EDUCATION

The aim of the Department of Education is to help make better teachers, principals, supervisors, and superintendents. Many courses are given that are basic to all. Many other courses are highly specialized. An attempt is made to give enough general work so that every student will get a thorough foundation in the field, and enough specialized work so that he may become a specialist in some one branch. The student will find courses in the theory, the history and the philosophy of education in which clear analysis and straight thinking are of chief concern. He will also find courses that teach definite skills. These skills vary from the planning of a single lesson to the making of a curriculum or the planning of a school building.

During the summer quarter of 1927 over fifty regular and special courses will be offered by regular members of the department and by special instructors—experts on administration, elementary education, secondary education, rural education, psychology, curriculm making, and general problems of education.
