Attachment
Methodology for Establishing and Certifying Salaries

Effective for salaries commencing July 1, 2017, county court judge salaries in Class C and D counties as defined in § 13-6-201 C.R.S., (2016) shall be established according to the following weighted caseload standards.

Case Class	Large Rural County Standard	Small Rural County Standard
Civil (non-protective orders)	3,328	2,997
Small Claims	1,752	1,731
Traffic (non-DUI)	7,372	4,000
Infractions	20,602	17,948
Misdemeanor (non-domestic violence)	2,942	2,383
Felony Complaint	2,444	1,694
DUI	1,474	940
Protective Orders	1,697	1,458
Domestic Violence	1,207	1,133
DUI Court	133	133

- Class C and D counties shall be subject to the weighted caseload staffing and salary standards according to the following formula.
 1. A court qualifies for the small rural county standard if, under the small rural standard, the computed salary range is 60 percent or less. Once a court reaches 65 percent under the small rural standard, the county is then transitioned to the large rural county standard. As a court is transitioning to the large rural standard, the salary level is held at 55 percent until the court workload under the large rural standard meets the 60 percent level.
 2. If a court's workload under the large urban standard falls below 45 percent, the court will be transitioned to the small rural standard. Similar to the transition referred to above, the court will be held at a salary level of 55 percent until the workload falls below 45 percent under the small rural standard.
- Courts shall receive credit for all county court cases filed as County Civil (C), Small Claims (S), Traffic (T), Infraction (R), and Misdemeanor (M). There shall be a separate case type standard for civil cases classified as Civil Protection Orders in County Court, Driving Under the Influence and Domestic Violence cases. Courts shall receive credit for all felony preliminary hearings or advisements held in felony criminal cases (CR). In addition, to account for the workload associated with DUI courts, the Adult Drug Court Standard from the District Judge Model shall be applied to problem solving court entries in DUI cases (DU and DW case types). Case filings are subject to statistical standards established by the State Court Administrator's office.
- The annual salary of Class C and D judges shall be established by the State Court Administrator based upon the average number of annual filings for each county court location for the preceding three year period ending December 31 of the preceding year.
- Annual filings shall be compiled by the State Court Administrator's office annually and certified by the clerk of court for each class C or D county court or special associate court.

Designation of Full Time County Judgeships

Pursuant to §13-30-103(1)(I)(III), C.R.S. the Chief Justice may appoint a full-time county judgeship in a Class C or D county once the workload of the court has reached 80 percent of full-time under the weighted caseload salary methodology. Prior to designation as a full-time judgeship, the following criteria must be met:

- For judges meeting or exceeding the 1.0 weighted caseload level, the county may be designated as full-time with the agreement of the County Judge, the Chief Judge of the district, and the Chief Justice.
- For judgeships meeting a weighted caseload level between .80 and .99, the Chief Judge of the District must submit a plan detailing how the additional hours gained by making the judgeship full time will be used.
- In determining whether to make a judgeship full time, the Chief Justice may consider county court caseload and the district's need for additional judges.

All full-time county judgeships in Class C and D counties will be reviewed annually to ensure caseload continues to merit full time status.

Waiver Procedures

The court recognizes that extraordinary situations may exist in only one county that requires additional time and resources. When a judge believes that this type of situation exists, he or she may apply for a variance from the weighted caseload staffing standards. In justifying the need for the variance, the application must demonstrate that the unique circumstances cited is on-going in nature and cannot be rectified through case management techniques. Circumstances that may qualify as extraordinary situation may include:

1. Case Complexity. A county judge may demonstrate that the complexity of cases filed in the county is significantly different than in other county courts and is not accounted for in the current weighted standards.
2. Trials. A county judge may demonstrate that the length or complexity of trials varies from other counties.
3. Local Filing Practices. The county judge may demonstrate that filing practices of local agencies or citizens are unique to the county and not accounted for in the current standard.
4. Special Case Types. A county judge may demonstrate that an extraordinary number of cases in a given case type are filed within the county and are not accounted for adequately in the current standard.

Grandfather Clause

Pursuant to §13-30-103(1)(I)(IV), C.R.S., salaries of all part-time county judges serving in office as of June 30, 1998 may not be reduced while the judge remains in office.
