

AGP Increases from June to July this year

Gaming revenues jumped more than 18% from June to July, with casinos posting almost $71.3 million in adjusted gross proceeds (AGP) in July 2011. In June 2011, the statewide AGP was just over $60 million. However, the numbers compare to a year ago, showing a nearly 1.8% increase over July 2010, when gaming revenues were reported at just over $70 million. The seven casinos in Central City produced $6.4 million in AGP for July 2011, Cripple Creek's 14 casinos posted an AGP of almost $13.6 million, and the 18 casinos in Black Hawk produced $51.3 million total AGP July 2011. Casinos statewide paid nearly $2.1 million in gaming tax proceeds in July 2011.

Should a casino pay a jackpot to a person who promised not to gamble?

The Problem Gambling Coalition of Colorado provides a voluntary self-exclusion program, in which individuals can request exclusion from casino premises and be removed from casino marketing lists and slot club memberships. In the voluntary program, the individual agrees not to enter and/or use the services of any casino for a period of time.

Recently, the Division of Gaming was asked: what happens if an individual who has signed this form and been "self-excluded" shows up in a casino and wins a jackpot? Should the winnings be paid to an individual who has promised not to gamble and has broken that promise?

The answer is found in Colorado Revised Statutes 12-47.1-817, "Failure to Pay Winners." It is unlawful for any licensee to willfully refuse to pay the winner of any limited gaming game. (There are specific exceptions, including the Gambling Payment Intercept Act, should the winner owe money for child support or criminal restitution.)

Because the self-exclusion agreement is voluntary, the individual is entitled to the winnings, even if casinos were asked to cooperate with "self-exclusion."

If "exclusion" is part of a court order or sentencing agreement, a person under that court order would not be lawfully playing. If someone who is excluded by court-order wins a jackpot, the jackpot is voided as if it was never won.

The Problem Gambling Coalition of Colorado's mission is to increase awareness, advocate treatment and promote research and education on problem gambling. To learn more or view the "self-exclusion form," you may visit www.problemgamblingcolorado.org for information.
