her license recorded shall be deemed sufficient cause for revocation of said license.

of buildings for others, and to be constructed by persons other than himself, except as hereinafter provided, shall be regarded as an architect within the provisions of this Act, and shall be held to comply with the same; but nothing contained in this Act shall prevent the draughtsmen, students, clerks of works, or superintendents and other employees of those lawfully practising as architects, under license as herein provided for, from acting under the instruction, control or supervision of their employers; or shall prevent the employment of superintendents of buildings paid by the owners from acting, if under the control and direction of a licensed architect who has prepared the drawings and specifications for the building. The term building in this Act shall be understood to be a structure consisting of foundations, walls and roof, with or without the other parts; but nothing contained in this act shall be construed to prevent any person, mechanic or builder from making plans and specifications for, or supervising the erection, enlargement or alteration of any building less than three stories in height that is to be constructed.

License Revoked.

Sec. 15. Architect's license issued in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall remain in full force until revoked for cause, as hereinafter provided. Any license so granted may be revoked by unanimous vote of the State Board of Examiners of Architects for gross incompetency or recklessness in the construction of buildings, or for dishonest practises on the part of the holder thereof; but before any license shall be revoked, such holder shall be entitled to at least twenty days' notice of the charge against him, and of the time and place of the meeting of the Board for the hearing and determination of such charge. And on the cancellation of such license it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Board to give notice of such cancellation to the Secretary of State, who shall mark the license recorded in his office cancelled. The person whose license was revoked may have a new license issued to him by the Secretary upon certificate of the Board of Examiners, issued by them upon satisfactory evidence of proper reasons for his reinstatement, and upon payment to the Secretary of the fee of ten dollars ($10.00), which fee shall be turned into the State Treasury.

Any licensed architect who shall fail to have his or her license renewed during the month of July in each and every year shall have his or her license revoked; but the failure to renew said license shall not deprive him or her of the right to renewal upon payment of said fee.

Report of Proceedings to be Filed with Auditor of State.

Sec. 17.
