PURPOSE OF THE REPORT

The purpose of the 2011 Annual Report on Charitable Solicitations is to provide valuable information to consumers who are considering making donations to charitable organizations. It includes a survey of fundraising activities conducted by professional fundraisers on behalf of charitable organizations registered to solicit contributions in Colorado. The report is required by Title 6, Article 16 of the Colorado Revised Statutes, the Colorado Charitable Solicitations Act.

Thousands of charitable organizations in Colorado provide vital services not otherwise provided by government or the private sector, and the vast majority of these organizations are pursuing their missions with tremendous dedication and integrity. The purpose of the charities registration program and the Annual Report on Charitable Solicitations is to protect the public's interest in making informed choices as to which charitable causes should be supported and to increase public faith in legitimate charities. The registration program and the Annual Report on Charitable Solicitations are also intended to assist charitable organizations in making informed decisions when contracting with paid solicitors.

COLORADO CHARITABLE SOLICITATIONS ACT (Title 6, Article 16, C.R.S.)

The Colorado Charitable Solicitations Act ("The Act") requires charities and paid solicitors that ask for contributions in Colorado to file registration documents with the Secretary of State's Office. That information is made available on the Secretary of State's web site through a searchable database at www.checkthecharity.com.

The Act applies to three types of entities: charitable organizations, paid solicitors and professional fundraising consultants.

A charitable organization is defined as any person who is or holds himself out to be established for any benevolent, educational, philanthropic, humane, scientific, patriotic, social welfare or advocacy, public health, environmental conservation, civic, or other eleemosynary purpose, any person who operates for the benefit of the objectives of law enforcement officers, firefighters, other persons who protect the public safety, or veterans, or any person who in any manner employs a charitable appeal or an appeal which suggests that there is a charitable purpose as the basis for any solicitation (C.R.S. § 6-16-103(1)).

A paid solicitor is a person who, for monetary compensation, performs any service in which contributions will be solicited in Colorado by such compensated person or by any compensated person he or she employs to solicit for contributions (C.R.S. § 6-16-103(7)). A director, officer, or compensated employee who is directly employed by a 501 (c) (3), (c) (4), (c) (8), (c) (10), or (c) (19) charitable organization is not considered a paid solicitor, nor is a bona fide volunteer ((C.R.S. § 6-16-103(7)(c)-(d)). Fundraising activities by such persons employed by or volunteering for the charity will be reflected in the charitable organization's overall financial statements (available online). Paid solicitors, in addition to filing annual registration statements, must file a solicitation notice before commencing a solicitation campaign, and must file a financial report on the results of such a campaign within 90 days of its conclusion. The Annual Report on Charitable Solicitations summarizes the results of these solicitation campaigns.

Finally, a professional fundraising consultant is any person, other than a bona fide officer or regular employee of a charitable organization, who is retained by a charitable organization for a fixed fee or rate under a written agreement to plan, manage, advise, consult, or prepare material for a solicitation of contributions for a charitable organization, but who does not solicit contributions or employ, procure, or engage any compensated person to solicit contributions (C.R.S. § 6-16-103(9.3)). Professional fundraising consultants do not need to register unless they will have custody or control of contributions from a solicitation, but they are subject to other requirements concerning contracts, banking, and record-keeping. They are also obligated to provide financial reports of solicitation campaigns directly to the charitable organizations, but since they are not required to file these financial reports with the Secretary of State, their activities are not reflected in the annual report.

THE ROLE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE

When the Colorado Charitable Solicitations Act was amended in the spring of 2001, legislators designated the Secretary of State as the responsible officer for creating and maintaining an electronic charities registration program and publishing an annual report on charitable solicitations activities. The Secretary of State issues registration numbers to charities, paid solicitors, and professional fundraising consultants, provides online access to their disclosure statements, publishes an Annual Report on Charitable Solicitations, and investigates allegations of wrongdoing in charities. Each registrant is assigned a registration number, the status of which may change, depending on whether its filings are up-to-date, it is still active, or it has been subject to disciplinary action.

Persons subject to the Act's registration requirement e-file all required documents directly on the Secretary of State's website, and upon approval by program staff, the information is immediately made available for public inspection at www.checkthecharity.com. Any consumer with Internet access who has questions about a charitable organization, paid solicitor, or professional fundraising consultant can review the organization's filings on the website. Such instant access and wide availability greatly speeds the decision-making process for potential donors and makes consumers a key ally in the Secretary of State's efforts to monitor charitable solicitations activities in Colorado.

DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS PROTECT DONORS

When contacted by phone, consumers should ask the paid solicitor for the registration numbers of the charity and the paid solicitor, and then verify the caller's and the charity's status on the Secretary of State's website. If an organization is not registered and in good status, consumers should insist that it register, or request an explanation as to why it is not subject to the registration requirements before considering making a donation. Consumers are entitled to ask the paid solicitor what percentage of their donation will go to the charity, and the paid solicitor must disclose the percentage promptly to the consumer. There is no provision in the law for referring the donor to the Secretary of State's website for the answer.

Paid solicitors are also required to make the following disclosures without any prompting from the consumer:

- A statement that the person soliciting the charitable contribution by telephone is paid to make the solicitation.
- The name of the telemarketing company that employs the paid solicitor.
- The name and telephone number of the charitable organization on whose behalf the paid solicitor is making the contribution.
- A statement that the charitable contribution is not tax-deductible, if that is the case. (This provision also applies to volunteers as defined in C.R.S. §6-16-103(12)).

Other state and federal laws provide additional protection against unwanted telephone calls. While it is true that the Colorado No-Call Law contains an exception that allows telephone solicitations by charitable organizations, the charity must be registered with the Secretary of State for that exception to apply. In addition, federal regulations require for-profit telemarketers calling on behalf of charitable organizations to remove those residents who request it from future solicitations on behalf of that charity.

Bearing in mind that most charitable organizations have honest intentions, engage in perfectly legal professional fundraising campaigns that conform with industry standards, and provide vital, effective services to our communities, residents in doubt about a particular solicitor's representation (pitch), or who have concerns about the activities of a charitable organization, paid solicitor, or professional fundraising consultant can lodge a complaint with the Secretary of State. Complaint forms are available on the website or by calling the Charities Program within the Business & Licensing Division at (303) 894-2200, ext. 6487. Depending on the nature of the complaint, the Secretary of State may contact the charitable organization or professional fundraiser directly in order to achieve compliance with legal filing requirements, or he may refer the matter to the Colorado Attorney General or the appropriate District Attorney.

THE DATA IN THE ANNUAL REPORT

Charitable organizations use a variety of methods to raise funds to support their missions. The method many people think of first (contracting with a paid solicitor), is used by a relatively small number of charities. To put such solicitation campaigns into perspective, consider that there were 9,539 charities registered to solicit in Colorado as of Nov. 30, 2011, yet only 261 different charities were listed on the 397 solicitation campaign financial reports filed in 2011. Nevertheless, these direct mail, radio, and telemarketing campaigns have a big public impact. The 2011 Annual Report on Charitable Solicitations summarizes the results of these solicitation campaigns, so Colorado residents can see where their donations go when they respond to these solicitations.

In addition to the information provided in this report, the Secretary of State's electronic charities database contains annually updated disclosure information filed by 9,539 charitable organizations, 160 paid solicitors, and 54 professional fundraising consultants (totals as of Nov. 30, 2011). These registration statements include basic identifying information about each registered entity, such as its location, legal entity status, place and date of formation, and executive personnel. Each charitable organization describes its charitable purpose, lists the composition of its board of directors, discloses its federal tax-exempt status, and files an annual financial statement listing revenues and expenses. Consumers are strongly encouraged to review these filings and to check an organization's current status before deciding whether a particular organization is worthy of support.

Additional information can be requested from a charity directly. For example, the organization may publish its own annual report containing a detailed financial statement and other educational material concerning its mission and program services. Most charitable organizations registered with the Secretary of State also file a federal Form 990, 990-EZ, or 990-N annual information return with the Internal Revenue Service, and some file a Form 990-PF or Form 990-T. If so, they are required by federal law to provide a copy of such forms as well as a copy of their IRS tax-exempt application upon request. More specific information regarding the federal public disclosure requirement is available at <http://www.irs.gov/charities/index.html> (search for "disclosure requirements" or "public inspection").

Collectively, these sources of information help answer one of the most frequently asked questions among potential donors – where does my donation go?

EVALUATING RESULTS OF SOLICITATION CAMPAIGNS

A charity's total fundraising costs might not resemble those of a particular campaign directed by a paid solicitor, so it is important to view any solicitation campaign in context. As long as the solicitation campaign results are considered alongside the overall financial information in a charitable organization's annual registration statements, the information in the Secretary of State's Annual Report on Charitable Solicitations can provide valuable insights. Consistently high fundraising costs may be a cause for concern and warrant a closer look by donors.

On its website and in this report, the Secretary of State has provided links to organizations that rate charities ("watchdog groups"), which include the Wise Giving Alliance, the American Institute of Philanthropy, and other organizations, such as Charity Navigator, Wall Watchers' MinistryWatch, and the Evangelical Council for Financial Responsibility. These frequently-cited industry standards for evaluating charities are very useful tools for potential donors, but such attempts to objectively measure the efficiency of charitable organizations should be placed in context. Here are some questions a person might ask that could provide more perspective to an individual fundraising campaign:

- Is the purpose of the campaign simply to raise as much money as possible, to acquire new donors for the future, to reinstate lapsed donors, or is it for some other purpose, which is merely a part of the overall fundraising strategy?
- Does the solicitation campaign directly serve some other program purpose of the charity beyond the raising of funds in this particular solicitation campaign?
- Are there other sources of revenue?
- Has the organization conducted similar campaigns in the past? Is this a newly-created organization?
- Are there donor restrictions on the use of funds, exceptional bequests, or a stigma associated with a cause and environmental or political events beyond an organization's control?

The information in the Annual Report on Charitable Solicitations provides important clues as to whether or not donations solicited by professional fundraisers are being used as donors intended. While most donors understand that fundraising entails costs, many are not aware of the amount of those costs for a particular solicitation campaign, nor do they have an objective standard in mind regarding appropriate fundraising costs.

INDUSTRY STANDARDS FOR ACCOUNTABILITY AND TRANSPARENCY

So, what should you know before donating to a charitable organization? Naturally, you'll want to know whether or not the charity is fulfilling its charitable mission in an effective manner through its program services and/or educational activities. While this question cannot always be answered simply by consulting the Annual Report on Charitable Solicitations or the charity's registration and financial statements, certain basic information can go a long way toward reassuring you of an organization's ability to carry out its mission. Several organizations have established industry standards intended to help you evaluate a charity and feel confident about your giving decision.

The BBB Wise Giving Alliance (www.give.org), affiliated with the Council of Better Business Bureaus, has established a set of non-binding Standards of Charitable Accountability as a guide to evaluating the efficiency of fundraising campaigns. According to its website, the Standards for Charity Accountability were developed with professional and technical assistance from representatives of small and large charitable organizations, the accounting profession, grant making foundations, corporate contributions officers, regulatory agencies, research organizations and the Better Business Bureau system. The BBB Wise Giving Alliance also commissioned significant independent research on donor expectations to ensure that the views of the general public were reflected in the standards.

Some of the key BBB standards that may interest potential donors include:

- ❑ With respect to an organization's finances, charities should spend at least 65% of total expenses on program activities, i.e., Total Program Service Expenses divided by Total Expenses should be at least 65%.
- ❑ Charities should spend no more than 35% of related contributions on fund raising, i.e., Total Fund Raising Expenses divided by Total Related Contributions should be no more than 35%. Related contributions include donations, legacies, and other gifts received as a result of fund raising efforts.
- ❑ Charities should avoid accumulating funds that could be used for current program activities. To meet this standard, the charity's unrestricted net assets available for use should not be more than three times the size of the past year's expenses or three times the size of the current year's budget, whichever is higher.
- ❑ Make available to all, on request, complete annual financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.
- ❑ Include in the financial statements a breakdown of expenses (e.g., salaries, travel, postage, etc.) that shows what portion of these expenses were allocated to program, fund raising, and administrative activities.
- ❑ Accurately report the charity's expenses, including any joint cost allocations, in its financial statements. For example, audited or un-audited statements which inaccurately claim zero fund raising expenses or otherwise understate the amount a charity spends on fund raising, and/or overstate the amount it spends on programs will not meet this standard.
- ❑ Have a board-approved annual budget for its current fiscal year, outlining projected expenses for major program activities, fund raising, and administration.

The American Institute of Philanthropy (AIP) (www.charitywatch.org) is another well-known charity watchdog GROUP that makes very similar recommendations, including:

- ❑ To achieve a satisfactory or "C range" rating, a charity should spend 60% or more of its Total Expenses on its charitable programs, with the remaining percentage being spent on Fundraising and General Administration. AIP believes that most highly efficient charities are able to spend 75% or more on programs.
- ❑ It should not cost more than $35 to raise $100 of funds. In other words, Total Fundraising Expenses divided by Total Related Contributions should be no more than 35%. AIP defines related contributions as money that is brought in as a result of fundraising activities. AIP is critical of charities that erroneously compare their cost to raise money with Total Income, which, according to AIP, can include patient revenue, investment income, sales proceeds and other items that are not affected by fundraising outlays. AIP says this faulty comparison often makes a charity's fundraising efficiency appear better than it actually is.
- ❑ AIP examines a charity's reserves of available assets to determine how long it could continue to operate at current levels without any additional fundraising. It defines a charity's "years of available assets" as funds currently available for the charity's use, including investments that the charity has set aside as a reserve but could choose to spend if it wanted to do. AIP recommends a reserve of less than three years and gives a failing grade to the “least needy” groups with reserves of more than five years, believing that the public’s donations are most urgently needed by charities that do not have large reserves of available assets.

Founded in 2001, Charity Navigator (www.charitynavigator.org) recently expanded its rating system, so that in addition to measuring a charity’s financial health, its rating system now looks at an organization’s commitment to accountability and transparency. According to its website, it is also testing a third dimension, results. It is best to visit the website for a discussion of its rating system, since Charity Navigator rates different types of charities with different resource and spending requirements differently.

Charity Navigator defines accountability as “an obligation or willingness by a charity to explain its actions to its stakeholder” and transparency as “an obligation or willingness by a charity to publish and make available critical data about the organization.” It uses two sources of data to examine accountability and transparency: the IRS Form 990 and the charity’s website. Using the Form 990, it checks the charity’s answers to the following 12 items:

Independent Board: are the independent Board members a voting majority and also at least five in number?

Material diversion of assets: was there any unauthorized conversion or use of the organization's assets other than for the organization's authorized purposes, including but not limited to embezzlement or theft?

Are there audited financials prepared by independent accountant with an audit oversight committee?

Loan(s) to or from related parties: were any loans made to related parties such as key officers, staff, and Board members?

Documents Board meeting minutes: did the charity report on its Form 990 that it keeps an official record of the events that take place during a board meeting?

Did the charity provide a copy of Form 990 to organization's governing body in advance of filing?

Conflict of interest policy: does the charity have one in place?

Whistleblower policy: does the charity have a whistleblower policy?

Records retention and destruction policy: does the charity have a policy in place?

CEO listed with salary: did the charity include this information in its Form 990?

Process for determining CEO compensation: did the charity report that it has a CEO compensation policy?

Compensates Board: did the charity pay any of its Board?

From the charity’s website, Charity Navigator reviews the following categories of information

Board members listed: does the charity lists Board members on its website?

Key staff: are they listed?

Audited Financials: has the charity published its audited financial statements for the fiscal year represented by the most recently filed IRS Form 990? For those charities that do publish their audit online, Charity Navigator will also report and rate whether or not the auditor's opinion was qualified or unqualified.

Form 990: has the charity published its most recently filed IRS Form 990?

Privacy Policy: does the charity have a written donor privacy policy in place to protect their contributors' personal information?

With respect to evaluating a charity's financial health, Charity Navigator analyzes the financial information provided by the charity in its IRS Form 990, compares its performance to similar charities, and then assigns a converted score ranging from zero to ten in seven financial efficiency performance metrics, as well as a rating for its overall financial health.

Four of the seven financial performance metrics focus on the charity's financial efficiency:

Program expenses: program services divided by its total functional expenses. According to Charity Navigator data, 70% of the charities they evaluated spend at least 75% of their budget on programs and services and 90% spend at least 65%.

Administrative expenses: administrative expenses divided by total functional expenses. Lower is better, but certain types of charities may have higher or lower median administrative expenses, e.g. food banks, fundraising organizations, community foundations, and museums. Charity Navigator adjusts scores to take this into account.

Fundraising expenses: - fundraising expenses divided by its total functional expenses. Measures the percent of total functional expenses spent on fundraising (lower is better).

Fundraising efficiency: the amount a charity spends to raise $1. Lower is usually better.

Three of the seven financial performance measures focus on a charity's financial capacity:

Primary revenue growth: growth of grants and contributions, revenue generated from programs and services, and membership fees and dues over the past 3-5 fiscal years. Organizations that demonstrate consistent annual growth in both primary revenue and program expenses are able to outpace inflation and thus sustain their programs year to year.

Program expenses growth: growth of program expenses over the past 3-5 fiscal years.

Working capital ratio: working capital divided by its total expenses, including payments to affiliates, for the most recent fiscal year. This determines how long (measured in years) a charity could sustain its level of spending without bringing in any new revenue.

TIPS ON WISE GIVING

Even though donors can usually rely on charities to be good stewards of their donations and to operate an efficient organization, it is still very important to be informed and cautious when considering your charitable giving options, especially in response to telephone solicitations. Unscrupulous solicitors rely on the fact that many donors do not monitor the use of their donations, so unsuspecting donors usually do not even become aware of the fact that their generous and heart-felt contributions may have been wasted. Your charitable contributions should actually reach the people in need of your assistance.

The Secretary of State and Attorney General offer the following wise giving tips to make sure that your charitable contributions are being used by legitimate organizations as you intended and not lining the pockets of scam artists:

- ❑ Ask for the caller's registration number, and then confirm that the organization is registered and current with its filings at www.checkthecharity.com.
- ❑ If the charity is required to file the federal form 990, 990-EZ, 990-N, or 990-PF with the IRS, ask to see it. You are also entitled to a copy of its IRS Application for Tax-Exempt Status and Determination Letter.
- ❑ Ask what portion of the contribution will be paid to the charity and make a note of which specific programs your contribution will support.
- ❑ Ask whether the charitable contribution is tax deductible, and verify with your tax advisor or the IRS. The fact that a charity has a tax identification number does not necessarily mean your contribution is tax-deductible. Ask for a receipt showing the amount of the contribution and stating that it is tax-deductible.
- ❑ Do not pay in cash – donate by check made payable to the charity or fund and mail directly to the charity.
- ❑ Be wary if the charity does not want to provide information about its programs and finances. Reputable charities welcome questions from potential donors, so don't hesitate to ask questions or request materials by mail.
- ❑ Be wary if the organization says you agreed to make a contribution and you don't remember doing so.
- ❑ Be especially wary of an organization that offers to send a courier to pick up your check. If solicited in person, ask to see identification for both the solicitor and the charity.
- ❑ Call the charity to see if it is aware of the solicitation and has authorized the use of its name. Certain well-known charities such as the Red Cross will never solicit donations over the phone.¹
- ❑ Watch out for charities with names that sound similar to well-known organizations. Sometimes these sound-alike names are simply intended to confuse donors.
- ❑ If the solicitor claims that the charity will support local organizations, call the local groups to verify.
- ❑ Hang up if the solicitor suggests you will receive special benefits or favorable treatment from a police, sheriff, patrol, firefighting, or other law enforcement agency or department of government, or that you will receive unfavorable treatment if you fail to make a contribution.
- ❑ Beware of unsolicited email. Instead, go directly to the organization's website or call to make donations.
- ❑ Be aware that charities are only exempt from the Colorado No Call list if they are properly registered with the Secretary of State.
- ❑ Be aware that The Federal Trade Commission's Telemarketing Sales Rule requires paid solicitors to put you on the charity's internal Do Not Call list upon request.
- ❑ Be aware that paid solicitors who make telephone calls into Colorado must disclose that they are paid to make the solicitation, and they must provide the name of the telemarketing company for whom they work and the name and telephone number of the charity on whose behalf they are soliciting.
- ❑ Discuss the donation with a trusted family member or friend before committing the funds.
- ❑ You have the right to cancel a monetary pledge until 12 midnight of the third business day after the day on which you receive a written confirmation of contribution. You have the right to cancel a nonmonetary pledge until 12 midnight of the first business day after the day on which you receive a written confirmation of contribution to cancel.

¹ Red Cross will never solicit by telephone, but it participates in mobile giving and makes email solicitations. They will never ask for account information in an email, however, nor will they ask you to make a deposit into a bank account. They will direct you to their website to make donations through secure transactions.

- ❑ You cannot deduct contributions earmarked for relief of a particular individual or family, even if they are made to a qualified charitable organization. Potential donors should inquire whether there is a trust or deposit account established for the benefit of the individual or family, contact the banking institution to verify the existence of the account, and check locally to confirm that there really is such a need. When you decide to contribute to an individual or family, do not give cash. Contribute by check that is payable to the fund, not to an individual.
- ❑ If you feel uncomfortable about a solicitor on the phone, just say “No thank you” or hang up.

If you believe that you have been solicited by a fraudulent charity, please file a complaint with the Secretary of State (www.sos.state.co.us/pubs/bingo_raffles/charity_complaint_form.pdf), or the Attorney General (800-222-4444; www.ago.state.co.us/consline/consline.cfm).

Total number of charities registered to solicit contributions with the Secretary of State.

Total number of campaigns run annually by paid solicitors. Many paid solicitors run multiple campaigns each year.

Net proceeds as a percent of gross contributions raised by paid solicitors that made it to the charities.

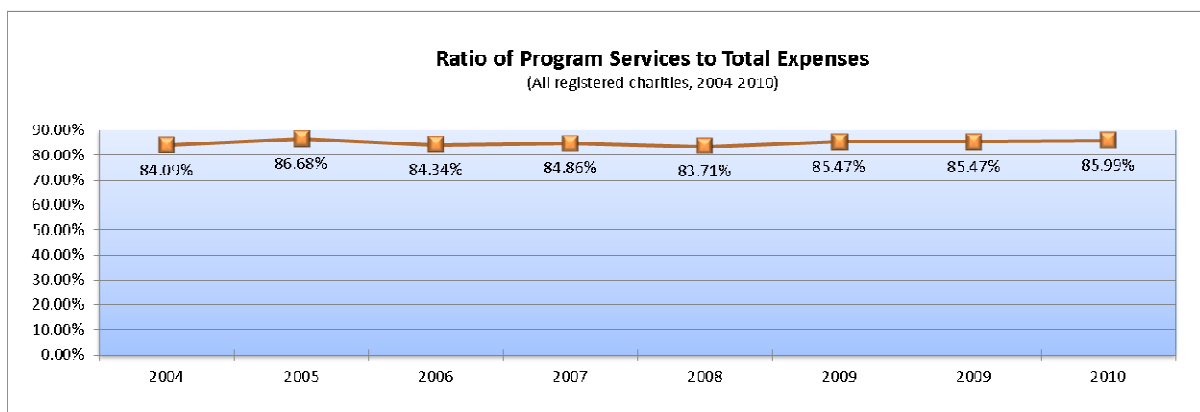

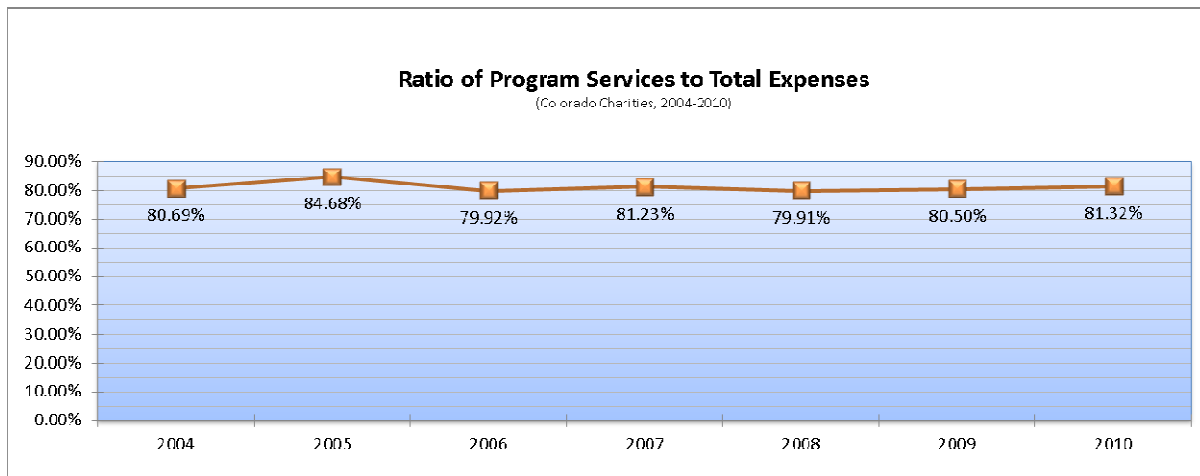

Fundraising Expenses divided by Contributions Revenue.

Better Business Bureau Standard: Spend no more than 35% of related contributions on fund raising. Related contributions include donations, legacies, and other gifts received as a result of fund raising efforts.

American Institute of Philanthropy (AIP) Standard: AIP refers to this as the cost to raise $100. This dollar amount reflects how much is spent to raise each $100 of funds collected. In AIP's view, $35 or less to raise $100 is reasonable for most charities. AIP helps you to judge the fundraising efficiency of a charity by comparing fund-raising expense with related contributions, i.e., money that was brought in as a result of fundraising activities; whereas many charities compare (by pie charts or ratios) their cost to raise money with total income, which can include patient revenue, investment income, sales proceeds and other items that are not affected by fundraising outlays. This ratio is useful because it tells donors how much a charity is spending to obtain your contribution and how much is left to spend on charitable programs and general administration

Charity Navigator: Charity Navigator assigns a score ranging from 0 -10 that is adjusted for certain types of charity, e.g. food banks, community foundations, public broadcasting and media. Generally, it assigns a score of 10 if the amount it takes to raise $1.00 is $0.00 - $0.10, 7.5 for amounts $0.10 - $0.20, 5 for amounts $0.20 to $0.35, 2.5 for amounts $0.35 to $1.00, and 0 for amounts greater than $1.00.

Program Services Expenses divided by Total Expenses.

Better Business Bureau Standard: Spend at least 65% of total expenses on program activities.

American Institute of Philanthropy (AIP) Standard: This is the portion of total expenses that is spent on charitable programs. In AIP's view, 60% or greater is reasonable for most charities. The remaining percentage is spent on fundraising and general administration.

Charity Navigator Standard: To rate a charity's spending on programs and services, Charity Navigator divides its program expenses by its total functional expenses. If Charity Z spends $2.5 million on program expenses, compared with total functional expenses of $3.5 million, then Charity Z spends 71.4% on program expenses. According to its website, 7 out of 10 charities Charity Navigator has evaluated spend at least 75% of their budget on programs and services, and 9 out of 10 spend at least 65%. They believe that those spending less than a third of their budget on program expenses are not living up to their missions.

¹For exceptions to the filing requirement, see chapter 2 and the form instructions. Note: For annual tax periods beginning after 2006, most tax-exempt organizations, other than churches, are required to file an annual Form 990, 990-EZ, or 990-PF with the IRS or to submit an annual electronic notice, Form 990-N (e-Postcard), to the IRS. Tax-exempt organizations failing to file an annual return or submit an annual notice as required for 3 consecutive years will automatically lose their tax-exempt status.

²An organization exempt under a subsection of section 501 other than 501(c)(3) can establish a charitable fund, contributions to which are deductible. Such a fund must itself meet the requirements of section 501(c)(3) and the related notice requirements of section 508(a).

³Contributions to volunteer fire companies and similar organizations are deductible, but only if made for exclusively public purposes.

⁴Deductible as a business expense to the extent allowed by section 192.

⁵Deductible as a business expense to the extent allowed by section 194A.

⁶Application is by letter to the address shown on Form 8718. A copy of the organizing document should be attached and the letter should be signed by an officer.

⁷Contributions to these organizations are deductible only if 90% or more of the organization's members are war veterans.

⁸For limits on the use of Form 990-EZ, see chapter 2 and the general instructions for Form 990-EZ (or Form 990).

⁹Although the organization files a partnership return, all distributions are deemed dividends. The members are not entitled to pass through treatment of the organization's income or expenses.

¹⁰Form 1120-POL is required only if the organization has taxable income as defined in section 527(c).

¹¹Only required to annually file so much of the Form 990 that relates to the names and addresses of the officers, directors, trustees, and key employees, and their titles, compensation, and hours devoted to their positions (Part VII of Form 990) and complete Tax exempt status (Item I in the Heading of Form 990).

¹²See section 501(q) if the organization provides credit counseling services and seeks recognition of exemption under section 501(c)(4). Use Form 1024 if applying for recognition under section 501(c)(4).

¹³See section 501(c)(29) for details.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE TABLES - PART 1

The information presented in tables 1 -10 is based on the results of 397 solicitation campaign financial reports and covers the period from December 1, 2010 – November 30, 2011.

Please note that nothing in the statute or regulations requires a paid solicitor to distinguish between contributions raised in Colorado and contributions raised nationally in the solicitation campaign financial report, so the data in the annual report consists of a mixture of national and Colorado-specific results.

Table 1 Distribution of Solicitation Campaigns

This chart shows what percentage of all solicitation campaigns fell within certain bands of “percentage of gross proceeds retained by charity.” It is based on information disclosed in solicitation campaign financial reports that were filed from Dec. 1, 2010 - Nov. 30, 2011. It includes the total gross proceeds of all solicitation campaigns and the total net to charity. The overall percent to charity from all solicitation campaigns that were conducted by paid solicitors can be calculated by dividing total Net to Charity by total Gross Proceeds.

Table 2 Paid Solicitor Summary - 2011

For a particular paid solicitor, summarizes the results of all solicitation campaigns reported in 2011. Shows gross collected, net to charity, overall percent to charity, lowest percentage of gross proceeds to charity, highest percentage of gross proceeds to charity. “Overall Percent to Charity” is calculated by dividing the Net to Charity by Gross Proceeds for each paid solicitor. The “Clients” column includes charities on whose behalf campaign reports were filed from Dec. 1, 2010 – Nov. 30, 2011. If the number of clients is less than the number of campaigns listed, this is due to the fact that the paid solicitor ran more than one campaign for the same client.

Table 3 Paid Solicitor Summary – Cumulative (2007-2011)

For a particular paid solicitor, summarizes the results of all solicitation campaigns reported over the past five years. Shows gross collected, average percent to charity, lowest percentage of gross proceeds to charity, highest percentage of gross proceeds to charity. “Overall Percent to Charity” is calculated by dividing the Net to Charity by Gross Proceeds for each paid solicitor. The “Clients” column includes charities on whose behalf campaign reports were filed from Dec. 1, 2006 – Nov. 30, 2011. If the number of clients is less than the number of campaigns listed, this is due to the fact that the paid solicitor ran more than one campaign for the same client.

Table 4 Charity Summary - 2011

For a particular charity, summarizes the results of solicitation campaigns run by paid solicitors in 2011. Shows gross collected, total expenses, average percent to charity, lowest percentage of gross proceeds to charity, highest percentage of gross proceeds to charity. “Overall Percent to Charity” is calculated by dividing the Net to Charity by Gross Proceeds for each paid solicitor. The “Paid Solicitor” column lists the paid solicitors that filed campaign reports on behalf of the charity from Dec. 1, 2010 – Nov. 30, 2011.

Table 5 Charity Summary – Cumulative (2007 -2011)

For a particular charity, summarizes the results of all solicitation campaigns run by paid solicitors over the past five years. Shows gross collected, net to charity, average percent to charity, lowest percentage of gross proceeds to charity, highest percentage of gross proceeds to charity. “Overall Percent to Charity” is calculated by dividing the Net to Charity by Gross Proceeds for each paid solicitor. The “Paid Solicitor” column lists the paid solicitors who filed campaign reports on behalf of the charity from Dec. 1, 2006 – Nov. 30, 2011.

Table 6 Solicitation Campaigns Sorted by Paid Solicitor

Results of each individual solicitation campaign for which a campaign report was filed from Dec. 1, 2010 - Nov. 30, 2011. The results are sorted by paid solicitor and list campaign dates, contract dates, gross proceeds, expenses, net to charity, percentage of gross proceeds to charity.

Table 7 Solicitation Campaigns Sorted by Charitable Organization

Results of each individual solicitation campaign for which a campaign report was filed from Dec. 1, 2010 - Nov. 30, 2011. The results are sorted by charitable organization, and the table lists campaign dates, contract dates, gross proceeds, expenses, net to charity, and percentage of gross proceeds to charity.

Table 8 Solicitation Campaigns Sorted by Percent to Charity

This table provides results of each individual solicitation campaign for which a campaign report was filed from Dec. 1, 2010 - Nov. 30, 2011. Sorted by “percent to charity.” The table lists campaign dates, contract dates, gross proceeds, expenses, net to charity, and percentage of gross proceeds to charity.

Table 9 Campaign Reports vs. Solicitation Notices Comparison (Contracts Not Percentage-Based)

A table summarizing results of campaigns governed by contracts that were not percentage-based, Tables 9 compares the predicted results of a solicitation campaign as disclosed by paid solicitors on solicitation notices to the actual results of a campaign as reported on solicitation campaign financial reports. Campaign reports filed from Dec. 1, 2010 - Nov. 30, 2011.

Table 10 Campaign Reports vs. Solicitation Notices Comparison (Percentage-Based Contracts)

A table summarizing results of campaigns governed by percentage-based contracts, Table 10 compares the predicted results of a solicitation campaign as disclosed by paid solicitors on solicitation notices to the actual results of a campaign as reported on solicitation campaign financial reports. Campaign reports filed from Dec. 1, 2010 - Nov. 30, 2011.

Note: Names are displayed in tables exactly as entered by the organizations.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE TABLES – PART 2

Tables 11 and 12 summarize financial information provided by charities that filed the state financial report covering any accounting period that ended in 2010.

Table 11 lists all 8,346 charities that filed financial reports, and Table 12 lists the 5,676 charities with a principal address in Colorado. Information believed to be of particular interest to potential donors has been excerpted from the complete financial report filed by each organization. On the revenue side, only Total Revenue and Contributions Revenue are included in Table 11 and Table 12 of the report. Each organization's complete financial report includes additional revenue categories for Government Grants, Program Service Revenue, Investments, Special Events and Activities, Sales, and Other Revenue. On the expense side, Table 11 and Table 12 include Total Expenses, Program Services Expenses, Fundraising Expenses, and Administration-Management-General Expenses.

The data in Tables 11 and 12 reflects the information that was on file with the Secretary of State's Office as of November 30, 2011 at 11:59 p.m. Since financial reports are due by the 15th day of the fifth month following the close of an organization's fiscal year, the due dates vary. Nevertheless, the last 2010 reports due were those of calendar year organizations, whose accounting periods ended on Dec. 31, 2010. The initial due date for calendar year organizations was May 15, 2011. Since up to two extensions of the deadline may be requested by a charitable organization (three months each), all 2010 financial reports were due by Nov. 15, 2011, at the latest. The number of organizations listed in Table 11 (8,346) is less than the total number of charities in the registry (9,539 as of 11/29/11), because many charities are overdue with their filings. Any organization that has not yet reported on a fiscal year that ended in 2010 is now suspended. If it is suspended, it cannot solicit contributions from the public until its filings are brought up to date.

For a number of reasons, it is possible that a charitable organization could be registered now, despite not being listed in Table 11 or Table 12. Similarly, an organization listed in this report may have had its registration withdrawn, suspended, or revoked since publication, so the reader is encouraged to visit www.checkthecharity.com for the most current information on any charitable organization.

Please bear in mind that the information summarized in this report reflects the general financial condition of charitable organizations registered to solicit contributions in Colorado. The totals do not reflect activity in Colorado alone. More specifically, Total Contributions as listed in the report does not reflect total donations by Coloradans. Such information on total donations by Colorado residents must be culled from data contained in individual federal income tax returns, which can be found on the Internal Revenue Service's web site (www.irs.gov) in the Statistic of Income Bulletin.

Each revenue and expense category included in Tables 11 and 12 is explained in detail below.

REVENUE (Amounts Received During the Year)

CONTRIBUTIONS

Contributions consist of cash and non-cash amounts received as voluntary contributions, gifts, grants, bequests, or other similar amounts from the general public, foundations, and other exempt organizations. Non-cash contributions are anything other than cash, checks, money orders, credit card charges, wire transfers, and other transfers and deposits to a cash account of the organization. Non-cash contributions should be valued as of the time of receipt, even if sold immediately after they were received. If this amount exceeds $25,000, the organization must answer “Yes” to Part IV, line 29 on the IRS Form 990 and complete and attach Schedule M (Form 990).

The general public includes individuals, corporations, trusts, estates, and other entities. Contributions include all funds raised by an outside professional fundraiser in the charity's name and not just the amount actually received by the charity. Contributions also include donations and grants from public charities and other exempt organizations that are neither fundraising organizations nor affiliates of the filing organization. In addition, contributions include payments, or the part of any payment, for which the payer (donor) does not receive full retail value (fair market value) from the recipient (donee) organization.

Amounts contributed by a commercial co-venturer are also classified as contributions. These are amounts received by an organization (donee) for allowing an outside organization (donor) to use the donee's name in a sales promotion campaign. Revenue received from fundraising events, such as gaming events, dinners, auctions, and other events conducted for the sole or primary purpose of raising funds for the organization's exempt activities is included here as well.

Contributions include the total amount of donations received indirectly from the public through solicitations campaigns conducted by federated fundraising agencies and similar fundraising organizations (such as a United Way organization).

Some membership dues and assessments are classified as contributions from the public rather than payments for benefits received or payments from affiliated organizations. Membership dues that are not contributions because they compare favorably with available benefits are reported on the state financial form as Program Service Revenue (which is not a category included in Tables 11 and 12). Membership dues may consist of both contributions and payment for goods and services. In that case, the portion of the membership dues that is a payment for goods and services should be classified as Program Service Revenue. The portion that exceeds fair market value of the goods or services provided is a contribution.

Amounts received from related organizations that are closely associated with the reporting organization (including a parent organization, subordinate, or another organization with the same parent) are contributions. If the organization is a sponsoring organization that maintains one or more donor advised funds, the gross amount of contributions, gifts, grants, and bequests received for all donor advised funds the organization maintains will be included in this category.

EXPENSES (Amounts Spent During the Year)

PROGRAM SERVICES EXPENSES

Program services are mainly those activities that the reporting organization was created to conduct and which, along with any activities commenced subsequently, form the basis of the organization's current exemption from tax. They may be self-funded or funded out of contributions, accumulated income, investment income, or any other source. Program services can also include the organization's unrelated trade or business activities. For example, publishing a magazine is a program service even though the magazine contains both editorials and articles that further the organization's exempt purpose and advertising, the income from which is taxable as unrelated business income. If an organization receives a grant to do research, produce an item, or perform a service, either to meet the grantor's specific needs or to benefit the public directly, the costs incurred represent program service expenses. These costs should not be treated as fundraising expenses, even if the filer reports the grant as a contribution.

FUNDRAISING EXPENSES

Fundraising expenses consist of the total expenses incurred in soliciting contributions, gifts, grants, etc. Fundraising expenses include allocable overhead costs incurred in (a) publicizing and conducting fundraising campaigns, including any fees paid to outside fundraisers for solicitation campaigns they conducted or for consultation services connected with a solicitation of contributions by the organization itself; (b) soliciting bequests and grants from foundations or other organizations, or government grants; (c) participating in federated fundraising campaigns; (d) preparing and distributing fundraising manuals, instructions, and other materials; and (e) conducting special events that generate contributions in addition to revenue.

ADMINISTRATION - MANAGEMENT AND GENERAL

This category includes the organization's expenses for overall function and management, rather than for its direct conduct of fundraising activities or program services. Overall management usually includes the salaries and expenses of the chief officer of the organization and that officer's staff. If part of their time is spent directly supervising program services and fundraising activities, their salaries and expenses should be allocated among those functions. Other expenses to report here include those for meetings of the board of directors or similar group; committee and staff meetings (unless held in connection with specific program services or fundraising activities); general legal services; accounting (including patient accounting and billing); general liability insurance; office management; auditing, personnel, and other centralized services; preparation, publication, and distribution of an annual report; and investment expenses. This field should not be used to report costs of special meetings or other activities that relate to fundraising or specific program services.
