COMMERCIALIZATION SUCCESS

On Dec 29, 2016, TANOVEA-CA1 became the first and only FDA approved drug for the treatment of canine lymphoma, the most common cancer in dogs, and is on target to achieve $2M in sales its first full year.

VetDC completed a proof of concept trial for it's second program, a dual acting PI3K/mTOR inhibitor, and is initiating a pilot study in canine hemangiosarcoma at CSU, supported by an Advanced Industries Proof of Concept Grant.

PROOF OF CONCEPT FUNDING

+$943K

More than $943K was awarded to advance thirteen technologies towards commercialization under the Advanced Industries Accelerator Proof of Concept Program and CSU Ventures Creative Works Program. CSU researchers from four colleges and ten different departments were awarded funding.

DEMO DAY

250+ students, faculty, staff, and researchers attended the largest ever on-campus event focused on innovation and entrepreneurship. Over $18,000 was awarded to best in show competitors for their innovative work and accomplishments.

STUDENT AMBASSADORS

To better serve the CSU community the CSUV Ambassador Program was created to enhance the connection between CSU faculty and students. Twenty-seven graduate students and postdoctoral scholars across eight colleges have participated in the program over the last six years.

LAUNCHPAD

In FY2017 LAUNCHPAD helped six startups launch their businesses. Working with company founders and business drivers, LAUNCHPAD is able to identify startup needs and then match internal and external resources to maximize commercialization potential.
