Two years ago, the Department of Revenue introduced private sector principles of quality management to improve operational efficiency and services delivered to the public. A goal of improved productivity was to identify cost savings that could be "reinvested" to further increase productivity, cut operating costs and enhance customer service.

During the 1988-89 and 1989-90 fiscal years, we succeeded in identifying a total of $2,997,000 in cost savings of which $1,006,000 were returned to the general fund and $1,991,000 were reinvested in innovations by the department.

Working together with the General Assembly, the department has established a new way of doing business in state government in the form of a Memorandum of Understanding that allows most divisions within the department to reinvest future cost savings, including the flexibility to transfer funds across budget lines.

As a result of these efforts, the department proudly accepted Governor Roy Romer's First Annual Productivity Award.

I am pleased, therefore, to present this forty-ninth annual report, which covers Department of Revenue operations for the period July 1, 1989 through June 30, 1990, to the Governor and General Assembly in accordance with C.R.S. 24-35-102(3).

Respectfully,

Board of Directors: (back) Gayne Nelson, Information and Support Services; Dee Ellis Hartman, Motor Vehicle; Roger Morris, Liquor Enforcement; Phil Vasquez, Port of Entry; (front) John Vecchiarelli, Tax Auditing and Compliance; Gary Krueger, Policy and Planning; Deputy Director Amelie Buchanan; Executive Director John J. Tipton; Candice Bluechel, Lottery.

The Department of Revenue management team successfully implemented a comprehensive program that: established a performance measurement system for all department activities; used measurements to improve productivity and accountability; identified internal cost savings of almost $3 million over a two-year period; and created a climate of innovation to further improve its operations and provide millions of dollars in additional savings through cost avoidance. Known as the Two Year Plan, the program placed the Department of Revenue at the forefront of public administration and earned the management team the prestigious First Annual Governor's Award for Productivity. To lead the team into the new decade, Executive Director John Tipton and Deputy Director Amelie Buchanan created a Board of Directors which is composed of the department's division directors and is responsible for the agency's annual business planning process, as well as setting long-range plans and policies.

Few other state agencies have as much direct contact with the taxpaying public as the Department of Revenue. For that reason, customer service is an ongoing priority.

In 1990, reinvestment funds purchased new, automated telephone systems for both the Motor Vehicle and Taxpayer Service Divisions. The Tax Talk system, for example, provides 24-hour tax form ordering service, as well as recorded responses to the most frequently asked tax questions. Calls handled by the automated tax information lines now account for almost 50 percent of all tax-related phone calls from the public.

Conducting seminars to help both business and individual taxpayers understand their responsibilities is another customer service the department offers. In the 1989-90 fiscal year, 4,102 individuals — a 99 percent increase over the previous year — attended Department of Revenue-sponsored seminars. In the spirit of teamwork and cooperation to become more responsive to its customers, the department produced a new business tax seminar specifically for people in the food and alcoholic beverage industry. This seminar, given four times in various parts of the state, included presentations by several different Revenue divisions as well as the Department of Labor and Employment.

The department's Motor Vehicle Division closed its centralized driver's license office in Denver and opened five new express driver's license renewal offices along the Front Range as well as a metropolitan drive test center in Thornton. Four of the express offices are located in shopping centers and are open all mall hours, including evenings, weekends and most holidays. The Express Network has reduced the average time for renewing a driver's license from 35 minutes to 15 minutes or less.

Laptop computers were among the new technologies purchased with reinvestment funds to enhance staff efficiency and productivity.

The department also invested in Local Area Network hardware and software which give employees a full range of computer resources including shared databases and software applications designed to provide more effective service and response to the customer.

Installation of facsimile machines at all fixed ports of entry and cellular telephones in all mobile ports — all purchased with reinvestment funds — has facilitated faster clearance of commercial vehicles, as well as better communications between trucking companies and drivers. These tools contributed to a 33 percent decrease in average vehicle clearance time.

The department completed a new cost accounting system which provides actual program operation costs. The system includes a labor data module which will be emulated as a model for the new state-wide accounting system, Colorado Financial Reporting System (COFRS).

The Revenue Accounting System (RAS) Team continued its work on a comprehensive rewrite of the department's tax computer systems, delivering new business tax refund and tax registration systems. Were the department to hire a consultant to complete RAS, the cost to taxpayers would exceed $1.6 million to date. The department has funded the entire project through reinvestment and internal sources.

No less important were managerial changes. Tax auditing and compliance functions, which historically were administered by separate divisions, were consolidated into one division to reduce administrative costs.

Laptop computers enable the department's auditors to standardize work procedures and eliminate manual processes. The laptops also allow the auditors to generate copies of audit reports quickly, allowing better communications with taxpayers in the business community.

The Department of Revenue consistently searches for new ways to reach and serve all the residents of Colorado.

The Colorado Lottery celebrated a record sales year by distributing $40.9 million to local parks and recreation programs, state parks and recreation programs, and the state's Capital Construction Fund.

The department also conducted a comprehensive demographic study that will be used to determine the future location of office facilities to ensure that its most needed services are readily available to customers throughout the state. The study provided the basis for a 1990-91 objective of establishing a pilot regional service center in northeastern Colorado.

County clerks and local law enforcement agencies now have direct access to more than two million motor vehicle title documents due to conversion of manual, hard-copy files to an on-line computer system, which will speed service to citizens.

Successful enactment of House Bill 1325 has provided law enforcement officers with an effective tool for dealing with illegal alcohol consumption by minors on private property. The bill also eliminated a number of evidentiary and proof problems associated with underage drinkers.

Lottery's total fiscal year ticket sales for instant games and Lotto were $140 million, exceeding the original sales goal of $108 million by $32 million. Additionally, the Lottery held its first charity drawing, which donated $17,000 to non-profit organizations. The Lottery's successful Lotto start-up marketing campaign won a national award.

The department used reinvestment funds to remodel some office areas. Remodeling areas such as the motor vehicle emissions office not only provides employees with a healthier and more professional work environment, but also provides more comfort for visitors.

Creating a culture of innovation and initiative requires the active support of all employees. Participation in the department's Employee Suggestion Program is one way in which Revenue employees have risen to this challenge. In the program's first 18 months of operation, more than 150 employees submitted ideas that resulted in benefits to the state totaling more than $1 million through cost avoidance and increased revenue.

Program participants receive certificates and, for exceptional suggestions, small cash awards at quarterly award ceremonies.

Good employees deserve a good work environment to maximize performance and maintain morale. For that reason, some reinvestment dollars were used to remodel work areas and replace outmoded equipment. A priority has been the purchase of ergonomically designed office furniture to prevent work-related injuries.

A pilot program allows employees to arrange alternate work hours to participate in the education of their children and attend school-related events. This program has been adopted as a continuing policy at the Department of Revenue and is being used as a model by other state agencies.

The department also won the Governor's state-wide award for exceeding its goals for hiring disabled employees, an award for which the department takes particular pride.

The Department of Revenue successfully sought legal and procedural changes that are consistent with the philosophy of fair treatment of all taxpayers. This philosophy is promoted through a publication titled "Practical Information for Colorado Taxpayers," which encourages taxpayers to be aware of the many rights they have at each step of the tax process so that they can receive the best service possible.

The department has also created a Taxpayer's Bill of Rights. These rights include:

The right to have personal and financial information kept confidential by a state law. This protection prohibits the release to anyone other than the taxpayer (or an authorized representative) of information on tax returns with the exception of the Internal Revenue Service and other government agencies with which the department has information exchange agreements authorized by law.

The right to correct information. Penalty and interest are waived if erroneous written information from the department results in an underpayment of tax.

The right to plan business and personal finances in such a way that enables the taxpayer to pay the least tax that is due under the law.

The right to expect the department to pursue aggressively those who fail to pay their fair share of taxes, because most taxpayers do attempt to comply with the law.

Wine	7.33 cents/liter
Colo. Limited Winery Wine	0.70 cents/liter
Spirituos Liqueurs	60.26 cents/liter
Fermented Malt Beverages	8.00 cents/gallon

Imposed upon manufacturers or first receivers of alcoholic (or fermented malt beverages, i.e., beer containing 0.5 to 3.2 percent alcohol) beverages that are sold, offered for sale, or used in the state.

The manufacturer or first receiver must file a monthly return and remit the tax by the 20th day of the subsequent month for alcoholic and/or fermented malt beverages manufactured, received, sold, or disposed during the current month.

Cigarette & Tobacco Products:
Title 39, Articles 28, 28.5

Cigarettes	20.00 cents/package (10 mills/cigarette)
Other tobacco products	20% of manufacturer's list price.

Imposed upon cigarette wholesalers who sell or offer for sale cigarettes in the state; tobacco product distributors/first receivers collect and remit taxes imposed on the distribution, sale, consumption, or handling of the products.

Cigarette tax is paid by purchase of tax stamps by wholesalers who affix them to the packages or who use DOR-approved metering machines to imprint or impress a payment stamp on the packages. Distributors remit tax by 10th day of the month following purchase; they receive a 4% discount from the stamp's face value for collection expense. Tobacco products distributors file quarterly returns, paying the tax by the 20th day of the month following the end of the quarter; distributors deduct 3 1/3% of the tax due to cover their expense of collection and remission.

Estate :
Title 39, Article 23.5

Amount equal to state death tax credit allowed by federal estate tax.

Imposed on a decedent's estate when death occurred on or after January 1, 1980.

When the filing of a federal estate tax return is not required, a state return is similarly not required. Colorado inheritance tax is imposed on the right to receive property by descent or testamentary gift from a decedent's estate. The Colorado gift tax is imposed on gratuitous property transfers that occurred on or before December 31, 1979.

Income:
Title 39, Article 22

Individuals, Fiduciaries	5% of Colorado taxable income
Corporations	5% of 1st $50,000 of taxable income; 5.4% of the remainder.

Colorado taxable income is Federal taxable income with Colorado modifications of treatment.

Imposed upon the privilege of earning/receiving income in (or as resident of) the state. Corporations are not "residents." Others may be residents or non-residents. Residency determines whether 100% or less of the entity's income is allocated to Colorado.

Procedures for collections are similar to Federal procedures (e.g., withholding, estimated tax declarations, etc.). Residents are allowed credits for tax payments to other states. Return requirements are annual, in general, and are due by the 15th day of the 4th month following the tax year's close. Other requirements are imposed for withholding and estimated tax payments.

Mileage and Fuel:
Title 42, Article 3
Title 39, Article 27

Special Fuel	18.5 cents/gallon 7/89; 20.5 cents/gallon 8/89 through 12/89; 18.00 cents/gallon thereafter.

Passenger-mile tax is imposed upon owners/operators of vehicles used to transport passengers for compensation. Gasoline tax is imposed on distributors/first receivers of gas; the base is gross gallonage received. Special fuel distributors remit returns based on gallons sold in the state or used on the public highways of the state.

Owner/operators of relevant passenger vehicles must file quarterly returns, paying the tax by the 25th day of the month following the end of the quarter unless authorized otherwise. Gasoline/special fuel distributors file monthly and pay tax by the 25th day of the month following fuel receipt. Gasoline distributors remit the tax minus a 2 1/2% deduction for collection/administrative costs; special fuel distributors receive a 1% deduction to cover the cost of collection.
