Building Security

Preserving a safe and secure environment is the responsibility of everyone on campus. Employees have the responsibility to secure the work area and students have the responsibility to lock their residence hall rooms and personal property.

Most campus buildings and facilities are accessible to the public during normal business hours Monday through Friday excluding holidays. Certain facilities may be open for designated hours on Saturdays. Exterior doors on campus buildings are secured each evening by facilities personnel. Buildings may be secured at different times based on class schedule, special events, and computer lab hours.

All residence halls are secured using a card access system. Residence halls are accessible to the campus community and visitors from 8am to 10pm. From 10pm to 8am the residence hall has restricted access. During those hours any visitors must be accompanied by a hall resident with proper identification and access card. Visitors must also sign in at the front desk.

We ask that you take the following precautions to prevent circumventing policies designed to protect your personal safety and that of others:

- Do not prop doors open or allow strangers into campus buildings that have been secured.
- Do not lend keys or leave them unattended.
- Notify the Sheriff's Department of any suspicious activities or individuals.

Sexual Harassment Policy

Colorado State University-Pueblo is firmly dedicated to providing an environment where students, faculty, and staff are treated with respect and dignity. Sexual harassment and acts of discrimination are illegal, often demeaning for the individual student or employee, and can disrupt the universities positive learning and work environment. All members of the University community have a responsibility to be aware of what behaviors constitute sexual harassment, to be responsible for their own actions, and to help create and environment free of sexual harassment.

Colorado State University-Pueblo defines sexual harassment as unwelcomed sexual advances, request for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when one or more of the following criteria are met:

- Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or of academic status in a course, program, or activity.
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as a basis of employment or academic decisions affecting the individual.
- Such conduct is sufficiently severe, persistent, or pervasive to have the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work and/or academic educational performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work and/or learning environment.

Retaliation against any individual for filing a complaint, participating in or, cooperating in an investigation is prohibited.

If you believe that you have been sexually harassed or that you have been retaliated against for filing a complaint or participating in an investigation by anyone during your work and/or academic activities at Colorado State University-Pueblo, you should report this conduct immediately. You may report this conduct to an officer of the university, instructional dean, division/department director, Director of Diversity, or a human resources representative.

The University has appointed a Director of Diversity (LaNeeca Williams) who is responsible for the Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity policy of the University. Inquiries and or complaints may be referred to that office in the Occhiatto University Center room 004A or by phone at (719)549-2210. Sexual Assault

The victim of a sexual assault should contact the Pueblo County Sheriff's Office at CSU-Pueblo as soon as possible. Evidence in sexual assault cases can be lost by delays in reporting. Victims are encouraged not to shower, clean up, change or launder clothing, or further disturb the area where the assault occurred since any of these actions can reduce the chances of law enforcement recovering evidence in support of the victim. If a crime occurs on or off campus, the sheriff's office should be notified immediately. In Pueblo County the easiest access is by dialing 911 or (719)549-2373 outside Pueblo County. Immediately identify yourself as a CSU-Pueblo Student. Even though another jurisdiction may handle the investigation of an assault they may not be able to offer all of the services provided by the University. These services are initiated by notifying the Sheriff's Department.

The University will consider changing on-campus housing arrangements or academic situations on a case-by-case basis. Confidential counseling services are provided on campus, free of charge, to any rape or sexual assault victim who desires this service.

Other services are available as follows: Pueblo Rape Crisis Center Hotline is available 24 hours – 7 days a week at (719) 549-1549 or toll free at (877) 425-7727. The National Sexual Assault Hotline number is (800) 656-4673. Students may also access the 24-hour free and confidential National Sexual Assault Online Hotline at <https://ohl.rainn.org/online/>.

In addition to criminal charges, the University may proceed with a disciplinary hearing against any student accused of committing a sexual assault. Student disciplinary hearings are conducted in accordance with procedures outlined in the Student Conduct Code, which can be accessed online: <http://www.colostate-pueblo.edu/StudentLife/StudentJudicialAffairs/StudentConductCode/Pages/default.aspx>.

In a student disciplinary hearing, both the accuser and accused are given the same opportunity to have others present during the proceedings; both shall be

Fire Department Qualifications

Fire protection for the Colorado State University-Pueblo campus is provided by the Pueblo City Fire Department. We are in the one minute response band from our first in Engine Company (8) stationed at 1551 Bonforte Blvd approximately 1.14 miles from the University. Engine Company 8 consists of a 1994 Pierce 1250 pumper which is staffed 24 hours a day seven days a week with one captain, one engineer, and one emergency medical officer. Additional resources are available from any of nine other stations located throughout the city. Each station is staffed 24/7 and consist of at least one engine company. Advanced resources including a staffed heavy rescue unit, a staffed ladder truck and hazmat resources are available from station 1 located at 425 W 7th Street, approximately 3.89 miles from the University. If Engine Company 8 is out on another call another Engine company will respond to campus. Additionally American Medical Response has an ALS ambulance stationed at the corner of Jerry Murphy road and Bonforte blvd, approximately 1.2 miles from the University.

Pueblo City Fire was the fourth out of 400 fire departments in Colorado, and one of 127 in the nation, to achieve Distinguished Accreditation Status from the Center for Public Safety Excellence. All Pueblo City Firefighters carry a minimum of an EMT-Basic and Firefighter 1. Additionally at least one member of each engine company is certified as an EMT-Paramedic.

Environmental Health and Safety Program

The Environmental Health and Safety (EH&S) Department at Colorado State University-Pueblo is charged with the responsibility of promoting a safe environment for students, faculty, staff, and visitors. Fire Safety Policies

Fire Alarm Procedures

When An Alarm Sounds:

1. Leave your room immediately.
2. Close the room door and lock it.
3. Walk quietly and quickly to the nearest exit. Do not use the elevators.
4. Remain outside until the signal is given to return to your room.

For your own protection, obey all fire regulations. Failure to evacuate a hall when an alarm sounds represents grounds for disciplinary action. Residence Hall staff, Campus Police Officers, Director of Environmental Health and Safety, and the Pueblo Fire Department reserve the right to enter student rooms to locate the source of any potential fire or smoke hazard and to ensure that everyone has evacuated the building.

Electrical Appliances

To help ensure a safe living environment, the following appliances are permitted: microwave ovens (less than 700 watts), refrigerators (no more than 4 cubic feet), coffee pots, air popcorn poppers, pop-up toasters, hair dryers, electric shavers, radios, TVs, stereos and irons. Microwave ovens are the only cooking appliances permitted for use in student rooms. No homemade electrical appliance will be permitted. You must provide an UL-approved power strip with a self-contained circuit breaker if you plan to operate appliances in your room. Octopus plugs are not permitted. Additionally, residents must be present when using any cooking appliance or iron in student rooms or in hall kitchens.

Those items which are NOT allowed include but are not limited to: electric heaters, oil popcorn poppers, hotplates, toaster ovens, "George Foreman" or similar type grills, open coiled or open flame appliances, deep fryers, convection ovens and any appliances with an open heating element and torchier lamps and neon lights. Also, only those halogen lights with guards will be permitted.

Emergency Procedures

For any emergency call 719-549-2373 or 911 immediately.

Fire and Safety Equipment

Tampering with fire and safety equipment in the residence hall or in any campus building is prohibited. Tampering includes pulling false fire alarms, discharging fire extinguishers, removing exit signs, and interfering with smoke detectors. Interference with smoke detectors will result in disciplinary action. Students responsible will be assessed for all damages that occur as a result of their tampering with fire and/or safety equipment. In addition, all violators are subject to judicial action and possible criminal prosecution.

Flammable Liquids

Gasoline, kerosene, ether, oil and any other flammable liquids are prohibited in residence hall.

Candles/Incense/Open Flames or Heat Sources

Candles used with a candle warmer are allowed in the residence hall. Any candles with wicks that have been burned will be confiscated. Incense and any item with an open flame or exposed heat source are potential fire hazards and are prohibited.

Smoking/Use of Tobacco Products

The use of tobacco products is prohibited in the residence hall. The use of tobacco products is prohibited within twenty five (25) feet of any such building intake duct, window or entrance or entryway, including ramps, walkways, pathways, and any such similar means of entry, unless a University designated tobacco use shelter is otherwise provided. Tobacco products must be used in the designated areas.

Persons who wish to use tobacco products outside of the residence hall shall do so in a manner that minimizes an accumulation of smoke and tobacco waste. Individuals who use tobacco products are responsible for the proper disposal of such in designated receptacles.

Fire Safety Training for Students, Faculty, & Staff

Residence hall students are informed of evacuation procedures at the beginning of the academic year at floor meetings. Fire drills involving evacuation are held every semester in the residence halls and student staff members are trained on evacuation procedures and fire extinguisher use when hired as a Resident Advisor.

Evacuation procedures are provided online at:

<http://www.colostate-pueblo.edu/EHS/FireSafety/Pages/default.aspx> and fire extinguisher procedures are published online at:

<http://www.colostatepueblo.edu/EHS/FireSafety/FireExtinguishers/Pages/default.aspx>.

Plans for Future Improvements

Improvements, upgrades, and repairs to fire safety systems are made when tests and or evaluations indicate a problem exists.

Fire Suppression and Detection Systems

There is a fire alarm system located in each on-campus student housing facility, Belmont and Crestone Halls. Each building and their corresponding fire alarm system contains a Siemens' main control panel and initiating and notification devices. Examples of initiating devices are: smoke detectors, heat detectors, pull stations, and fire sprinkler control valves. Examples of notification devices are: horns, strobes, and speakers. In addition to monitoring the status of these devices, it also monitors the status of field wiring, annunciators, back-up batteries, and internal operations. When a condition occurs from any one of these devices or a problem is detected within the control panel itself, the main control panel transmits a signal—alarm, trouble, or supervisory—to a Digital Alarm Communicator Transmitter located at the Heating Plant.

The method to transmit this information is via the campus' fiber optic loop. Fiber optic transceivers are utilized to interface the main control panels between each building and with the Digital Alarm Communicator Transmitter located at the Heating Plant. The DACT is the end point for communication from all fire alarm systems located on campus. The DACT's primary responsibility is to report the signals from all building fire alarm systems to the Siemens monitoring center via analog telephone lines. The monitoring center acts according to the type of signals received. Upon receipt of a fire alarm signal, they first notify the downtown sheriff's department, who in turn, dispatches the nearest fire department and also notifies Environmental Health and Safety and Pueblo County Sheriff at CSU-Pueblo. Upon receipt of trouble and supervisory signals, CSU-Pueblo personnel are notified so that these conditions can be repaired.

In addition, all of CSU-Pueblo's fire alarm systems serve the purpose of voice evacuation. Each individual building has the ability to initiate building-wide voice commands from their control panel. Global (campus wide) voice commands can be initiated from one of two designated buildings—the campus Sheriff's Department and the Physical Plant building. The control panel located in the Sheriff's Department serves as the master page panel and the control panel located in the Physical Plant Building serves as a slave panel to the master page panel. Both have the ability to initiate campus wide voice commands in the event of an emergency.

While not interconnected to the fire alarm system, it should be noted that smoke alarms are located in individual’s living quarters in both Belmont and Crestone Halls. Belmont Hall utilizes battery-powered smoke alarms while Crestone Hall utilizes 120VAC hardwired units with battery back-up. As noted above, these are used only for local evacuation purposes within the room and are not connected to the building fire alarm system.
